By PAUL MILLER

It was like World War II had only ended yesterday.

This is what Howard Wheatley Allen, of 226 Woodland Road, Kentfield told the Independent-Journal today of his visit to East Berlin Aug. 5, a week before its border was sealed.

Allen, a 20-year-old Dartmouth University student and son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howard Allen, had been in Europe since early June. On Aug. 5 he took a $2, four-hour tour of East Berlin.

In West Berlin the same day he had become acquainted with a German his own age, who in 1956 fled with his family from East Germany and later became citizens of West Berlin. The young German accompanied Allen on the tour.

He acted scared, as if he weren't going to get back into the West," recalled Allen. "He told me that it would only be a matter of days before the Communists would close the gate."

Allen said that as he headed east — through Brandenbourg Gate — "it was a strange feeling to cross, for the first time in my life, the Communist border with the blood-reg flag of Communist 'victory' flapping in the breeze.

"Not 100 yards from the gate, the war rubble begins. Buildings flattened, and half standing — twisted, rusting steel girders and weeds intertwined. The half-grown bushes fight for existence in the cracks filled with rubble and dirt. There are machine gun bullet holes everywhere. We

U.S. Ponders New Red Curb In E. Berlin

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department said today it still was undecided whether Allied troops and diplomats will obey Communist travel curbs limiting them to one entry point to East Berlin.

"That is a matter which is under study," a department spokesman said. "I cannot answer that at this stage."

17 MILLION PEOPLE

The spokesman, Lincoln White, denounced the Communists for attempting to "imprison 17 million people behind the barbed wire and concrete curtains" of East Berlin and East Germany.

U.S. officials pointed out that last night's new Red curbs still did not interfere with this country's major "vital interest" —western access to West Berlin.

But the restrictions were the first on Allied travel to East Berlin. The ban limited allied forces and diplomats to one entry gate to the eastern zone. It limited West Germans to two entry points and West Berliners to four points.

UNDER STUDY

White told newsmen, "the implications of this latest Communist move are under study by the allied powers."

He said strategy consultation was going on "at all levels"—a group of western ambassadors meeting here this afternoon, special task forces, talks in allied capitals and in the NATO headquarters at Paris.

TANKS, TROOPS

Allies Move Up To Berlin Border

BERLIN (UPI) — American, British and French troops moved into positions along the tense East-West Berlin border today within hours of a communist announcement of new travel restrictions.

An entire American Battle group and "some" tanks were deployed all along the U.S. sector border shortly after the three Western Allied commandants in Berlin heatedly denounced the new Communist East German moves as "illegal . . . brutal and callous."

A spokesman for the Western commanders said they were taking the "necessary actions" to "insure the security and integrity of the sector borders."

The armor-supported U.S. Army battle group of 1,500 men went into position immediately afterwards. The British followed with a company of the King's Royal Rifles, supported by armored vehicles, in their area. And a French spokesman said French army "patrols" were sent to the border in their sector.

The no-nonsense moves by the West followed swiftly on the latest Communist restrictions which went into effect last midnight. The East German Reds reduced the number of crossing points between East and West Berlin from 12 to seven, required West Berliners to obtain passes from the Communist regime to move into East Berlin, and warned citizens of West Berlin to stay at least 328 feet from the border.

Soldiers of the 2nd Battle Group of the U.S. 6th Infantry took up positions here, backed by two tanks. They wore full combat gear with steel helmets, and carried rifles and hand grenades.

Col. John R. Deane of San Francisco, commanding officer of the 2nd Battle Group, personally led a patrol of 12 men along a stretch of the border east of Frederick Street. He said helicopters were taking part in the operation and that tanks taking part had their rendezvous point in the Templehof area.

A U.S. Army spokesman, asked if the men had orders to shoot if necessary, said "The troops are ready for any contingency."

Nehru Says Russ Have Legal Right

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharal Nehru said today the Russians have a perfect legal right, granted to them in 1949 by the Western Allies, to close the East Berlin border.

Nehru gave his interpretation of the current Berlin crisis to the Indian parliament.

He said a Big Four foreign ministers' agreement on June 20, 1949, "diluted" the protocol of Sept. 12, 1944, which set up joint occupation of Berlin.

Joint occupation was ended under the 1949 agreement and gave all parties, including the Soviets, the right to control traffic in their respective sectors, according to Nehru.

EXPERT SAYS SPAN TRAINS PRACTICAL

Rebuttal Heard Of Objections To Rapid Transit

By CHAPIN A. DAY

A "generous reserve strength" originally designed into the Golden Gate Bridge makes it feasible and practical for the bridge to carry rapid transit, a leading bridge engineer reiterated yesterday.

Carl H. Gronquist, New York consulting engineering for the Bay Area Rapid Transit District, made public his answer to Golden Gate Bridge engineer Clifford E. Paine's contention thet the span cannot carry trains. He will present his rebuttal in person to the transit directors tomorrow and to the bridge directors on Friday.

STRENGTH, BEAUTY

Gronquist declared there is a complete lack of merit in Paine's objections.

Praising the bridge's original design, strength and beauty, he called it unthinkable that anyone would want to "impair its life, its present usefulness or its appearance."

Gronquist's report then turned to Paine's specific objections to his earlier report on feasibility. He said:

1. Sag of the bridge below the 220-foot minimum clearance required by military authorities would happen only when the bridge was fully loaded with automobiles and filled with loaded rapid transit trains (15 of them on the bridge at once), and the temperature of the main cables would have to be 110 degrees.

SAG EIGHT FEET

Under such severe combination of conditions, the bridge would sag about eight feet below the minimum requirement. And that requirement could be amended by the Army Engineers, he said.

2. To Paine's contention that the transit facilities would overload the cable, Gronquist reported that the two newest suspension bridges, the Lions Gate Bridge at Vancouver, B.C., and The Narrows Bridge in New York (a longer span than the Golden Gate Bridge), both used 90,000 pounds per square inch as the design strength for identical cable wire. Actual tests during construction on the Golden Gate wire showed 95,000 pounds, he said. Even with maximum loads, Gronquist said, only "40 per cent of the actual minimum ultimate

Arizona Hit By Bad Storm

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — One person drowned and two others were missing today in the aftermath of one of this city's worst storms in years.

More than two inches of rain fell on the city last night, flooding streets and dry washes, stranding hundreds of motorists, and gushing into homes and businesses throughout the city.

Carolyn Grubbs, daughter of M. P. Grubbs, drowned when the car in which she was riding was flooded in a wash.

WEISSICH FINALLY WINS A PARKING TAG DISPUTE

William O. Weissich, former Marin district attorney, who lost a parking tag fight in Marin County last year, won a similar battle in San Francisco yesterday.

San Francisco Municipal Court Judge John W. Bussey ruled in Weissich's favor on three parking tags which Weissich fought. The tags were issued against W. O. and/or Rosemary Weissich. The attorney contended that the ticket presumes both he and his wife were driving the same car at the same time and therefore is unconstitutional. Weissich thus beat $9 in fines.

But in Marin County, Weissich and his wife lost the same argument and paid a $20 fine. He appealed the Marin decision, but the appellate division of Marin Superior Court turned him down in a 2 to 1 decision.

Quentin Felon Wants Death Date Speeded

A San Quentin Death Row inmate, who doesn't care to live on borrowed time, asked yesterday for someone to hurry up and set his execution date.

San Quentin Prison officials indicated today that cop-killer James Kendrick, 29, may soon get his wish. Associate Warden W. D. Achuff said San Bernardino County Superior Court is expected to set the execution date within the next few days.

Kendrick was serving time for robbery and assault in December of 1959 when he escaped from San Quentin. He was caught after gunning down a highway patrolman in San Bernardino. He entered Death Row on June 19, 1960.

Kendrick's petition was sent to Marin Superior Court.

"The petitioner's time is valuable," Kendrick wrote. "If he is kept up here two or three years and then executed, there is no way I can get even for all the extra time spent here."

The killer claims that time spent on Death Row is lost, and "it is cruel to this petitioner as I am not allowed sunshine and fresh air." He fears that if he is not executed soon, he'll have to buy Christmas cards again this year.

"It must be noted that this petitioner is not asking for mercy; he is asking for action," Kendrick concluded.

Judge Thomas F. Keating denied the petition without official comment. He noted that the request for an execution date should have been sent to the Southern California court which convicted Kendrick.

Larkspur Street Is Still Sinking

Doherty Drive, Larkspur's roaming street, today continued to move toward the Corte Madera Creek slough, in spite of two days of intensive filling by city street crews.

This morning, the 225-foot section had sunk another six inches into the mud.

However, work on gutters and paving on the portion which has not slipped was resumed this morning by Brown-Ely Co. of San Rafael, the contractors.

The section where the slipping has occurred repeatedly since Aug. 3 will not be paved at this time, said City Manager Ronald E. Piper. Instead, after the migrating portion has stopped moving, it will be given a temporary oil sealing for the winter, Piper said.

11 Die In Collision

BELGRADE (UPI) — At least 11 persons were killed today when a crack passenger train collided with a freight train outside the Breska station between Belgrade and Novi-Sad.

Agrees To Start Job Immediately

The Northwestern Pacific Railroad agreed today to start immediately on restoring Lincoln Avenue for two-way traffic use.

The railroad will fill the hole caused by cave-in of its Puerto Suello tunnel, after removing portions of concrete slab that fell into the hole. It will re-compact the earth and fill to the original grade, said Gregg Linde of Marinwood, NWP division engineer.

The work should be completed in about 10 working days, Linde said. He was discussing the project with contractors this afternoon.

Rawles said the matter of resurfacing the street was left undecided in discussions with Linde yesterday afternoon and this morning. He said he recommended against replacing the concrete paving this fall, because of likelihood the fill would sink slightly during the rainy season. A seal-coat might be applied temporarily, he suggested.

Neither the railroad nor the city committed itself on bearing the expense of paving, Rawles reported.

Linde said this was the second plan offered by the railroad to restore southbound traffic to Lincoln Avenue. He said the railroad made an earlier suggestion on July 26 for a temporary southbound off-ramp paralleling the caved-in portion.

This idea was reported to the city council on Aug. 7 by Rawles, who said it was a joint idea worked out by city and railroad engineers. He reported at that time the railroad had indicated it might participate in cost of the temporary off-ramp if city and California Division of Highways would also participate. The division of highways refused, he said.

Rawles said his approval of filling the hole was not to be taken as meaning he was in favor of abandonment of the tunnel by the railroad.

"My job is to get the street restored," he said. "If they put dirt in it, they can take it out again when they get ready to re-open the tunnel. In the meantime, traffic can move both ways over Lincoln Avenue."

He forecast the job will be completed within two weeks.

Policeman Tied To Hijacking Of Marin Car

A San Francisco policeman denied from a San Francisco City Prison cell today that he hijacked three cars — one of them from a Mill Valley resident—in downtown traffic last evening.

Richard Ferguson, 26, a policeman for a year, was booked on four counts of robbery and kidnaping.

WHAT HAPPENED

This is what happened, according to San Francisco police reports:

A wavy-haired gunman jumped into the pickup truck of Louis H. Wayers of 9 Amicita Street, Mill Valley, at 4 p.m. at Market and Octavia Streets. He brandished a .38-caliber revolver at Wayers and ordered him to "drive north."

Mayers "froze."

The gunman then leaped out, climbed into the car of Douglas McCune of San Francisco and gave him the same order. McCune drove. But his car stalled a few blocks later. The gunman then ran to the car of James Martinez, a San Francisco longshoreman. Forcing Martinez and his wife, Carmela, from the auto at gunpoint, he sped away in it.

CAR FOUND

Meantime, two other patrolmen picked up Ferguson downtown after receiving a report of "a man acting peculiarly."

Fingerprints on all three hijacked cars were those of Ferguson, police said.

Writer Dies

SAN DIEGO (UPI) —Billy Miller, a member of the prolific two-man team who wrote novels under the names of Wade Miller and Whit Masterson died yesterday in Grossmont Hospital. He was 41.

Miller and Bob Wade, also 41, wrote 33 novels, many of which were filmed in Hollywood. The 29-year partnership started in junior high school.

Slayer Executed

CARSON CITY (UPI)—Thayne Archibald, 22, was executed in the Nevada State Prison gas chamber today for the 1959 murder of 17-year-old Larry Waters.

He entered the chamber at 6:10 a.m. The lethal cyanide pellets were released into a vat of acid at 6:16, and he was pronounced dead by the prison physician at 6:21.

Before the pellets were released, Archibald looked out of the glass window separating him from the witnesses, and smiled and winked at prison psychologist E. Wesley Hiler, who had spent the night with the condemned man. Hiler said Archibald had told him early this morning he was overcome by "a feeling of love for the whole human race."

Goldwater Kin

Goldwater, in the Los Angeles area to make several speeches, was notified of the birth and visited the mother and his grandson.

Joanne and her husband, Dr. Thomas Ross, have two daughters, Carolyn, 3, and Cynthia, 2, in addition to the latest arrival—named Thomas Michael. Thomas weighed 8 pounds, 13 ounces at birth.

Building Sale

The world's tallest skyscraper was sold by the Empire State Building Corp., headed by Col. Henry Crown who left school at 14 to work as a $4-a-week shipping clerk. The buyer was Lawrence A. Wien, head of an investment syndicate who apparently thinks tall. He once almost bought the Chrysler building—second tallest skyscraper in the world.

The contract signed in Newark, N.J. is effective Dec. 27.

The Empire State building soars 1,250 feet and 102 stories high. More than 22 million people have visited it. The view from the top extends 50 miles.

Paris Bombings

PARIS (AP) — Fourteen plastic bombs exploded across Paris early today in a new expression of right-wing opposition to President Charles de Gaulle's liberal Algerian policies.

No one was injured by the blasts, but property damage was heavy from the putty-like plastic on the outside of buildings housing Gaullist politicians, writers and other liberal personalities.

Fire Spreading

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Six Rivers National Forest fire in northwest California gained momentum last night.

W. W. Spinney, Six Rivers supervisor, said the fire had burned over 2,000 acres. He added that a predicted cold front today with resultant winds could whip flames across even more acreage.

More than 500 men were on the lines yesterday. Another 121 Eureka lumbermen joined the fight this morning. Five helicopters and seven borate-dropping planes helped battle the blaze.

Italy Sabotage

BOLZANO, Italy (AP) — Saboteurs dynamited an electric pylon last night in Italy's troubled Alto Adige (South Tyrol), then fired machinegun bursts for 15 minutes at investigating troops and police.

The troops and police returned the fire, but apparently no one was hit and the terrorists escaped in the dark. The area, the Val Passeir near Ponte Clara, is mostly thick mountain forest.

Another group of terrorists fired shots at a power station near Appiano but there was no damage.

No Honeymoon

MIAMI, Gla. (AP) — Georgine (Gigi) Gorman, 18, and her family today planned a short vacation "to get away from things and think for a little while."

The pretty debutante was to have been married a week ago to Robert M. Oliver III but left a note and disappeared after the wedding rehearsal.

"She is only 18 and she did not start going with Bob until July, so it may have been too hurried, too quick," her mother, Mrs. Harold Dale Gorman, said.

Gigi's mother said 400 wedding gifts are being returned and wedding plans are off.

X-Ray Proposal

PASADENA (AP) — A radiation expert says exposure to X-rays could be reduced 67 per cent without hampering the quality of medical treatment.

Dr. D. W. Moeller, chief of radiological health training at the Taft Sanitary Engineering Center in Cincinnati, addressed an institute on X-ray protection at Cal-tech yesterday and advocated use of a cone to limit the size of X-ray beams on an aluminum sheet in front of the machines to filter weak rays otherwise absorbed by the patient.

Teaching Proposal

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Dr. Herbert McClosky, University of California professor of political science, says high school students must be told about both democracy and communism.

McClosky spoke here yesterday to a group of California educators who met to discuss teaching the two political philosophies in the public schools.

Senate Racket Probers Looking Into Gambling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate racket probers, having heard and seen how gamblers stack the deck in their favor with rigged equipment and crooked officials, explore today the ways hoodlums cheat on taxes and prey on race tracks.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, called for testimony from Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer E. Caplin and Angelo Rosetti, a Boston race wire operator.

The subcommittee described Rosetti as the operator of Sports Day Weekly, a race wire service.

In yesterday's first day of hearings, the senators witnessed some startling demonstrations of paraphernalia used by crooked gamblers in illicit card and dice rooms.

They also heard how off-the-track bookmakers try to get the jump on their bettors by constantly attempting to get reports of horse race results well before any customer can get the word. The fast report gives the bookie a dual advantage: A chance to accept more bets on horses that lost and a cast iron assurance no patron can bet a known winner.

The subcommittee, heard an estimate that the total play handled by illegal handbooks may be 50 billion dollars a year, from which the bookies' profit would be about five and one-half billion dollars.

John Scarne, who described himself as "somewhat of an expert" in protecting the public from being fleeced by gamblers, gave the estimates and charged that 750 million dollars of this money is spent each year to "corrupt law enforcement officers."

He said he is employed by the Hilton hotel chain and the governments of Panama and Puerto Rico.

Scarne described elaborate tricks used to introduce marked cards into poker and other card games. Of every five poker games where the stakes are as high as $10, he said, at least one of them has a professional cheat among the players. He estimated that 40,000 marked decks are in use in the country.

Paul P. Karnov, a Chicago manufacturer, testified his firm sells loaded dice, marked cards, rose-colored contact lenses with which "to read the backs" of marked cards, and trick mirrors used by gamblers to see the hands of other card players. He said he is president of the H. E. Mason Co., also known as the K.C. Card Co.

Jury Dispute In Negro Rider Trial

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Attorneys begin selecting a jury today for the first Freedom Rider appeal trial in Hinds County Court in the wake of an overruled defense move to toss out the jury list.

Henry Thomas, 19, Negro student at Howard University, Washington, D.C., appealed his city court conviction on breach of peace charges.

He arrived in Jackson May 24 in the second of two busloads from Montgomery, Ala., the first wave of the riders to move into Mississippi. A city judge fined him $200 and suspended a 60-day jail sentence after police arrested him for refusing to leave a segregated waiting room in a bus depot.

NEW RESTRICTIONS

Kennedy Keeping Eye On Crisis In Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy was reported today to be keeping a close watch on reports of new East Berlin travel restrictions.

Aides declined immediate comment pending a study of official dispatches and consultations with the Western allies.

A Western Big Four ambassadorial working group which has been considering the German issue planned to meet at the State Department.

A major consideration for U.S. strategists was just how far the new Red restrictions go. The allies have been following a policy of tailoring their reactions to Red pressures on Berlin in accord with the importance of Communist acts.

The Red East German regime said that under its new restrictions, West Berliners would now have to get passes from the East Germans in order to enter East Berlin. Foreign diplomats and occupation personnel were told they could enter East Berlin only through one check point.

After the Aug. 13 Communist barricade of the East Berlin border, which had applied to East Berliners and East Germans, the Western allies added to their garrison in West Berlin. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson flew to Germany to demonstrate U.S. determination to stand firm.

U.N. Members In Dispute Over Tunis

Britain and African nations still allied with France were working behind the scenes to water down the resolution submitted by 31 Asian-African nations and Yugoslavia. The object was to win support of the United States and other friends of France, by removing implied censure of French actions in Tunisia. The resolution's sponsors said they didn't need that support.

Tunisia and her supporters were confident they could muster well over the two-thirds vote required to adopt the resolution, which calls on France to withdraw her troops from territory seized during the July fighting around the Bizerte naval base and to join Tunisia immediately in negotiations for a complete withdrawal of French troops from Tunisian soil.

Sponsors of the resolution rejected a suggestion from Britian that they eliminate the call for withdrawal of French forces from Tunisian and the pinpointing of France's role in the dispute.

Spade Cooley Given Life In Prison

BAKERSFIELD (AP) — Spade Cooley, who parlayed six cents and an old fiddle into fame and fortune as the "king of Western swing," was sentenced to life in prison yesterday for the murder of his wife.

The unexpected climax of the case followed a dramatic meeting between opposing attorneys and Superior Court Judge William L. Bradshaw while Cooley was preparing to show he was insane April 3 when he beat and stomped his wife, Ella Mae, 37, to death.

The jury which Saturday found Cooley guilty of first-degree murder was to rule first on the insanity plea and then set the penalty if Cooley, born Donnell Clyde 50 years ago in a storm cellar near Pack Saddle Creek, Okla., was judged sane.

After the conference in Judge Bradshaw's chambers, Cooley's attorney, P. Basil Lambros, conferred for more than an hour with his client, who then waived his right to a sanity trial and also waived his right to have the jury set the sentence.

Reuther Snubbing Big Three —Courts American Motors

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, is snubbing the Big Three car makers and courting little American Motors Corp. in the home stretch of labor contract negotiations in the auto industry.

His strategy appeared today to be to persuade American Motors to improve on its profit-sharing offer, make a quick settlement with AMC and then use it to pry out from General Motors, Ford and Chrysler something better than they offered yesterday.

Reuther called the Big Three offers—identical except in minor detail — "woefully inadequate."

GM, Ford and Chrysler offered a minimum 21-cent hourly increase in wages over the next three years and fringe benefit improvements which the union said would only cost the companies a cent an hour. The companies said the fringe benefit costs would be substantial.

Auto workers now average $2.80 an hour plus fringe benefits of between 35 and 40 cents.

Present contracts at the Big Three expire eight days hence. The AMC contract runs out a week later.

Today a tenth of the earth's surface lies under ponderous ice. Antarctica and Greenland account for most of it but there are small mountain glaciers in many parts of the world.

Deputy County Coroner Post May Be Named Next Week

Appointment of a chief deputy county coroner, authorized by the Marin supervisors during the closing phase of budget discussion, will probably be announced sometime next week, Coroner Frank J. Keaton said today.

"I'm making a study of just what is needed," said Keaton. "Actually I know pretty well but I want to be sure we get the right man for the job."

As authorized by the board, the post will be one of regular salary of $6,660 a year.

"You may assume the assistant wouldn't work for Keaton's Mortuary," said Keaton. "The only reason the coroner's office is at the Keaton address is to save the county space and money."

The board of supervisors' vote authorizing a chief deputy was 3-to-1 with chairman William D. Fusselman absent and Walter R. Castro dissenting.

Police Piece Together Goya Painting Theft

LONDON (AP) — Detectives believe that the thief who stole the $392,000 Goya portrait of the Duke of Wellington hid with it for more than 12 hours in Britain's National Gallery, then walked out with it under a topcoat or in a briefcase.

The 19th century masterpiece, center of a British-American controversy over its ownership earlier this summer, was taken from its place in the gallery Monday night. The theft was discovered yesterday after the gallery opened.

The head and chest portrait of the Iron Duke, Britain's victor at Waterloo, was last seen by the gallery's security guards at 7:40 p.m. A guard noticed it was gone at 10:08 p.m. and reported it, but it was thought it had been moved to another part of the building since the fragile panel on which it was painted was due for repair.

The theft was established after the gallery's staff reported for work yesterday morning. Detectives combed the big classic-style building on Trafalgar Square for 10 hours. There was no sign of forced entry and no word that significant fingerprints had been found.

Investigators evolved this theory:

The thief hid himself inside the gallery just before closing time. From his hidding place he timed the movements of the five night security guards. Then he nipped out when the room was empty, grabbed the painting and scurried back to his hiding place. When the gallery filled with visitors in the morning, he calmly walked out with his loot.

Guards were placed on airfields and ports amid speculation that the theft was the work of the gang believed responsible for a rash of art thefts in France. Only 10 days ago eight Cezanne paintings valued at two million dollars were stolen from the museum at Aix-en-Provende.

The Cezannes were covered by insurance but the Goya was not.

GOP Women's Lunch

The Marin Federation of Republican Women will hold a luncheon meeting at 12:20 p.m. tomorrow at the Ranch House in San Anselmo, where they will discuss "Questions of Candidates for Governor and Issues for '62," announced Mrs. Gordon Ness, publicity chairman.

8-Year Study Planned For Novato High

The study will follow students from freshman through high school graduation and for four years beyond to find how the high school has served and what changes may be needed, trustees heard last night.

The trustees meeting was devoted to discussion of high school programming, class loads and philosophy.

Trustees generally agreed they would consider setting a policy on low and high class loads later in the fall, to be applied to the 1962-63 school year.

The board heard that about 600 man hours are needed to set up each year's class schedule at the high school and that administrators were checking the possibility of using data processing machines in the work.

Trustees set for 8 p.m. next Tuesday a meeting at district office to set policy on some 15 requested interdistrict transfers from the San Jose to Novato district. Also on the agenda will be possible purchase of a trampoline for gymnasium classes and a tractor for grounds work.

Novato Approves Streets Measure

A new policy for division of construction costs for city street improvements was approved last night by the Novato City Council, with the understanding that it will be changed if found unworkable.

Councilmen had continued discussion of the policy from their Aug. 8 meeting when some thought it too expensive for homeowners. But last night, after a thorough explanation by Charles A. Joseph, city public works director, they agreed to it.

"I can't see a more fair policy," commented Councilman Charles R. Johnson.

"I certainly hope we can liberalize it — and soon," said Councilman John J. Angeloni.

Under the policy, the city would make no contribution for improvement of residential streets. On major city streets, which benefit property owners and the general public, residents would be responsible for right of way up to 50 feet; the city would pay for any additional needed. Property owners would pay for construction of parking lanes, curbs, gutters and sidewalks. The city would pay for construction of the traffic lane portion of the street. Property owners would pay for storm drainage up to the cost of a 24-inch diameter pipe; the city would pay the difference for anything larger.

"During the early years of the city's life, the limited funds available for street improvement must be expended where they do the most good," Joseph concluded.

In other business last night, the Novato Council:

1. Received a petition from Robert S. Goldener, 1704 Center Road, with 14 signatures, asking that the city install stop signs, construct dips in the road and more closely patrol Center Road to slow speeding motorists. The council heard from police that enforcement already had been stepped up and that they were considering signs.

2. Approved the Cross Roads Shopping Center master plan for construction at Highway 101 and Novato Boulevard, but with questions on whether the center ever will actually be constructed or whether it is just speculative.

3. Approved an ordinance setting the requirements for operation of private police in the city.

4. Set Sept. 12 as the date for discussion of an ordinance which would prohibit home solicitors unless invited by a householder.

Novato Council Approves Two Cab Companies

The Novato City Council last night approved operation of two taxicab companies in the city. But Louis Warden, operator of one of the companies, said he would protest the decision.

Councilmen approved operation of Warden's Novato Yellow Cab Co. and the Novato Cab Co. of Mrs. Consuelo LeCam, each to operate two taxis upon city approval of their drivers.

Councilmen voted 3-1 in favor of granting the two permits. Mayor Wayne Womack voted "no" and Councilman John J. Angeloni abstained.

Warden was "somewhat at a loss" at approval of both companies, his attorney, Robert Carrow, told councilmen after the decision. He plans to "explore the possibility" of a review Carrow said.

"There is only enough business in Novato for one cab company to operate efficiently," Carrow told councilmen. Marcel LeCam, manager of the Novato Cab Co., said he favored operation of two companies.

Youth Struck By Roof 'Fair'

Gerald Shafer, 16-year-old laborer struck by the falling roof of an old house in Mill Valley yesterday, was reported in fair condition with a possible broken back today at Doctors Hospital of San Leandro.

Shafer, a resident of San Leandro, was transfered by ambulance from Marin General Hospital yesterday afternoon. Attendants at San Leandro said the youth's injury could not fully be determined until he was strong enough to undergo examination.

Shafer was one of three men tearing down the house at 299 Miller Avenue for H. F. Bretschneider Co. of San Francisco.

Engineer Contractor's License For Marinite

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The Contractors' State License Board announced it plans to issue a general engineering contractor's license to Wilson & Chadwick Construction Company, Inc., San Rafael, if no protest is received by Sept. 7.

The firm listed its officers as Joe D. Wilson, president; Berlram M. Thomas, vice president and manager, and Howard O. Chadwick, secretary.

MERCURY ATLAS READIED

Latest U.S. Satellite Space Shot Turns Out To Be Only Half Failure

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The United States fired a satellite launch platform into orbit today but it failed to send a piggy-back payload on a projected million-mile round-trip into space.

It was indicated — but not immediately certain—that the two units did not separate.

Nevertheless, scientists expected signals from the space craft to yield some measure of valuable data. The purpose of the flight was to test techniques for launching future vehicles to the moon, Mars and Venus.

A powerful Atlas-Agena rocket blasted off at 5:04 a.m. The Agena second stage spun into a "parking orbit" from which the 675-pound payload, Ranger I, was to have been flung into space.

The Agena, with power shut off, was designed to follow its orbit for 14 minutes until it reached a proper point before reigniting to build up speed to 23,800 miles an hour and kick Ranger loose. Ranger was intended to go into a highly eliptical orbit with a high point of 500,000 miles. The Agena was to continue on a path about 100 miles up.

But the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced three and one-half hours after the launching that the Agena rocket stage and the space craft are in a near earth orbit rather than the highly eccentric orbit planned for the flight.

Exact orbit details were not known. It is possible, an official said, that the two vehicles are in separate orbits, close together.

Officials said radio data from the orbiting vehicle is being analyzed to determine why Ranger I did not separate.

"Primary mission of the flight was to test operation of the space craft. Since data are being received it is likely that this objective will be achieved in part," they said.

Earlier James D. Burke, Project Range manager, had reported all communication lost. At that time it could not be determined whether any part of the device had gone into orbit.

The last affirmative word, some 50 minutes after blast-off, had been that the second stage of the big booster had fired on schedule a second time, after cutting off as planned for a coasting interval. The second firing was to have injected the package into orbit for the launching of the piggyback rider.

NASA had hoped the flight would prove the feasibility of the space launch platform system and test techniques for sending future space vehicles to the moon, Mars and Venus.

Another rocket and payload, Ranger II, are available to repeat the mission. That effort is tentatively set for late fall.

AEC Exports To Havana Tightened

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission clamped tighter regulations today on the export of radioisotopes and other atomic material to Cuba.

Under the new order, only radioisotopes usable in medicines, pharmaceutical preparations and for medical diagnosis or therapy can be shipped to Cuba.

Anyone trying to export other radioisotopes to Cuba must obtain specific licenses from the AEC. In addition, the AEC imposed the same licensing requirements on shipments of source materials such as uranium or thorium.

Until today, such shipments were allowed under a general AEC authorization.

The AEC said that no applications for the export of source material to Cuba have been received since January, 1960. The commission said that "most of the byproduct material exported to Cuba before that date appears to have been for medical purposes."

The AEC said its order was issued to bring its regulations in line with those of the Commerce Department in restricting exports to Fidel Castro's regime.

Radioistopes derived from atomic materials have come into widespread use in industry and agriculture as well as medicine.

The commission noted that until now any radioisotope subject to AEC control and having an atomic number 3 to 83 inclusive could be exported to Cuba under its general authorization.

The AEC announced: "The commission has now limited this authorization to radioisotopes contained in medicinals, pharmaceutical preparations or in devices, applicators or appliances designed for use in medical diagnosis or therapy."

Lagunitas Schools Meeting Tomorrow

Bids for a science demonstration, tables, benches and a tote tray are to be opened by Lagunitas School District trustees at their meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Lagunitas School.

Reports on the addition to the schoolhouse, now under construction, are scheduled, along with numerous reports by Supt. Clifford L. Frye regarding plans for the new school year.

Purchase of furniture for the new classrooms will be discussed, said clerk Marietta F. Larsen.

Recorder Office Will 'Stay Put'

A "crash attack" by four Marin County title company representatives caused a majority of the county board of supervisors late yesterday to vote to keep the recorder's office in the San Rafael courthouse.

By 3-2 vote the supervisorial majority bowed to wishes of the companies and agreed to let Recorder Noel T. Giacomini and staff "stay put" in present quarters for at least one year beyond next spring, the time which had been scheduled for moving the office to the civic center. Voting for the one-year delay were Chairman William D. Fusselman and Supervisors J. Walter Blair and George Ludy.

Administrator Alan Bruce reported Sonoma and Santa Clara Counties, in the face of similar objections from title companies, moved their recorders and came out all right. He said both counties recently established new administration buildings out of the congested business district and moved their recorders out with the "first wave" along with auditor, tax collector and assessor. Despite complaints beforehand by title companies, banks and attorneys, the fussing soon died down and all has gone smoothly, Bruce reported.

"This happened elsewhere and may or may not have bearing here," he said.

Clyde Stevens of Marin County Abstract Co. thought it didn't, apparently. In a long presentation as main speaker for the title company group, he maintained that service to the people would best be furthered by keeping the recorder in present quarters.

He said the five title companies now have five representatives constantly shuttling back and forth searching titles and answering queries from the public about restrictions, easements and other matters. Such information isn't in the companies' files because they have been duplicating official records by photography only since 1948, he reported.

At the civic center, he said, company representatives could make only one trip daily and inquirers might wait 24 hours.

He said the companies would not object to a move by the recorder when courts and clerk move, presumably in the second stage of construction.

Steven's statements were supported by Paul Leahy of California Pacific Title Co., Aldo DeSoto of Trans Western Title Co. and Ralph Croker of Pacific Coast Title Co. of Marin. Croker said that in Sonoma the recorder has well laid out space of 8,500 square feet as compared with an estimated 3,600 square feet assigned to the recorder at the civic center.

Architect Aaron Green pointed out that the recorder's initial location in the administration building would be only temporary. When the next structure is built he will get larger quarters.

Bruce said the Sonoma location also is only temporary and in the second stage of Sonoma's building the recorder will move into much smaller space.

Green said there would be no technical problem involved in leaving the space open for a year, since plumbing and electricity could go in at any time. Delay in a recorder move would let him remove a partition toward the lunch room and provide more space for it.

Giacomini said his personal concern was only with the problem of space.

Proposed County Nursing Home On KTIM Panel

Three proposals for a new county nursing home for the elderly, to be financed without a bond issue, will be discussed on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Participants will be County Administrator Alan Bruce; Frank E. Marsh, president of International Industrial Institute, who submitted a plan to the county for private financing of a nursing home; George D. Monardo, Mill Valley city councilman and administrator of Franklin Hospital in San Francisco; James Moore, administrator of Marin Medical Center Hospital, and Dr. Wilson W. Goddard, president of the board of Marin County Hospital District, which operates Marin General Hospital.

Hospital Wing Frame To Start

Framework for the new William Babcock Memorial Wing of Marin Hospital should be up by the first of the year, hospital administrator W. W. Turner last night told the hospital directors.

Concrete foundations are being poured for the laboratory and physical therapy addition, and structural steel will be delivered next week, Turner said. The progress report on the building was the main topic of a short meeting of the directors.

Hamilton Squadron Seeks Huge Trophy

The trophy is awarded annually for top squadron work in every phase of cooperation from administration through maintenance and flying efficiency. It is awarded by the Air Defense Command for the best in the Air Force.

The announcement of the trophy winner is expected Friday. Hamilton offices would neither confirm nor deny that the squadron was in the running.

The 83rd is commanded by Lt. Col. Arthur Owen Jr. Commander until last spring was Lt. Col. Robert B. Goetz. The squadron is one of two at the base, flying F-101 jet fighters under the 78th Fighter wing commanded by Col. Harvey E. Henderson, who also is base commander.

Education Funds For Marin County

Marin County last year received $25,363 in federal funds to improve science, mathematics and foreign language classes, Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction, announced today.

He said the funds went for 13 projects, bringing Marin's receipt of federal funds for such classes to $88.986 since the National Defense Education Act was passed by the Congress in 1958.

Marin schools also received $12,796 last year to increase counseling of high school students on education for their future. Since 1958, Marin schools have received $64.017 for better counseling, Simpson said.

9-Acre Aquatic Park For Sausalito Gains

Sausalito citizens urging a nine-acre aquatic park last night won promise of the city council and Sausalito Properties, Inc., to cooperate to try to give them what they want.

About 60 citizens turned out for a special city council meeting on parks and recreation. They saw this action taken:

1. The council reaffirmed its previous stand favoring acquisition of a nine-acre aquatic park in the Napa-Litho Street area to be called the Sausalito Marina.

2. The council voted to offer to purchase the southern portion of the church playground. (The present playground on this land must be given up Sept. 15.)

3. Sausalito Properties, Inc., which owns the nine-acre parcel, offered to exchange some of its land for city underwater street land in the same area and work with Sausalito to see that the city gets recreational acreage in the Napa-Litho area. Too, the firm will consider renting a portion of its Napa-Litho property on a short-term basis as a playground for small children.

The meeting was called to discuss a recreation commission plan with members of a citizen committee organized spontaneously Aug. 8 to get more parks. The meeting lasted three and a half hours.

Committee co-chairman Raymond Gergus read his committee's report, which stated the need for recreational facilities and suggested six possible means of financing. They are: (1) A land swap of the city's four-plus acres of underwater street land for Sausalito Properties, Inc. land; (2) a grant from small craft harbor district; (3) a federal grant from the Urban Renewal Agency; (4) use of the open land provision of Public Law 87-70; (5) use of Sausalito budget surpluses, and (6) a bond issue.

"It is a tragic denial of necessity" that the city, a predominantly waterfront community, is without adequate waterfront access recreation," said Gergus. He was applauded loud and long.

Elmore Hutchinson, president of Sausalito Properties, Inc., said the firm will work with the city to see that it gets a recreational area with a waterfront which has a strip of water right-of-way past Railroad Avenue.

Hutchinson said his firm owns 32 acres which includes the proposed nine-acre park and that the whole area is to be developed into garden apartments, restaurants and an inn.

He said the Napa-Litho portion, which Gergus had drawn on the board to show the proposed contours of the park, was the "heart of our project."

Mayor Philip J. Ehrlich Jr. said the matter would be put on the city council agenda again in six weeks.

Councilman Howard Sievers said he could not make up his mind whether the park should be five, nine or 13 acres. Councilman Marjorie Brady said she felt nine acres a logical figure. Ehrlich said he believed planning was needed. Councilman Michael Harris said he preferred to reiterate the council's previous stand in favor of the site.

Harris suggested the offer of purchase of a portion of Christ Church playground.

William Grader of Fort Bragg, field representative for Rep. Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera), said he would help the group in seeking federal assistance.

George Kowski, told the council the park program "should be put in one package and let the people pay for it. I think the people would be willing to pay for it."

This was followed by loud applause from the audience.

Marinite Finds East Berlin Like End Of World War II

went down past what used to be the biggest hotel in all of Europe, now a disintegrating pile of crumbling bricks. We passed opera houses and churches, all destroyed. It's an impressive and incredible sight."

In East Berlin a bar of chocolate would have cost Allen $1, a pound of coffee, $10, and fresh fruit was only a term. Telephone calls, even during most relaxed periods, could not be made directly from one zone to the other. When a long-distance call is made, one can talk for only a few moments, said Allen.

"East Germans hate Russia and the Communist," declared the youth. "However they live in a police state. They are caught forever.

"Berlin was a fascinating experience for me. The fact that I have now seen a Communist occupied country, and met people who have experienced and hated life under communism has made me realize even more the danger that we are faced by, said the young Marinite. "It has made me analyze my own ideals; and I understand better, much better, why our way of life is so much more real, so much more rewarding. God help us to hold back this terrible tide!"

That afternoon on a main street, Stalin Allee, there were only a few West German cars and some tourists, he said. Marx-Engels Square was the same except for a few newspapers "scattered by the wind." He said the stores were open, but he was told that residents left for West Berlin for the weekend.

The "nice parts" of East Berlin were described by Allen as the parks and "government blocks, but when 80 per cent of a city is still in ruins it is difficult not to be impressed by the distruction and waste, he added.

Allen took snapshots of German "People's Police," Russian soldiers, bridges, train stations, and the Russian Embassy, all of which are illegal to photograph. He ran into three truck loads of Russian soldiers "not five minutes inside the border. With these pictures, I could have been hauled off to an East German prison, had I been seen by a tough cop."

JFK Fights For School Aid Passage

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy and speaker Sam Rayburn agreed today to try for passage of a stripped-down version of the administration school aid program before Congress adjourns.

After conferring with Kennedy, Rayburn called a meeting of House school aid leaders to discuss the bill and strategy for getting it through the House.

Rayburn did not reveal details of the bill. But those close to the situation said it probably would carry one-year authority for continuing the existing "impacted areas" and national defense education student loans plus a new, 325-million-dollar public grade and high school construction plan.

In total, the three items would cost about 600 million dollars or one-tenth of the original Kennedy school aid requests.

But the "package" agreed to by the leadership probably would be followed to the House floor by a 1.8- to 2-billion-dollar aid plan for college construction and scholarships.

It was believed the bill would not carry any new assistance to private and church-operated elementary and secondary schools. This issue was blamed for torpedoing the original Kennedy education program.

The church-state dispute flared anew this week in a sharp exchange between Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York and chairman Wayne Morse of the Senate Education Subcommittee. School aid leaders in Congress believed that while the flareup did not help the situation, it did not materially change chances of school aid enactment.

It was understood that House leaders did not expect rules committee approval of the new bill and would plan to bring it up two weeks from today under a special procedure for bypassing the rules group.

Business Development Plan For Courthouse Land Urged

Plans for business development of the front yard of the county courthouse facing Fourth Street in San Rafael were discussed by committees of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce at a picnic in Gerstle Park yesterday.

Fred F. Enemark, who made the principal presentation, said today he was confident that "nearly an acre could be taken without encroachment of any kind" on courthouse functions.

He saw several benefits to the plan, brought forward in principle 10 years ago: Stimulation of San Rafael downtown business activity, provision of handy downtown motor parking space, and eventual acquisition by the county of a valuable structure.

His plan envisaged use of a non-profit corporation which would lease the ground from the county on an initially nominal rental basis, sell stock to cover preliminary costs, employ bond sale or mortgage to build, and amortize all costs over a reasonable period after which any surplus would go to the county as rent. Eventually the structure would revert to the county after completion of the amortization period.

County counsel opinion has approved either lease or sale of properties first declared surplus, a device considered for the Frank Marsh program of private construction of a hospital on county property in Lucas Valley.

Enemark said that though underground garage plans had been considered and might later work out, a combination of factors including apparent presence of an underground creek in the area might make it best to plan for initial construction of one story at ground level for stores, plus two stories for parking.

"This would benefit citizens, merchants and government," said Enemark. "It would provide shoppers with greater choice of merchandise by additional quality stores, merchants with increased trade, and the city with additional sales tax revenue, as well as more parking in the most congested area in the county."

County Clerk George S. Jones recalled past plans he has favored along this line and he concurred with Enemark's estimate that the business community would welcome and support it.

"I consider this proposed plan a proper use of the property," said Jones. "I favor it only if the concept of additional parking is coupled with additional stores or business facilities."

Additional parking levels could later be added, Enemark said, with the lower inital level on the second floor converted to business facilities.

Opposition was voiced by Pat Hetherton, chairman of the San Rafael Planning Commission, because he wished retention of "a park-type area for the benefit and enjoyment of all citizens." The proposal, he said, would be a "blight to this only open space left in downtown San Rafael."

Chairman Paul Steinmets of the chamber's parks and recreation committee elicited from Enemark the view that "by proper architectural design and good taste this area could be developed as an asset in attractiveness and utility."

NEW SAFEWAY FOR SAN RAFAEL—Shown above is the architect's conception of a new, 22,000-square-foot Safeway Store approved last night by city planners for construction at First and B Streets. The store, designed by architect Arthur A. Iwata of Berkeley, will provide parking space for 135 cars and will be constructed of plate glass, concrete and exposed aggregate.

New Safeway Store Wins Approval

Safeway Stores Inc. last night gained approval of the San Rafael Planning Commission for an ultra-modern store at First and B streets.

The 22,000-square-foot glass and exposed aggregate building will be lighted through open eaves and will provide parking spaces for 135 cars. Safeway representatives did not indicate when construction would begin.

The store will be identical to one in the Marina district of San Francisco with the exception of a set of $10,000 murals across the front. "We don't think the murals sell that much more in groceries," representatives said. Planners said traffic conditions would be studied for six months after occupancy and changes in traffic flow might be made after that time.

Planners approved developer Kenneth Solares's revised plans of a 21-unit apartment house on Channing Way at the Marin Professional Center with the provision a bumper guard be placed at the top of the property as a safeguard against runaway cars.

Two 12-unit apartments sought by the D. M. Christensen Construction Co. were approved at 545-555 Canal Street. The builder will be required to maintain a 15-foot setback of a swimming pool and apply for a variance for a six-foot fence to enclose the pool.

Approval was given the final subdivision map of White Oaks Unit No. 2 at Chesnut Avenue north of White Oaks Unit No. 1. The map of the 54-lot subdivision will be forwarded to the city council for final approval.

Hallinan Says Home For Sale At $125,000

The five-acre Ross estate of the Vincent Hallinans is being sold, the controversial attorney reported today.

Hallinan, onetime presidential candidate, said the estate, which includes a 20-room home, high school-sized gymnasium and Olympic-sized swimming pool, is being sold for $125,000 to Sheldon Sackett, publisher of a chain of labor newspapers.

The property is being bought in the name of a Sackett corporation, Hallinan told the Independent-Journal, through Marin Title Guaranty Co. of San Rafael. The name of the corporation could not be immediately learned.

Roger Darrow, head of the title company, said, "We neither admit or deny any deal until it is final."

Hallinan, who maintains law offices in San Francisco, said he and his wife, Vivian, "hate to leave the place after all these years." They plan to buy a smaller home "somewhere in Marin."

The five oldest Hallinan boys are now away at school, Hallinan said, leaving only the youngest, Danny, 12, at home with his parents. "A 20-room house is too much for just the three of us," he said.

Sackett, owner of the Olympic Press in Berkeley which publishes the North Bay Labor Journal, among other papers, has been rumored as attempting to buy several Marin County weekly newspapers.

John Harlan, publisher of the Marin News in Sausalito, said he is "not currently negotiating with Sackett. My paper is for sale at a price, but this man has made no deposit," Harlan said.

Roger Esteves, owner and publisher of the Ross Valley News, Tiburon Pelican and the Larkspur-Corte Madera Times, said negotiations with Sackett "have been going on for weeks."

Fred Volz, co-publisher of the Novato Advance, said he "was not in negotiation" for sale of the paper.

Two Youths Booked At Drive-In Fight

San Rafael police arrested two youths at Zip's Drive-In in San Rafael last night on charges of disturbing the peace.

Officers broke up a fight about 10 p.m. between Donald Ray Dearmond, 19, of 103 Live Oak Avenue, Fairfax, and Robert A. Donohoe, 21, of 42 Hillview Avenue. Both were booked at the county jail.

Jane Stevenson Of Bolinas Dies

Mrs. Jane Stevenson, a resident of Bolinas, died early today in a local hospital. She was 60.

Mrs. Stevenson, of Park Avenue and Juniper Road, had been hospitalized for 12 days. She was the wife of David Stevenson, a transmitting technitian at the RCA Communication, Inc. transmitting station in Bolinas. The couple moved to Marin in January, 1959, from Torrance, Los Angeles County.

LA FONTAINE RITES

Funeral services for Arthur La Fontaine, 61, will be held Friday at 10:45 a.m. at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

La Fontaine, a linotype operator with the Independent-Journal since 1928, died yesterday at a local hospital after a week's illness. La Fontaine was a resident of 45 Center Street, San Rafael.

Burial will be at the Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno at noon, the day of the funeral.

GRACE ANSCHUTZ

Mrs. Grace C. Anschutz of Belvedere died last night at a local hospital after a short illness.

She had lived with her son, John Anschutz, and daughter, Adelaide Anschutz, for about three years at 49 Belvedere Avenue.

A native of Keokuk, Iowa, and from an Iowan pioneer family, she would have been 82 on Aug. 31.

Mrs. Anschutz is survived by her son and daughter.

Services and interment are to be in Keokuk. Arrangements are being handled by Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

MRS. OGDEN

strength" would be used, he contended.

3. Stiffening of the bridge trusses, which Paine called not practical, is "completely practical," Gronquist maintained.

Ralph Tudor of Tudor Engineering, employed by the transit district in designing the transit routes, went even further. He said the truss stiffening would not be as difficult as the job being done by the state on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge. There, roadway supports are being strengthened without interruption of traffic.

Hoover declared that even considering overloading the bridge with as many as 15 trains at once is "patently ridiculous. I doubt that there will be that many trains on the Marin run. But even if there were, an automatic block signal system would prevent more than one train in each direction from being on the span at the same time."

He also said the assumed weights of cars used in the studies is 25 per cent higher than the maximum requirement set by the transit district for its rolling stock. "Such extreme conditions (as considered in the reports) never would —never could—be imposed on the bridge."

Tudor, while refusing to call rapid transit on the bridge feasible, "because I haven't actually checked all the engineering figures myself," said he would have no hesitancy in using 90,000 pounds per square inch as the design strength for the bridge's cables.

He said it would be appropriate to refer both Paine's and Gronquist's findings to a "competent board of engineers" for evaluation.

This is the proposal of the rapid transit directors. The bridge directors have been awaiting Gronquist's answer to Paine before making up their minds whether to cooperate in such an engineering review board, or whether to accept Paine's report and prohibit rapid transit on the bridge.

Frederic August Bartholdi not only created the Statue of Liberty, the sculptor also pledged his personal fortune to defray construction expenses.

'BORDEN BELLE' ON WHEELS

Mrs. Anita H. Dehnert of 5853 Redwood Highway, Ignacio, happily displays the keys and registration slip to her new custom built trailer she won for being named Marin's Borden Belle. Mrs. Dehnert's photograph was drawn from among those snapped the past two months of customers selecting Borden products in markets throughout the county. Mrs. Dehnert and her family will take a vacation in the Siskiyou Mountains, she said. (Independent-Journal photo)

Youth Felled By 'Sneak' Blow

Lewis Don Burrows Jr., 18, of Terra Linda was in San Rafael General Hospital with a broken jaw today after what was reported as a one-blow fight.

Burrows' girl friend told San Rafael police the youth was challenged by another youth at the Country Club Bowl last midnight. As they were walking to a spot to fight, the other youth — whom she said she could not identify—threw a sneak punch that felled young Burrows, she said.

"Boys will be boys," commented the injured youth's father at the hospital.

Burrows lives at 725 Knocknaboul Way.

Another Rabid Skunk Disclosed; Killed By Dog In Sleepy Hollow

Another rabid skunk has been found in Sleepy Hollow and a German shepherd dog is in six-month quarantine after killing the skunk.

This was disclosed yesterday by Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, Marin County health officer, who said it points up the importance of owners having their pets vaccinated against rabies.

The skunk was found in the garage of a Sleepy Hollow home after it had been killed by the dog, Dr. Albrecht said. Six days were required for tests to determine that the skunk was rabid. The dog, which had not been previously vaccinated, was given rabies shots immediately but must remain quarantined for six months. It is being kept chained to a tree inside a fenced enclosure at the home.

If the dog had been previously vaccinated, only a booster shot and one month quarantine would have been required, the county health officer pointed out.

This was the third rabid skunk found this year in Sleepy Hollow.

Richardson Bay Sanitary Unit Defends Plant

Richardson Bay Sanitary District directors took issue Monday night with reports they said they had received from opponents to Tiburon incorporation to the effect the treatment provided by the district does not meet state requirements.

"This is simply not true," secretary Samuel A. Fletcher said. "The sewage treatment meets very adequately the standards set for the district by the water pollution control board. The Trestle Glen Treatment Plant is a new plant and is operating efficiently."

Directors announced the district's new ordinance has gone into effect which computes connection charges for apartment buildings on the same basis as for private homes. Prior to the ordinance, prices for apartments were considerably lower than for homes.

IN U.S. TO PROMOTE EDUCATION

Chief Rotimi Williams, 40-year-old, six foot, four inch chairman of the council of the University of Ife in Nigeria, was a colorful figure on the deck of the Queen Elizabeth upon his arrival yesterday in New York. Alliance Plan Funds Asked Of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon told Congress today that one billion dollars is the minimum the United States should obligate for Latin America this year if President John F. Kennedy's Alliance for Progress is to get off to a good start.

Dillon appeared in a closed session of the Senate Appropriations Committee in support of a four-billion-dollar-plus foreign aid program.

He termed the program essential to the security of this country and the free world and one the nation can afford.

He made his plea for the actual money a few hours ahead of the start of Senate-House conference sessions to iron out differences over the authorization bill which sets ceilings for the program.

In a prepared statement, Dillon made no reference to the controversy over Kennedy's request for Treasury borrowing authority to finance a five-year program of economic development loans abroad.

Dillon concentrated instead on an explanation of U.S. commitments to Latin America at the recent inter-American meeting at Punta del Este, Uruguay, and the effect of the foreign aid program on the U.S. budget and this country's balance of payments problems.

SAN RAFAEL HIGH STUDENTS PLAN STATIONERY STORE BUSINESS

San Rafael High School students are going into business.

Appearing before the board of education last night was student body president David Chuche, who was given approval for establishment of a stationery and supply store to be operated by the students "at a very small profit."

The store's stock, young Chuche explained, would be purchased from local merchants. Stock will be bought with student body funds.

"In the past, the objection to such a store had been unfair competition to downtown business," Chuche said. "We feel the problem has been solved, since we will buy our supplies from them."

The local dealers are "very enthusiastic" about the idea, Chuche said, and have promised the student store discounts if it buys in large lots.

The store is badly needed, Chuche said, because of the isolation of the school.

"Now no one will have any excuse for not coming to class with pencils," he said.

Railway Express To Close Offices

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The State Public Utilities Commission yesterday authorized Railway Express Agency to close its offices in four Sonoma County cities and consolidate its pickup and delivery service in the areas through the Santa Rosa office.

Offices will be closed in Healdsburg, Petaluma, Sebastopol and Sonoma.

The agency said the consolidation, part of a nationwide economy reorganization, will save $5,500 a year.

Pickup and delivery service will be extended to Agua Caliente, Boyes Hot Springs, Eldridge, El Verano, Fetters Hot Springs and Verano after the consolidation.

Action Tabled

Belvedere planning commissioners tabled until next month two requests this week for permits to construct off-street parking ramps on Bella Vista Avenue and San Rafael Avenue, according to commissioner George C. Banning.

President's Tax Proposals Abandoned

House Ways and Means Committee today abandoned hope of completing work on President John F. Kennedy's proposed tax revisions at this session of Congress, delaying any action until next year.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.) and other Democratic committee members issued a statement saying it was impossible to finish consideration of the bill in the weeks remaining before adjournment.

The Democrats replied that Republican opposition to Kennedy's tax incentive plan for businessmen was one of the main reasons for their decision.

They said, "The heart of the president's program was his proposal to grant a tax credit to those American businesses which would invest their funds for modernization.

"We agree with this basic concept advanced by the president and concur in his belief that an investment credit is not only the proper way to provide a tax incentive to attack our long-range problem of economic growth at home and our problem of staying competitive in the markets of the world, but is also the most effective."

Pianist Dies

NO LETTER FOR ALTO FIREMEN

Receipt of letters of appreciation from Northwestern Pacific Railroad for work in fighting the July 20 fire in the railroad's Puerto Suello tunnel was reported yesterday by the San Rafael and Marin County Fire Departments.

But Chief Carl Heynen Jr. said no such letter was received by the Alto Fire Department, whose fireman Frank Kinsler lost his life in the tunnel cave-in.

Sheriff Says Civil Defense Chief Needed

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos told the Mill Valley Rotary Club yesterday that Marin must have a fulltime civil defense director and "stop passing the buck to a supervisor, the county administrator or the sheriff."

Mountanos has handled administration of civil defense when the duties were switched from County Administrator Alan Bruce.

The sheriff advocated that citizens get behind the national fallout shelter program which, he said, could save thousands of lives in Marin if there were a direct bomb hit on San

Jury Still Being Picked For Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Selection of a jury for the trial of four boys charged with first degree murder entered its third day today.

On trial are William Castilla, 17, Alexander Robert Hall, 17, Larry Magee Jr., 16, and Michael Kilkenny, 16.

They have been accused of the beating-robbery of Marin County schoolteacher William P. Hall, 27, and then leaving him near car tracks where he was run over. He taught in Ross.

The youths appeared bored today with the jury process in the hall of justice. They stretched their legs, yawned, leaned back in their seats and waited almost impatiently for the process to end.

The prosecutor, Asst. Atty. Nicholas Deriman, said the jury selection was taking far longer than anticipated. He said he hoped to have one chosen late today or tomorrow.

Glass Kills Girl

LONG BEACH (AP) — A 10-year-old girl, visiting here from South Dakota, was killed when she crashed through a sliding glass door at a motel.

Physicians said yesterday a piece of glass had pierced the heart of Susan Tibbs of Rapid City, S.D. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Tibbs, were inspecting rooms at the motel.

New Apartments Approved For Bon Air Area

Four units of 12 apartments each for Bon Air subdivision 5 were approved last night by the Larkspur Planning Commission.

The Belardo Co. of Niels Schultz asked for variances on the lots for these apartments These were granted. Architectural approval was also given.

H. C. Wood was granted a variance to enlarge one living unit adjacent to his office.

Homestead Club Plans Mozart Fete

A Mozart Festival Sept. 17 at 2:30 p.m. in Stolte Grove will be sponsored by the Homestead Valley Improvement Club, according to club president Mrs. Kurt Schlesinger.

The festival will be a benefit staged by the Bach to Mozart Chamber Players to raise money for improving the physical setting for the second series of candlelight concerts at Brown's Hall in Mill Valley. The concerts, presented for the first time last December, January and February, also featured the Bach to Mozart Players.

Admission to the concert will be by donation.

Picnic facilities are available at the grove. Hot dogs, ice cream and soft drinks will be sold. Since parking space is limited, a shuttle service will be operated from Brown's Hall to the grove.

Two Treated For Dog, Cat Bites

Two persons were treated for dog and cat bites at Marin General Hospital Monday.

Mrs. Lorraine M. Dumham, 56, of Burlingame, visiting her daughter, Mrs. Orie O. Estby at 13 Post Street in Larkspur, was bitten on her right thumb when she tried to break up a cat fight.

U.S. TO KEEP EAGLE EYE ON JAGAN

New British Guiana Premier Linked To Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States intends to keep an eagle eye on newly elected Premier Cheddi Jagan to see whether he will try to steer British Guiana into the Communist bloc.

Lf Jagan tries to link up with Moscow-Peiping, representations can be made to Britain to postpone complete independence for the newly emerging South American country.

If Jagan's Marxism turns out to be a more independent variety, Washington may swallow its distaste and treat Guiana as a member of the hemisphere family.

CASTRO

Jagan, an open admirer of top Communists, of Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro and of Marxism, is slated for a formal call to Guiana's first premiership today on the results of Monday's elections. His wife was once an American Communist and still has Red connections, according to information received here.

Jagan's government will have power over internal affairs. Britain retains foreign affairs-defense control, pending full independence which Britain has promised to consider in a year or so.

In the U.S. view, it would be a major political blow to have another international Communist beachhead set up in this hemisphere—this time on the South American continent.

RUSK

Secretary of State Dean Rusk noted at a news conference Tuesday that "we have been working with the British" on policy toward Guiana.

The U.S. foreign affairs chief referred specifically to American aid. Guiana is receiving about $750,000 in U. S. technical assistance this year and recently got a 1.25-million-dollar World Bank loan.

Rusk said no Jagan request for new U.S. funds has been received and U.S. aid policy has not yet been reconsidered.

Filibuster Proposal Approved

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Rules Committee today approved a proposal to relax the Senate's time-honored filibuster rule.

The measure would make it easier to break a filibuster by requiring only a three-fifths vote of members present — a maximum of 60 votes — to halt debate.

Approval by the rules committee thus set the stage for a wrangle in the Senate as the current session draws to a close.

The present Senate cloture rule requires two-thirds approval by those present to shut off debate, or a maximum of 67 votes if all 100 senators were present.

The proposed rule change was approved without recommendation.

HUB'S TAX RATE DROPS

San Anselmo city councilmen last night set the Hub City's 1961-62 tax rate at $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation, a drop of eight cents from last year's $1.33.

The city still computes assessed valuation on the basis of 35 per cent of market value, as compared with the county's 23 per cent of market value.

The new tax rate was set in a 4-to-1 vote, with Councilman Arthur W. Smith dissenting. Smith said he is opposed to the $650,000 budget because he thinks greater savings could have been made.

Councilmen In San Anselmo Fail To Agree About Street Lights

San Anselmo city councilmen last night failed to agree on what type of street lights to install in the downtown area and put off a decision for another month.

Councilmen indicated there has been so much high pressure sales talk by manufacturers of various types of lights that the entire issue has been confused.

Councilman Arthur W. Smith moved for purchase of General Electric lights but he got no second. William Franchini moved to buy Peerless lamps, but he was voted down 3-to-2. John Reichmuth suggested that perhaps the existing poles can be retained and just the lamps changed.

Mayor Carleton G. Little continued the matter until the second meeting in September.

City Administrator Douglas Flautt announced police will crack down on equestrians riding their horses on the sidewalk areas of Butterfield Road. He said the Sleepy Hollow Stables and Riding Club have assured him they would cooperate in keeping horses off sidewalks. The administrator reported that riders who were seen were found to be residents of San Francisco, who had come from Fairfax.

Mrs. Bernece Cresap of 99 Butterfield Road, who complained about horses on sidewalks, declared she knows the riders are not from San Francisco. "I can tell you the names and addresses of the riders. They live in Sleepy Hollow," she said.

In other actions last night, the San Anselmo City Council:

1. Declined to take a stand on Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.'s proposed change in rates. The company has applied to the Public Utilities Commission to eliminate toll charges between San Rafael exchange and Ignacio and between San Rafael and Sausalito-Belvedere. This would permit direct dialing without toll charges. The company seeks a raise in basic phone rates for all homes. Councilmen decided it is up to the PT&T to plead its own case. Jack Nichols, PT&T representative, said a hearing is set for 10 a.m. Aug. 30 in San Rafael City Hall.

2. Opened up the street sweeper examination to outsiders instead of limiting it to members of the city street department. The administrator said no one especially cares for the job.

3. Decided to remove two large brick pillars from the entrance to Floribel Avenue. The administrator said the pillars are deteriorating and constitute a hazard.

4. Asked City Atty. John G. Buresh to draw up a resolution changing Circle Drive to Island Drive near the San Anselmo-San Rafael border above the Miracle Mile. Residents complained that part of the loop is Island Drive and part of it Circle Drive, and they suffer from mixups in fire calls and mail.

5. Authorized $50 to oil the parking area at the American Legion parking lot next to Memorial Park to abate dust.

6. Authorized spending $50 to divert water away from Frances Avenue near Fairfax and toward Scenic Avenue. Flow of storm waters down Frances Avenue into private property in Fairfax resulted in a $500 damage verdict against San Anselmo. City Attorney Buresh reported that San Anselmo was blamed for the damage and must pay. He said he sees no need for an appeal.

New Vice Principal Appointed For San Rafael High School

Alfred N. Thomson, new principal at San Rafael High, told the board of education he had recommended Dunn over seven or eight other candidates for the job.

Dunn, 30, of 323 Bayview Street in San Rafael, was given a one year contract at $10,000. The father of four children, Dunn received his bachelor of arts degree and did graduate work at San Francisco State College. He has been in the district one year. His past experience included elementary and high school teaching, his last position outside the district being the equivalent of vice principal at Pittsburg High School.

Helen Rideout, of 117 Legend Road, Sleepy Hollow, was hired as second grade teacher at San Pedro School. Mrs. Rideout is returning to teaching after an absence of 10 years. She will receive a salary of $4,800.

The board approved appointments of Edwina Codoni as principal of Gallinas and Short Schools and Harold V. Delma to replace her as principal of West End and Sun Valley Schools. Objections had been raised by parents at West End and Sun Valley schools to transfer of Miss Codoni. Acting chairman Rex Silvernale said the board had discussed the matter with Miss Codoni and she was willing to accept the transfer.

Hiring of Mrs. Rideout will make it unnecessary to transport second grade pupils from the San Pedro School to another school. A total of 88 second graders have registered to date at San Pedro. To house them, a surplus, temporary building will be placed on the school grounds.

The board agreed to raise the salary differential for department heads from $240 a year to $300 to $500, depending on the amount of extra work involved. The move is designed to draw more instructors into administration work, board members were told.

A letter to the board, signed by 60 parents from Glenwood, Loch Lomond, Country Club, Villa Rafael and other East San Rafael areas, urged hiring of "an outside person" when the board considers a permanent superintendent.

Acting as superintendent since the resignation of Frank L. Lucas is Raymond J. Simpson, assistant superintendent for business services.

The letter charged that teacher morale was "very low in our public schools as compared with other districts." The parents charged "increasing indifference to the needs of pupils, problems of parents, improvement of teaching techniques and curriculum changes."

The situation would be improved, the letter said, by hiring a man from outside the district who would be "free from pressures."

"We would like to see a completely new approach to our educational system with new ideas and new stimuli. The only way to get such an approach is to bring in an outside man," the letter continued.

The letter was read and filed.

Terra Linda Pool Action Threatened

Rather than expend about $500 for correction of faults in the Terra Linda swimming pool, the San Rafael Board of Education last night decided they would take the dispute to court.

The $105,000 swimming pool has not been completed because of defective joints which allowed ground water to seep into the pool.

A three-man arbitration board recommended that the $650 cost of repairing the faults be jointly borne by the contractor, Max Schenk of Fairfax, and the school district. At last night's meeting, three board members present indicated they did not feel the district should be held liable for any of the expense.

Board members Bella Aaron, John M. Bagshaw and Rex Silvernale unanimously agreed to instruct County Counsel E. Warren McGuire to negotiate the findings of the arbitrators with the contractor. If a satisfactory agreement is not reached within 10 days, the trustees ordered the counsel to take legal action.

Absent from the meeting were chairman Roderick P. Martinelli and C. Paul Bettini. Board members indicated they might call a special meeting to discuss the results of McGuire's negotiations.

The board accepted a low bid of $5,753 from Piombo Brothers of San Rafael for construction of drainage culverts, curbs and gutters at Laurel Dell School. There were three other higher bids.

District architect Carl F. Gromme approved bids from Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross of $6,361 for rest rooms and $5,939 for a faculty room at Coleman School. The bids, which ran about $1,500 higher than estimated, were found to be legitimate by the architect.

Approved was purchase of 137 physical education items on low bids totaling $7,471; musical instruments, $3,517, and business education equipment totaling $4,771.

Absent chairman Martinelli was instructed to name a committee to confer with developers of San Joaquin Ranch and Marin Bay on the need for school sites in the subdivisions.

Acting Supt. Raymond J. Simpson said the developers of these and other large tracts had requested the school board to notify them of their eventual needs for school sites so they could be set aside before development of the areas.

Silvernale, acting as chairman, said it was obvious that space must be reserved in the developments. "We have no money at present for purchase of sites. It will eventually mean a bond issue, but we must make our needs known to the developers now," Silvernale said.

In other action, the trustees:

1. Postponed for further study a decision on salaries for substitute teachers, adult school teachers and home instructors. Cafeteria workers' wages were raised 10 cents an hour. Student helpers were raised from 75 cents to $1.25 per hour.
2. Approved granting a seven-day vacation to former Supt. Frank Lucas.
3. Postponed until the full board was present appointment of a director of business services.
4. Adjourned to Sept. 5 at 7:30 p.m.

Enlists In Navy

James Drayton Marker, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Frederick Marker of 301 Oakdale Avenue, Mill Valley, enlisted in the Navy this week at the Marin County Navy Recruiting Station in San Rafael. He has been sent to the Naval Training Center in San Diego for recruit training.

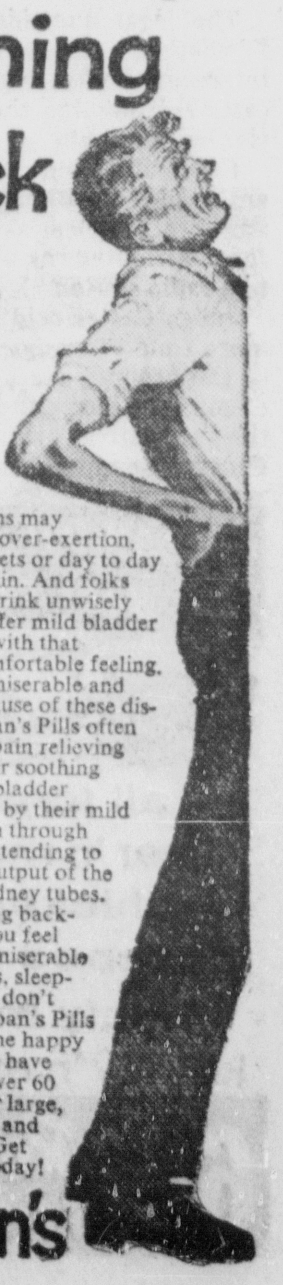
Oh, my aching back !!



Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation ... with that restless uncomfortable feeling.

If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys — tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable ... with restless, sleepless nights ... don't wait ... try Doan's Pills ... get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Ask for large, economy size and save money. Get Doan's Pills today!

High Schools Busy With Registration

With San Rafael's two high schools ready for opening Sept. 5, registration activity is increasing, principals of San Rafael and Terra Linda High Schools reported today.

Students living in the Santa Venetia, Terra Linda, Los Ranchitos and Marinwood areas and who are entering the ninth, 10th and 11th grades will register at and attend Terra Linda High School.

Students entering the 12th grade from those areas as well as those from the San Jose School District and the remainder of the San Rafael School District will attend San Rafael High.

Freshman orientation program will be held Aug. 30 from 9 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. at San Rafael High and 9:30 a.m. to noon at Terra Linda High.

San Rafael Teen Dance Set Friday

A senior teen dance for youngsters 15 to 18 years, living in the San Rafael School District, will be held in the San Rafael High School gymnasium Friday from 8 to 11 p.m.

San Rafael Recreation Department is sponsoring the event. Recreation Supervisor Faye Logan announced all participants must be registered in advance. Registrations are being taken at the recreation office at Albert Field from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. every day this week.

Dominic Bobio and his seven-piece combo will provide music through cooperation of American Federation of Musicians Local 6. There is no admission charge.

Police Radio Case Continued

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — U. S. District Judge Oliver J. Carter yesterday continued to Sept. 5 the case of Kenneth G. Fuller, 37, charged with violating the Federal Communications Act.

The legal question involved is whether a private citizen can intercept police radio broadcasts and divulge the information to the public.

Judge Carter said he needed more time to complete a study of the grounds for a motion to dismiss the charge and to study the legislative history of the Federal Communications Act.

CLOSE CALL FOR HOME OWNER

Kennedy's Father Has Pretty, Blonde Caddy

CANNES, France (AP)—When President John F. Kennedy's golf-loving father, Joseph P. Kennedy, strolls off the tee at his favorite Riviera course, most eyes stay glued to his caddy.

The girl and the millionaire onetime U.S. ambassador to Britain have become fast friends during the five years Francoise has been pulling his golf cart around exclusive Biot Course.

"I call him 'Joe', and he calls me 'Francoise'" she said. "I talk to him as I would my father."

Francoise is perhaps the first person on the Riviera to know when Kennedy is coming for a holiday because "he writes me two months before so I'll be available to caddy."

The pert, pug-nosed blonde describes the head of the Kennedy clan as "a wonderful man—really down to earth."

"Monsieur Kennedy is very generous," she said. "Every Christmas he sends me a gift and on my birthday I get a case of champagne. I invite the neighbors in and we drink to his health."

Francoise's father was a bricklayer. Her golf course career began when her parents died in 1954 and she had to help support a younger brother and two infant sisters.

"I lived next door to the course, so one day I went over and asked for a job," said Francoise.

At first she was puzzled by the gawking tourists when she and Kennedy walked around the course. She asked Kennedy what all the fuss was about and he replied:

"Why, because you're prettier than Brigitte Bardot, my dear."

Francoise didn't speak a word of English when she started as Kennedy's caddy. He bought her English lessons and now they jabber like father daughter.

What do they talk about? Frequently about a 3-year-old lady in the White House—Caroline Kennedy.

"I think he has a regular adoration for Caroline," Francoise said.

Sewage Disposal Under Fire

Sewage disposal conditions in Sausalito, Belvedere, Santa Venetia and Las Gallinas Village came under fire last week from the Bay Area Water Pollution Control Board.

Progress reports from the City of Sausalito and the Marin County Health Department on elimination of sewage discharge from arks were accepted, but both were given until Sept. 19 to file further reports showing additional action.

Belvedere was given until Oct. 1 to file a time schedule showing progress toward award of construction contracts for additional sewage facilities which would end dumping of raw waste matter into the bay.

Treatment plants of the Gallinas Village Community Services District and at Santa Venetia Harbor were termed of "poor quality" and technical, bi-monthly reports from the plants will be required after Sept. 18. The board noted that land use near the point of discharge from the San Rafael Meadows treatment plant has increased and that completion of the Civic Center will "multiply public exposure" to the discharge.

Board Takes Second Look At Phone Plan

Marin's county supervisors heard a second version yesterday of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.'s story in support of an "extended service" no-toll plan between Sausalito and San Rafael and had a second thought.

During budget hearings they had heard from Supervisor J. Mansfield Lewis of the county communications system and decided to take no position. Lewis pointed out that many subscribers with no interest in other than local calls would have to pay higher monthly rates.

But D. R. Horton of the phone company's commercial department assured the board that this proposal was being put to the Public Utility Commission because of "numerous requests from subscribers." He won a promise to take the matter under consideration.

Chairman William D. Fusselman wanted to know how many of the total subscribers were using such service. He was referred to a complicated company-cooked "community of interest factor" showing something else, and said, "This does not answer my question. If you knew the number of calls and related it to specific subscribers we'd get a picture."

Horton said the company expressed such matters differently. Anyway, he said, wiping out tolls between any points always seemed to triple the use.

Raised rates, he said in response to a question by Supervisor J. Walter Blair, would be effective only in the areas of the extension which don't include Mill Valley because a similar Mill Valley-San Rafael "extended service" went into effect some years ago.

1. Ordered a $214,768.80 payment on civic center work to July 1, including $188,362.80 for building construction and $25,406 for site development.

2. Agreed to arrange a session with Marin members of the Golden Gate Bridge District Board to talk over a Bay Area Rapid Transit District proposal for review of the bridge capabilities for rapid transit by an impartial board of engineers.

3. Were told by a Marin Medical Society communication that laboratory services offered by the county health department without charge are essential to community health.

4. Voted support of a plan by Bel Marin Keys Community Services District for a temporary public crossing of Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks a mile north of Novato.

5. Set Sept. 4-10 as "Union Label Week" in Marin County on request of the Marin County Labor Council.

No Quorum

Failure to get a quorum caused cancellation of Monday's meeting of the San Geronimo Valley Assn., Mrs. Georgette Vilas, recording secretary, said. The group will meet next Sept. 18.

Transit Down —Up With Flying Saucers

Marin County supervisors were alerted yesterday to throw their support behind flying saucers, or something of the sort, rather than old-fashioned trains if rapid transit comes to this county.

A letter from F. L. W. MacDonald of Menlo Park warned that proponents of the rapid transit system "still think as of yesterday" and Marin is in danger of having them "inflict a system outmoded before it is started," including a tunnel under San Francisco Bay with constant need of repair work.

No consideration has been given, MacDonald pointed out, to air transport and particularly to a new type of "disc, or turtle-shaped jet pressure aircraft developed in Britain and under study here."

The letter said such a contraption would skip over water at great speed, obviating need for tunnel or bridge, and could land on any good-sized parking lot or pier.

"For a people who are already exploring the universe," the letter ended, "it is unthinkable to be bound to methods used yesterday."

Supervisor George Ludy looked at Supervisor William Gnoss, consistent proponent of the county airport near Novato, and said, "You can start right to work on your airport."

"This won't need an airport," decreed Chairman William D. Fusselman, ordering the letter filed with care.

Marin Gets Ready For State Fair Exhibit

The Marin County exhibit for the California State Fair will be completed in time for opening day next Wednesday, County Administrator Alan Bruce said today.

The platform is in, the fence has been roughed in, ceilings and sidewalls have been painted and the turntable is in, he told the board of supervisors yesterday, quoting Mrs. Marcelle McCoy, in charge of Marin's exhibit.

With the theme, "Marin County—All-America County," already approved by the board, the entry is being made under the category of "Contributions to the Development of California," Bruce said.

One large transparency will illustrate industry, a second, agriculture; a third, conservation, and a fourth, civic progress.

Bruce said that the Citizens Committee on the State Fair Exhibit met Aug. 15 and Mrs. McCoy, Henry Cole and Phil F. Reedstrom reported that the large photographs for the four transparencies already have been taken by Ken Molino.

Mrs. McCoy said she has arranged for hostesses to be in attendance at the exhibit at all times.

Carroll Snyker is preparing an information sheet for use of the hostesses in answering questions. Marvelous Marin and Redwood Empire brochures will be available, plus 10,000 of the "Drake Landed Here" leaflets approved by the board.

Claimed expenditures will be close to the original estimate of $3,500.

"However," Bruce said, "it should be noted that full payment is not being claimed for labor and services in construction of the exhibit, and that accordingly expenditure of a larger sum to fully recompense those assisting may be indicated next year if the county participates then."

Vet Bonds Up For Sale

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A block of 100 million dollars in state veterans farm and home loan bonds will be put up for sale again Sept. 13. A bid of 3.8948 per cent offered Aug. 16 was rejected.

Salinger Pays Delinquent Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The suburban home of White House press secretary Pierre Salinger has been freed from a lien for unpaid federal income taxes for 1957 and 1958.

The release was filed in district court yesterday.

Salinger said he actually paid the taxes in April, 1960. He said he was surprised that the release had just been filed.

Salinger said he had filed his 1957 and 1958 returns without sending in a check. He said he had paid the amount due on a monthly installment basis.

The tax lien was filed on Aug. 25, 1959. It sought payment of $414.42 for 1958, and a tax of $195.53 for 1957.

Is A Giant Miracle Brewing?

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Do the San Francisco Giants have "The Little Miracle of Frisco Bay" in mind as a sequel to "The Little Miracle of Coogan's Bluff" which they staged back in New York 10 years ago?

That off-Broadway success of 1951 had them coming from 13½ games behind on August 11, nailing a tie on the final day of the season and whipping the then Brooklyn Dodgers in a playoff for the National League flag.

At the moment, after slouching in third place, 8½ games from the top on August 11, the Giants suddenly have perked up, winning 9 of 11 and 5 in a row with a sweeping, 12-2 and 5-3 double-header success over first-place Cincinnati last night. That jumped the Giants within 5 games of, the Reds, who have lost 3 in a row for the first time in a month.

Half-way between Cincinnati and San Francisco stand the Los Angeles Dodgers, who are 2 games back of the Reds after losing 5-4 at St. Louis. It was the Dodgers' eighth consecutive defeat—their longest skid since 1948.

Pittsburgh rapped Milwaukee 4-1 and last-place Philadelphia dropped the Chicago Cubs 6-0 behind the one-hit pitching of Art Mahaffey.

Willie Mays, the lone holdover from the Giants' miracle men of 1951, set the pace with five hits in the opener at Cincinnati, one a two-run homer. And then clinched the sweep with his 33rd home run. A two-run shot in the sixth inning of the second game. Willie McCovey belted a pair of solo home runs in the first game as the Giants collected 20 hits, and Orlando Cepeda, who drove in two runs in the opener, socked his 35th home run in the nightcap.

Southpaw Mike McCormick (10-12), the Giants' only loser in their last 14 games, got into the swing with an eight-hit job against the Reds in the opener. Sam Jones (8-7) won the nightcap, but needed Stu Miller's relief when Jerry Lynch hit a three-run homer that broke up Sad Sam's three-hit shutout in the sixth inning. Bob Purkey (14-8) and Ken Johnson (4-2) were the losers.

In the third game of the four tilt set tonight, Juan Marichal (12-7) will have at the Reds and Joey Jay (18-7).

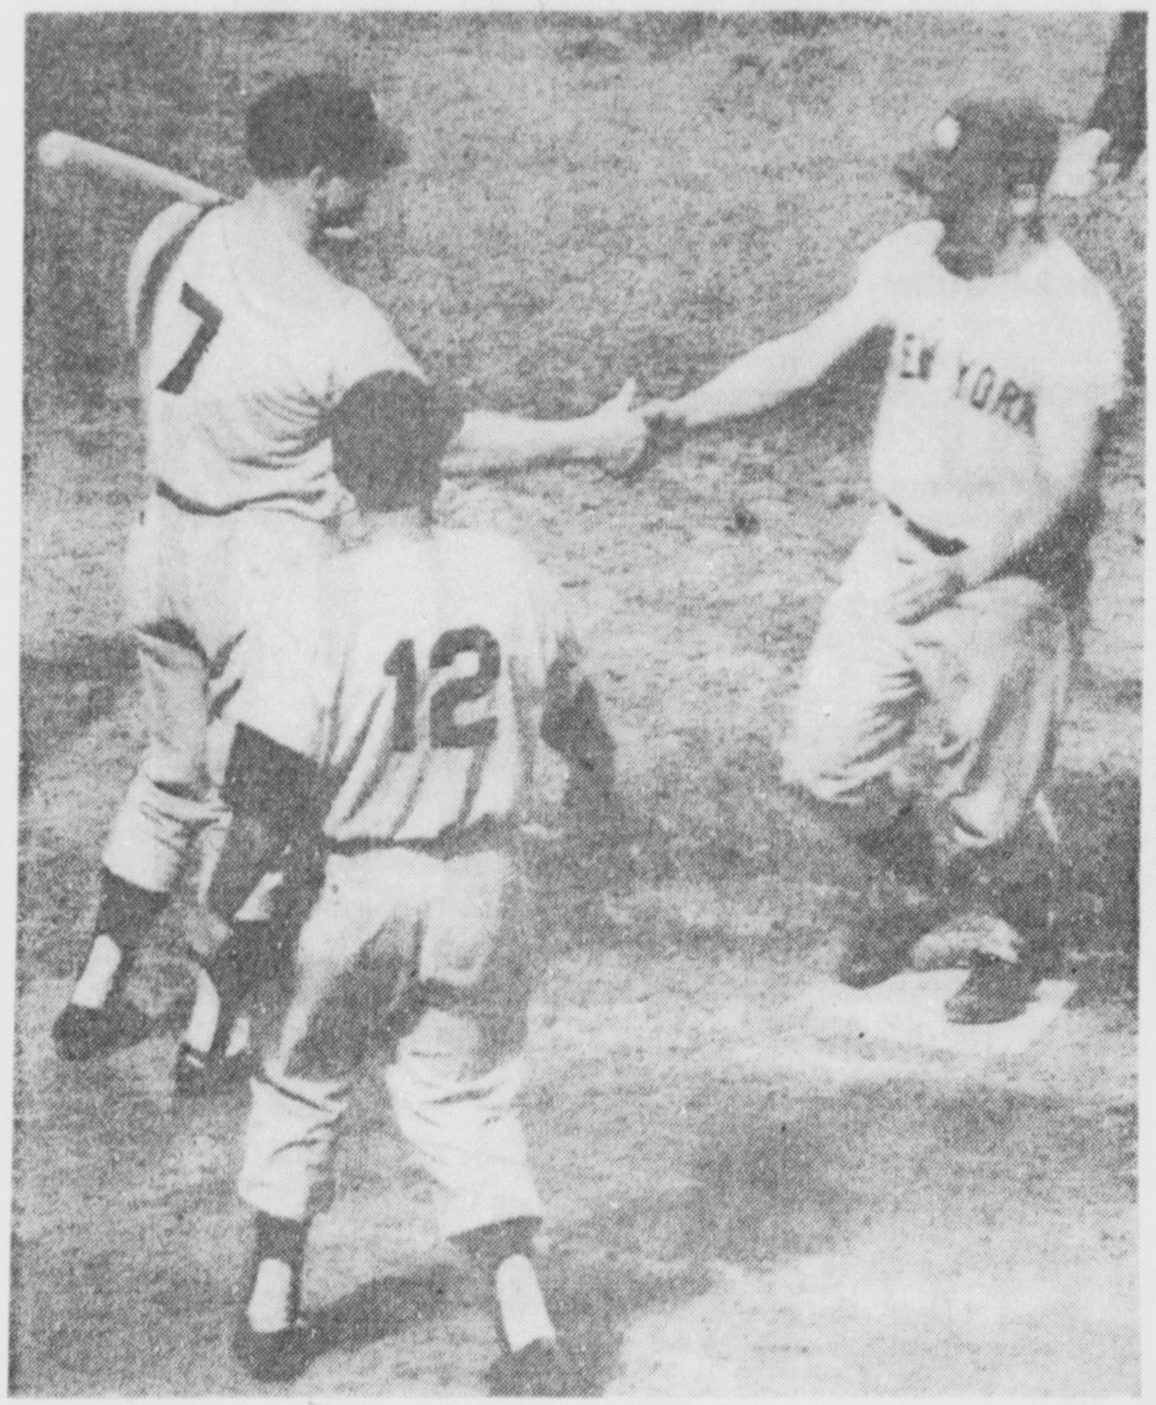
Alou was hospitalized Sunday after a mid-season spurt that saw him become a regular outfielder, hitting the ball at a .294 clip.

The younger brother of another Giant, Felipe Alou, may be out for the rest of the season.

The Cardinals twice blew leads against the Dodgers, then put it away on a two-out error by Charlie Neal in the ninth inning. The Dodgers had tied it 4-all in their ninth on singles by Junior Gilliam, Duke Snider and Wally Moon— a trio that figured in all their scoring. Lindy McDaniel (9-5) was the winner and Dick Farrell (7-6) the loser, both in relief.

A two-run triple by Bill Mazeroski triggered a three-run second inning for the Pirates, who had lost seven in a row to the Braves. Bob Buhl (9-9) was the loser while Joe Gibbon (9-8) won it with relief from Elroy Face.

Mahaffey (8-17), a 23-year-old right-hander who had lost 10 in a row since June 25, gave up the Cubs' lone hit when Ron Santo singled with one out in the first inning. Ed Bouchee and Billy Williams were the only other Cubs to reach base, both on walks, in the third and the eighth. The Phils, winning their second in a row after a record 23 consecutive losses, beat Dick Ellsworth (7-8) with a third-inning run on a single by Clay Dalrymple and a double by Tony Taylor.



NUMBER FIFTY — Roger Maris of the New York Yankees is congratulated by his fellow slugger, Mickey Mantle, as he crossed the plate on his 50th home run of the year, clouted last night in Wrigley Park in Los Angeles against the L.A. Angels. The sixth inning blast was a liner over the centerfield wall. Billy Gardner, foreground, was on base. But the Angels beat the Yanks 4-3. (AP Wirephoto)

Homer Every 10 Times At Bat Will Give Maris The Record

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

One home run every 10.09 at-bats will do it.

That's the pace Roger Maris has to keep through the next 30 games to break Babe Ruth's home-run record after hitting his 50th last night as the New York Yankees lost 4-3 at Los Angeles.

With his two-run, sixth-inning shot off right-hander Ken McBride, Maris went 13 games ahead of Ruth's record-60 pace of 1927. The young slugger now needs only 11 more in the Yankees' next 30 games to break the Babe's record within the official limit of 154 team decisions set by Commissioner Ford Frick.

In 125 games this season, Roger has been at bat 455 times for an average of 3.7 a game. Assuming he can avoid bases on balls Maris would have 111 at bats in those 30 games, requiring an average of one home run avery 10.09 at-bats.

His 50 home runs in 455 at-bats figures out at one every 9.1 at-bat. If the figures don't lie, Maris can waste an extra at-bat between home runs the rest of the way.

Teammate Mickey Mantle, who failed to connect as the Angels shaved the Yankees' American League lead over second-place Detroit to two games, has 46 homers. Based on the same projection formula used for Maris, the Mick would have to hit a home run every seven at-bats to get the 15 he needs to top Ruth. So far, Mantle has hit one every 9.2 at-bats.

The Tigers closed in on the Yankees by winning their fifth in a row, 8-1, at Cleveland. Third-place Baltimore lost 3-2 in 10 innings at Kansas City, the Chicago White Sox took over fourth place by beating Minnesota 4-3, and Boston defeated Washington 3-2 in 11 innings.

In the National League, third-place San Francisco stayed hot and swept a twi-night pair from Cincinnati 12-2 and 5-3. That trimmed the Reds' lead over Los Angeles to 2½ games, although the Dodgers dropped their eighth in a row, 5-4 at St. Louis. Pittsburgh whipped Milwaukee 4-1 and the Philadelphia Phillies rapped the Chicago Cubs 6-0.

Maris' home run, a 420-foot drive over the center field fence—the only deep section in cozy Wrigley Field — was his second in seven games at the Angels' park and ruined a shutout by McBride, who finally won his 10th on the eighth try. Yogi Berra hit a ninth-inning home run for the other Yank run.

The Angels, tying Minnesota for seventh place, ripped into Bill Stafford (10-7) for three runs in the first inning on a leadoff triple by Albie Pearson and consecutive home runs by Lee Thomas and Leon Wagner. Earl Averill tagged reliever Luis Arroyo for a homer in the eighth for the final run.

Detroit also did it with homers, two-run shots by Rocky Colavito, Billy Bruton and Al Kaline that backed a five-hit pitching job by Paul Foytack (8-8). Jim Grant (12-7) was the loser.

New Lotion Bathes-Away Poison Oak

This month an exciting new scientific "miracle" product was placed on drug counters in this area. Called BATHE-AWAY the new product is not greasy or messy. It is an invisible delicately scented lotion that bathes away the itch of poison oak — usually with one application. Poison oak sufferers say it clears unsightly poison oak rash very quickly. Children may use it safely. Best idea for families in this poison oak danger area is to have BATHE-AWAY POISON OAK in the medicine chest ready for emergencies. See your druggist at once.

NEW HOME FOR THE DODGERS

The Los Angeles Dodgers' new 50,000-seat stadium is beginning to take on the appearance of a ballpark. This view, looking from the rightfield area toward home plate, shows the second and third tiers shaping up. Note at right that the rise of the stadium is cut from the hill that was part of Chavez Ravine. The Dodgers expect to conduct their 1962 season here and to share the field with the American League Angels. (UPI Photo)

Cincy Star Robinson Is Boomed For '61 Most Valuable Honors

HANLEY

CINCINNATI—The boom is on here to make Frank Robinson the National League's 1961 most valuable player and there is considerable justification for it. Without Robby, a product of Oakland's McClymonds High School like his teammate Vada Pinson, the Reds would not be on top as they are today.

Lou Smith, veteran sports eidtor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, started the MVP boom for the 23-year-old outfielder in his column today.

"Robby," wrote Smith, "is the one stickout candidate. He is running second to the Pirates' Roberto Clemente for the batting crown; he is neck-and-neck with the Giants' Orlando Cepeda in the N.L. homerun derby and RBI race, and he is one of the top base stealers in the majors with 20, including a recent theft of home."

WE ARE IN complete agreement with Smith on his nomination. The MVP award should not necessarily be given to a member of the pennant winner. And often it isn't.

Chicago's Ernie Banks, the only man to wit it in consecutive years, was the MVP pick of the baseball writers in 1958-59 although the Cubs then, as now, were a second division outfit. But when one man, such as Robinson, has done so much for a pennant contender there should be no doubt about his value.

"Robby," says Cincy manager Fred Hutchinson who understandably endorses the Robinson MVP boom, "is a complete ball player. He's one of the best players in the league and has the opportunity to become one of the greats in the game.

"He can do it with the bat, in the field and on the bases. He always has been one of the league's better base runners and this year he has even been more aggressive in his steals. The tremendous power he has at bat comes from his quick wrists. And he also can check his swing as quick as anyone in the game. In the field he does a fine job. What more can you ask of a player?"

The 6-1, 186-pound Robinson was National League "Rookie of the Year" in 1956 when he hit 38 homers to tie the all-time major league record for first-year men; N.L. "Sophomore of the Year" in 1957; Sporting News' All-Star left fielder in 1958; Cincinnati's local MVP winner in 1959, and the major leagues top slugger (extra bases) last year with a mark of .595.

ROBINSON, youngest of 11 children, has averaged 33 homers, 90 RBI's and a .298 batting average during his five seasons with the Reds. At his present .340 clip he is certain to bring all those marks up. He always seems to do better in the second half of the season.

This year he got off to one of his worst starts. As of April 27 he was batting .174; on May 3 it was .194; then on May 10 he began a 10 game streak and by May 21 he was .301.

"He has quite a list of accomplishments for a youngster," says Hutchinson, "but I believe he has only touched the possibilities his potential holds."

Indian Valley Golf

Mrs. R. G. Cornelius carded a 96-24—72 for low net honors in Class A competition in yesterday's medal sweepstakes play for ladies on the Indian Valley Golf Course.

Mrs. William May was the Class A runnerup with an 86-12—74.

Drag Races Slated

VACAVILLE — Some of the fastest dragsters in Northern California are expected to run again in Saturday night's drag races at Vaca Valley Raceway.

Browns To Send Vets After Rams

It will be the third National Football League exhibition game for each club. The Browns were soundly thumped in their opener by the Detroit Lions, then beat the San Francisco 49ers. The Rams trimmed the Washington Redskins and tied the New York Giants.

Plum completed 22 of 29 passes last Sunday against the 49ers and the last one to Renfro gave Cleveland a 27-24 victory.

Johnny Morrow, former Ram center, will be at center for the Browns, who also have guard Duane Putnam, end Leon Clarke and tackle Paul Dickson, all former Ram performers.

Hayward Girl Eliminates Golf Champ

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Like a girl stepping from rock to slippery rock across a rushing stream, 17-year-old Mary Lowell of Hayward, Calif., moved from champion to champion today in her ambitious attempt to add the USGA Women's Amateur title to the National Junior golf crown she won last week in Seattle.

She shocked the galleries and the other players yesterday by eliminating JoAnne Gunderson of Seattle, the defending queen of American golf, 1-up on the 19th hole.

Dumont Wins 3-0 In Softball Loop

Dumont defeated Terra Linda 3-0 in a snappy San Rafael Recreation Department "A" League game at Albert Park last night.

Dumont pitcher Walker gave up only one hit and both teams played errorless ball in the contest.

The "B" League tilt was something else—a freescoring affair. Fairchild won from Marvel 11-8 as the two teams needed only a total of 10 hits between them to account for their 19 runs.

Today's Fight Fan Thirsty For Blood

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Matchmaker Teddy Brenner of Madison Square Garden blames former middleweight champion Rocky Graziano for the modern boxing buff's insistence on "blood and thunder" in every round of every fight.

"Because of Graziano's wild, hell-for-leather ring performances from 1944 through 1952," said Brenner today, "the action in nearly every main event now is so fast and so savage that it's a rare bout in which neither fighter suffers some injury."

Rangy, dark-haired Brenner said the fans, particularly the television fans, have become so accustomed to the speedy, bombing type of fight that when anyone attempts to box craftily and wait for openings, the action seems to drag and the fans feel like yelling, "Throw the bum out."

BUSY BRITTON

"Imagine," continued the matchmaker, "what would happen today if we attempted to stage fights like some of those in the famous Jack Britton-Ted Kid Lewis series of 17. Some were for the welterweight title but most of them were no-decision affairs. Britton was a master boxer. But do you think, if he was fighting today, he could go through four bouts in quick succession with one opponent like he did during his 19 appearances in 1917, for example."

In 1917, Britton fought Lewis on May 19 at Toronto, June 6 at St. Louis, June 14 at New York and June 25 at Dayton, Ohio. The first three engagements were 10-round no-decision affairs, but the Dayton bout was a 20-rounder in which Britton lost the welterweight crown to England's Lewis. They boxed a total of 50 rounds in little more than a month.

LAYOFF REQUIRED

"They couldn't have done that today," Brenner stressed, "because of the punishment each necessarily would have inflicted upon the other. Moreover, the boxing commissions today appreciate the pace and the savagery of action, and no commission would permit a main-event fighter to box on June 6 and again on June 14 because a lapse of at least 10 days is now required between bouts."

Chatting in his office at the Garden, Brenner grinned and added that the peak of Britton's close-together bouts actually was attained in 1912 when he fought Billy Bennet at Brooklyn, Dec. 5; Young Loughrey at Philadelphia, Dec. 6; Frankie Nelson at New York, Dec. 17; Young Ahearn at Brooklyn, Dec. 23, and Tommy O'Keefe at Philadelphia, Dec. 25.

Teddy admitted there were some exceptions to the slow pace in the old days when men like Jack Dempsy and Benny Leonard faced opponents. But he emphasized that generally the action was slower and the punishment less. "Movies of the old-time fights show that," he asserted.

BOXERS UNPOPULAR

Since Rocky Graziano popularized the gong-to-gong, slam-bang fight, Brenner explained, it's almost impossible to stage a bout between smart boxer-punchers like Harold Johnson and Eddie Machen without incurring the wrath of the fans.

"If a smart fighter waits for openings today, he'll be waiting for fights too," Teddy concluded. "And that's not smart."

Home Run Pressure Has Done Some Funny Things

DETROIT (AP) — Supposin' Roger Maris and/or Mickey Mantle should reach the 59-homer mark sometime next month in their assault on Babe Ruth's record of 60.

What'll be the effect on the American League pennant race? Can it backfire on the New York Yankees?

"I don't know, I can't be sure," said manager Bob Scheffing, whose Detroit Tigers are chasing Maris, Mantle and the rest of the Yankees. "It's bound to bother them some. It may even hurt the Yankees but I can't say.

"Wouldn't it be something if both of them hit 65 and the Yankees finished second?"

Pressure has done funny things to players who've come close to the Babe's mark. Ask Hank Greenberg or Jimmy Foxx. Each missed the magic 60th homer by two. But neither was on a team scrambling for a pennant.

"I had Steve Bilko out in the Coast League in 1956 and he was trying to hit 60," Scheffing recalled. "He got to 55 and I'll bet he didn't hit another in his last 10 games. The club record was 56 and he didn't even reach that and we already had won the pennant

"He was trying so hard the ball just was popped up or hit into the ground."

The next year Bilko did reach 56, but failed to make it to 60.

"I can't predict how it will affect Maris and Mantle if they get near to Ruth, but let's face it, most of the recent home run champions haven't been on the team that's won the pennant," said Scheffing.

In the 33 seasons since Ruth established the big record, only nine champions or co-champions made it into the World Series.

Fast Field Looms For Amateur Classic

NEW YORK (AP)—Seven past champions, including 1960 winner Deane Beman of Arlington, Va., head a record entry list of 2,019 for the National Amateur Golf Championship to be played at Pebble Beach, Calif., Sept. 11-16.

The entry list will be trimmed to 200 for the tournament proper during 36-hole qualifying tests at 37 sectional sites Aug. 28, 29 and 31.

The seven former champs plus 21 others will be exempt from qualifying on the basis of their past records.

REDS, BENGALS WINNING AT THE BOXOFFICE

NEW YORK (AP) — Surprisingly good showings in the baseball pennant races by the Detroit Tigers and Cincinnati Reds have boosted their home attendances this season. Both have already surpassed their 1960 totals.

The Tigers have played before 1,340,930 customers and the Reds to 762,520. Last season, Detroit's total was 1,167,669 and Cincinnati's 663,486.

Through Sunday's games, the Tigers showed an increase of 235,000 and the Reds were up 245,000. All of the other teams were under last year's figures. Those showing the largest deficits were the Chicago White Sox 441,000), Los Angeles Dodgers (410,000), San Francisco 313,000), Pittsburgh (320,000) and Milwaukee (314,000).

The major leagues drew 1,076,166 paid last week, lifting the 1961 total to 15,013,116—seven per cent under last year.

Lane Bounced From His Job With Athletics

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Frank Lane, baseball's most talkative figure was bounced out of his job yesterday as general manager of the Kansas City Athletics by owner Charles O. Finley, who accused Lane of spreading false rumors about the club.

"It's a great relief," Lane told a newsman today. "I knew it was coming."

ONE RUMOR

Finley said one of the rumors Lane started was that the A's, mired in tenth place in the American League, might be shifted to Dallas-Fort Worth as reported in the Kansas City Star last week.

Finley denied he planned to move the club and charged two Star baseball writers, who criticized him, with accepting payola from a former clubowner, the late Arnold Johnson. The newspaper and two writers, sports editor Ernest Mehl and baseball reported Joe McGuff, denied the charges.

"Lane spread rumors all over the United States, and wherever I went and read a newspaper I could see nothing but poison and dirt that he had left behind," Finley said in announcing Lane's dismissal at a news conference in his Chicago insurance office. He appointed Pat Friday, 37, a vice president of the club and an official in his insurance business, to succeed Lane.

TO BE PAID OFF

Lane, who came here from the Cleveland Indians, also has served as general manager with the Chicago White Sox and the St. Louis Cardinals. Always a fast-talking free-wheeling trader of baseball players, he had a four year contract. Finley said he would be paid off on the remaining three years at $50,000 a year.

Lane commented, "It was an absolutely hopeless situation as far as I was concerned. Those I feel sorry for are the baseball fans of Kansas City for having to put up with such an operation as this."

Lane said he had no immediate plans but that he would very much like to have the job as general manager of the Chicago White Sox is Hank Greenberg vacates the post at the end of the season.

New Raiders Fail To Show As Scheduled

SANTA CRUZ (AP) — Volney Peters, a 6-4, 240-pound veteran defensive tackle, is missing. That is, he's missing as far as the Oakland Raiders are concerned.

The Raiders acquired Peters from the San Diego Chargers. He was supposed to report at noon yesterday. He didn't.

What's more, rookie defensive tackle Francis Morelli of Colgate, shuttled West by the New York Titans, is also missing.

Both were heavily counted on by Coach Eddie Erdelatz to help fill defensive gaps which in two American Football League games to date have allowed the enemy 83 points.

Formidable Field Takes Shape In Senior Tourney

Strong entries are coming in for the Marin Senior Invitational Golf Tournament to be played next Wednesday on the Peacock Gap course.

Marin's Bob Russell, a prize winner in the recent Far Western Tournament, will play. Other Marinites definitely entered include Galen Miller, E. Frink, Jack Harrison, Ed Cushly, T. W. Wallace, and J. E. Langton.

This year, for the first time, a pre-senior division is included in western senior tournaments for players over 45.

Keeler Nash, in charge of the tourney, says entry forms may be obtained at any Marin golf club. Entries close Saturday for advance starting times. Late entrants will have to tee off after 10:30 a.m.

Lake Michigan Bested By Marathon Swimmer

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP)—Ted Erikson, 33, a rocket fuels engineer whose hobby is swimming, was pulled out of the choppy, rain-splashed waters of Lake Michigan last night after completing a grueling swim of 36 hours and 37 minutes from Chicago.

Erikson, the first person ever to swim across the southern tip of Lake Michigan, was cheered by a crowd of several thousand waiting in the rain.

Married and the father of two, Erikson wanted to go home—and take a shower. Instead, he was taken to a hospital where he was given oxygen and a sedative for sleep. He was reported in excellent condition.

"I don't want to go to the hospital," he had told his wife, Loretta who had coached him from a boat during the long swim. "I want to go home."

Erikson and five other swimmers, including two women, started the fifth annual Lake Michigan swim challenge at 8 a.m. Monday from Chicago's Burnham Park. One by one, the other five dropped out.

Sponsor of the swim, a Chicago auto dealer who offered a purse of $3,675—$100 a mile—for the winner, claimed Erikson set a world record for open water long distance swimming.

Mrs. Erikson said her husband, employed at the Armour Research Foundation, has been swimming for 15 years. His previous record in long distance swimming is 15 miles in 12 hours.

Tombstone Smith Gets Up To Win Verdict In Fresno

FRESNO (UPI) — Irish Wayne Thornton blasted Charlie (Tombstone) Smith to the canvas for a nine-count in the final round last night, but when Smith got up groggy Thornton was too played out to finish him off. The decision went to Smith.

It was Thornton's first defeat in 16 fights and the Fresno boxer immediately asked for a rematch with Smith, a Los Angeles middleweight who formerly held the state title. Smith weighed 167 to Thornton's 161.

Thornton took the attack for the first two rounds, but after that he suffered a relentless pounding by Smith until the 10th when he dropped Tombstone with a hard right to the head. With a knockout victory available for the asking, Thornton was apparently paralyzed by fatigue and unable to take it.

Chess Pie A Special Favorite At Hospital Coffee Shop

Eagerly watched for is a Chess Pie donated regularly by Mrs. Webster D. Wilson of 701 Appleberry Drive, Lucas Valley. The recipe which Mrs. Wilson has offered to share with readers of the Independent-Journal is listed below:

CHESS PIE

1 cup seedless raisins
1 cup chopped walnuts
2 eggs
⅔ cup sugar (white or brown)
⅔ cup corn syrup
⅓ cup butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 9" pastry-lined pie pan

Place raisins in sieve over boiling water, cover and steam 10 minutes. Beat eggs and sugar until thick; add corn syrup, butter, raisins, nuts and vanilla. Pour into uncooked pastry-lined 9" pan. Bake at 300° for one hour.

Mrs. Wilson, whose husband is principal of the Terra Linda elementary school, keeps a busy schedule homemaking for him and their three children, Webster, Jr., age 14, Mark, age 11, and Laura, age 5.

Besides being a wonderful cook Mrs. Wilson devotes time to PTA work, is an inveterate tennis player, loves gardening and has done several interesting mosaics. She is an active member, too, of the Marin Branch of the AAUW as well as working with the Lucas Valley Guild of the Junior Museum of Marin.

Mrs. Wilson became interested in contributing to the Marin General Hospital Coffee Shop when she read in an Independent-Journal feature article about the work the volunteers are doing and the contributions that are being made. Since then she has been a regular donor to Marin General Hospital's Coffee Shop which is operated for the benefit of visitors, patients and personnel. Proceeds are used to buy needed equipment for Marin General Hospital.

Recently the Pink Ladies donated $25,000 of the profits they have been accumulating over several years to build a new, large coffee shop in conjunction with the current construction of a 116 bed addition to Marin General Hospital which will be ready in early 1963.

An interesting aside to Mrs. Wilson's chess pie recipe is the fact that the walnuts she uses in it come from their 330 acre walnut orchard in Lake County. Needless to say she has a file on "walnut recipes." She says "I am so happy to belong to the 'cake of the month club' at Marin General Hospital which as you can see from my donation does not limit itself to just cakes. It is my pleasure to contribute." Arrangements for donations on a regular basis may be made by contacting Mrs. Frank Moore, director of volunteers, Marin General Hospital.

Lattice Top Crust For Your Peach Pie

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If it's your ambition to turn out one of summer's best delights — a fresh peach pie with a lattice-top crust — here are some suggestions to guide you.

Use freestone peaches; they are easiest to slice. Have the fruit just ripe—not too hard, not to soft.

Dip the peaches into boiling water for a moment or two, then slip off the skins by giving them a tug with the edge of a knife and your thumb.

Use the flavoring that suits your family. We suggest cinnamon in the following recipe, but nutmeg or mace may be substituted.

And so to the pastry. A lattice-top crust needs careful measuring and cutting to look its best and bake its best.

Pastry cloths on which to roll out pie dough and covers for rolling pins make pie-making so much easier than it used to be. The markings on the cloths make measuring a cinch.

Some of these pastry cloths come with wooden rods and metal strips that keep the cloth firm on your work space. And we mean work space! Until recently we had used one of these pastry cloth arrangements on a regular kitchen counter top. In our new test kitchen we have a huge round marble-topped pastry center, and we find the metal strips hold as firm on the rounded surface as they do on a straight one.

If you make pies often, and even if you don't, keep your pastry-making equipment together; beside the pastry cloth and rolling pin and its cover should go a pastry blender and a pastry wheel.

PEACH LATTICE PIE

Pastry for 2-crust pie
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons lemon juice
5 cups sliced peeled peaches
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Prepare pastry and divide almost in half. Using the large half, roll out on prepared pastry cloth to 9-inch size as marked on cloth or to about 1 inch larger around than a 9-inch pie pan held upside down over the pastry. Lift pastry and fit into 9-inch pie pan. Trim edge if necessary, leaving a ½-inch overhang. Roll out second half of pastry. Cut into ½ to ¾ inch strips using a pastry wheel. Stir together well the sugar, flour and cinnamon. Measure lemon juice into a bowl and as you slice and measure the peaches, add them to the lemon juice, tossing to coat the peaches with the juice and keep them from turning dark. Drain off lemon juice (unless you want a tart pie) and mix peaches with the sugar mixture; turn into prepared pastry-line pie pan. Dot with butter. Place half the pastry strips over the pie. Starting at center, fold back every other strip and weave additional strips diagonally across pie, under and over strips until top is covered. Press ends of strips to rim. Fold the overhanging crust up and over and flute the edge. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven 45 to 50 minutes or until pastry is golden brown.

Stuff Those 'Burgers And Grill 'Em

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Ever stuff hamburgers and grill them outdoors?

Once we discovered how fine these burgers taste, we went to town and tried many combinations. Try some of ours or create your own.

Before stuffing, divide each pound of ground beef into eight portions and flatten them well. Arrange the stuffing over half the patties; press the remaining patties over the stuffing. Seal the edges thoroughly, working the meat together with your fingers.

HAMBURGER STUFFING COMBINATIONS

Stuffed hard-cooked egg halves; Use one egg half for each burger. For these mash the hard-cooked yolks with a little butter or margarine and drained pickle relish.

Dry onion soup mix. Use this just as it comes out of the envelope, adding a teaspoon for each hamburger.

FOR A GO-ALONG

Don't serve these stuffed hamburgers sandwiched into buns with the usual strong relishes or your eaters will miss the true flavor of the stuffing.

Skewered Meat, Hawaiian-Style A Tasty Dish

HAWAIIAN CABOBS

2 pounds boneless round or chuck steak (cut in 1-inch cubes)
Unseasoned meat tenderizing salt
¼ cup soy sauce
½ teaspoon ground ginger
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 tablespoon sugar
1 can (14 ounces or 1 pound, 4 ounces) pineapple chunks
1 basket egg tomatoes or 3 medium or large tomatoes

Sprinkle the meat cubes with the tenderizer and pierce with a fork to allow tenderizer to penetrate. Mix soy sauce, ginger, oil, sugar and ¼ cup of the syrup drained from the pineapple. Marinate meat in soy sauce mixture for 1 hour at room temperature, turning occasionally; if you want to prepare meat several hours ahead, refrigerate meat-in-marinade after the hour. Thread beef cubes on 6 long skewers, alternating with drained pineapple chunks and egg tomatoes or quartered medium or large tomatoes. Broil until done as much as desired, turning skewers to brown meat on all sides.

Make Parfait With Custard And Fruit

An elegantly simple dessert is a parfait of cool, creamy custard layered with any summer-ripe fresh fruit, such as strawberries, blueberries, sliced peaches or bananas. No need to miss the fun of serving parfaits because you don't have parfait glasses. Any tall shapely glass will do, whether a footed juice glass, straight-sided wine glass or pilsener. Or, in place of individual parfaits, use a tall apothecary jar or generous glass salad bowl for dramatic service for the group.

No longer is a creamy, smooth custard a tricky dessert to prepare. Packaged Custard Flavor Dessert Mix, available here, has made this a quick, always-certain dessert. The custard mix is cooked with 2¼ cups of milk over medium heat to a full boil. When chilled it has the smooth-to-the-tongue texture and delicate, sweetly bland goodness of the old-fashioned baked custard. Here's the recipe for the fresh fruit parfait. Try the custard also with any sweet and colorful topping, such as jam, jelly and sundae sauce.

FRESH FRUIT PARFAIT
Makes 6 servings

1 package Custard Flavor Dessert
2 cups milk
½ cup heavy cream
1½ cups fresh fruit (blueberries, sliced strawberries, sliced peaches, etc.)

Combine Custard Flavor Dessert and milk in saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixtures comes to a full boil. Mixture will be thin—it thickens as it cools. Pour into bowl and chill until firm.

SECOND SECTION Wed., August 23, 1961 25

CREAMY COOL custard and summer-ripe fresh fruits are layered in an oversize parfait for dramatic service to a group. Arrange in an apothecary jar or a generous glass salad bowl for spooning out the tempting fruit and custard mixture. For simpler service, layer the custard and fruits, such as sliced strawberries, bananas and peaches or blueberries in individual tall glasses or dessert dishes. This elegant dessert is easy to make using creamy packaged custard flavor dessert mix and the choicest of the fruits of the season.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Reception Fetes Bride-Elect On Her Return From Europe

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mrs. Shone (Daisy) Hollingsworth, who returned from Europe Monday and announced plans for her marriage, is being honored this afternoon at an informal reception and greeting party by her friends at the Marin Art and Garden Center with which she has been identified since its beginning.

She and her fiance, Raoul L. Edmunds of Montclair in the East Bay, were feted at the family dinner party hosted Monday night by Daisy's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Kenneth Peters of Ross. Also present were Daisy's daughter, Mrs. Donald Henry of Berkeley and her husband.

The future benedict, a long time family friend, is godfather of Mrs. Henry. The couple will be married in Carson City, Nev. Sept. 1.

Daisy left for England June 15 and made an extended stay with a long time friend. Then she went to Norway, France, Switzerland and Italy and flew home from Amsterdam.

The twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Meyer of Fairhills will be celebrated Saturday at a cocktail party and dinner at the Meadow Club. Among those attending will be relatives and close friends. Present will be the Meyers' daughter, Mrs. Franklin Keebaugh (Diane Meyer) of Sacramento and her husband and their other daughter, Carol Meyer, a recent graduate of San Rafael High School, who has enrolled at San Francisco State College. Also there will be Fred's sister, Mrs. William Vondenberg of San Francisco, her husband and their daughter Joanne, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keebaugh of San Diego and Mr. and Mrs. Mauro Accomazzo, who will fly up from Los Angeles.

The Meyers, who were married in Bangor, Me., have lived in Marin 12 years.

Santa Barbara has been the vacation locale for two Belvedere families. The George W. Goddards will be there until the end of August. The Charles Lennihans and their children have just returned from the Channel City.

IN THEIR NEW HOME in Greenbrae are Mr. and Mrs. R. Keith Dearth, who have had a busy summer. Early in the year they listed their home at 128 Spencer Avenue, Sausalito, for sale. Vacation time came along and they flew back to Lansing, Mich., to pick up a new car, after which they drove to Nashville, Tenn. to visit with the Gilbert Harolds, and then drove back to find their Sausalito home had been sold and the buyers wanted immediate occupancy. Greenbrae being the favored district, and with no time to build a new home, they chose the 242 N. Almenar Drive home. However, a hill has been removed in back of the house to make room for a swimming pool and patio.

Monday evening the family gathered to celebrate Mrs. Dearth's birthday and the first wedding anniversary of the Dearths' nephew James Kane, and his wife, the former Sue Stevenson. Also present were the Dearths' son, Kevin, and his wife, Dana, their daughter, Duveen Ingalls and her husband Alden "Bud" Ingalls, Mr. Dearth's sister, Mrs. Ethel Curtis, and another nephew, Bill Kane. Later the group had dinner at Sabella's.

This evening Mrs. Dearth's cousin and his wife, the Laurence Parkers, owners of the Colonial Rest Home of North Hollywood, will arrive for the weekend, then go on to the Dearth's home at Bijou, Lake Tahoe for the balance of their vacation.

Junior Gray Ladies Capped For Aid With The Retarded

Thirty-three Junior Gray Ladies of the Marin County Chapter, American Red Cross, were capped at ceremonies on Aug. 16. The ceremony, which followed a six-week summer recreation program at Marin Aid to Retarded Children's summer day camp, was held at the Meadow Park School at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Receiving their caps were Mary Albachter, Erica Atkinson, Linda Azevedo, Joyce Asmussen, Carol Bennet, Jeni Ballentine, Carol Bergen, Carolyn Cochran, Jeanne Convis, Carmel Costello, Cathleen Crain, Diane Diebel, Karen Gilbert, Cherilyn Gilboy, Julie Houlter and Patricia James.

This is the third year the members of the Junior Red Cross have helped at the summer recreation program for retarded children, including field trips, games and craft activities and a water safety program. This year 53 volunteers and the children traveled to camp each day by chartered bus provided by MARC, giving them additional opportunity to get acquainted.

Mrs. Frank Duhme, Jr. Red Cross Chapter chairman, presented the certificates and Daryl Hopkins, chairman of educational relations for the Marin Chapter, the pins and stripes. The volunteers were capped by Mrs. Tordis Busskohl, director of MARC's summer program. Others participating in the ceremony were Mrs. Thomas E. Gilboy, chairman of water safety for the Red Cross, Miss Mary Murray, assistant director of the summer program and Carmel Costello, Alexa Shanley, Mary Catherine Taylor and Jeanne Convis.

Peter Pan Chapter Planning A Party

The Greenbrae garden of Mr. and Mrs. James Egger will be the setting Sept. 9 for a party for members of the Peter Pan Chapter of Children's Home Society and their husbands.

The topic of conversation will include the upcoming "Meet the 49ers—Football Clinic," a fund-raising effort scheduled Sept. 16 at Albert Field in San Rafael.

In Health Service

An estimated 2.5 million persons are employed in health service fields in the United States.

Symphony Auxiliary Names Mrs. Schultz As First President

Mrs. Robert L. Schultz of Mill Valley was elected the first president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Symphony Guild of Marin organized at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. John A. Lesoine of Ross.

Others elected were mesdames Eugene Yates, vice president; Charles Smith, secretary; and Roy Michael, treasurer. Mrs. Harold Schutte and Mrs. J. Benton Tulley were named cochairmen of the by-laws committee.

Mrs. John Wolfe, newly elected president of the Symphony Guild of Marin, explained that the purpose of the auxiliary will be to handle the social and extracurricular activities of the symphony and relieve the Symphony Guild of some of the managerial problems of the large organization.

Prospective members were selected by a sponsoring committee composed of the five past women presidents of the Symphony Guild. In order of their respective terms they are Mesdames Robert Maguire, Harrison Leppo, Jack McCarthy, Lesoine and Schultz.

Personal invitations were extended by the committee to women who have served as chairmen of past social activities, women whose husbands are on the Symphony Guild board or women who have been board members themselves.

Present at the first meeting were Mesdames Schultz, Leppo, Yates, Michael, Smith, Schutte, Del Mar Clinton, Hugo Rinaldi, Charles Flammer, Charles Meacham, Arnold Oehler, Rodney Hartman, Berrien Anderson, Edward Ruff, Eugene Ostaggi, J. Paul Oppenheim, John Finn III, George Pritzker, Maurice Soloman and Marion Scott.

Mrs. Powers Symington of San Francisco and formerly of Marin, founder of the Marin Music Chest, sent personal greetings to the neophyte organization, as did Mrs. Norman Livermore of Ross.

Many others who were invited expressed an interest in joining the group but explained that they would be away on vacation at the time of the first meeting.

Events to be directed by the auxiliary will be the Downbeat Tea in September, the Symphony Previews, and the Symphony Ball in January, as well as other activities to be announced.

Plans for the Downbeat Tea were discussed, and Mrs. Lesoine was appointed chairman for the event to be given at the home of Mrs. Anderson in San Rafael on Sept. 20 at 1:15 p.m. Assisting Mrs. Lesoine will be Mrs. Finn, who will be in charge of invitations.

Kay Parmeter To Be Bride On Nov. 25

The engagement and approaching marriage of Kay Irene Parmeter of Sleepy Hollow and Paul Donald Pierce of Fairfax has been announced.

The bride-elect is the daughter of R. S. Parmeter of Sleepy Hollow and the late Mrs. Parmeter. She was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and College of Marin. Vicki Lee Parmeter is her sister. Mrs. B. H. Parmenter of Enumclaw, Wash., and Mrs. J. R. Parmeter of Seattle, are her grandmothers.

The prospective bridegroom, son of Mrs. George Calligan of Yuba City and Farris Pierce of Sacramento, was graduated from Sir Francis Drake and attended College of Marin. He plans to continue his education at the University of Nevada. Diane Pierce of Fairfax is his sister. He is the grandson of Mrs. Eileen Pierce of Yuba City.

The wedding will be an event of Nov. 25.

Award
Made with Liquid Vegetable Oils
margarine
TO PROTECT FLAVOR KEEP REFRIGERATED
Another Swift's Premium Product

—the delicious new kind of margarine that has at least 50% more liquid poly-unsaturated vegetable oil than any other spread your food store sells.

Once you've tried new Award Margarine, we think you'll want to serve it regularly. Every easy-spreading pat increases the amount of desirable poly-unsaturated fat your family eats.

How to collect your 50¢

Cut out the section from the back panel of the Award package which reads, "The new margarine that's made mostly with poly-unsaturated liquid vegetable oil" and mail it to Award, P.O. Box 5466, Chicago 77, Illinois. You will receive a bright new 50¢ piece which will cover the cost of the pound package you buy, the postage you pay, and leave you a few extra pennies. Offer limited to one request per family. This offer expires December 31, 1961.

SO SOFT-TEXTURED IT ALMOST SPREADS ITSELF

Award is somewhat softer than ordinary margarine because it contains at least 50% more liquid vegetable oil. This is the reason it spreads so easily, so smoothly. At the same time, when properly chilled, Award has a texture that is both firm and appetizing.

Your food store knows how important it is to keep Award Margarine in the refrigerator case. You will want to store it the same way at home—either in your refrigerator or freezer.

FOOD AND THE FAMILY

Success, Americanism Seen In 'Steak And Salad' Menu

One of a series of articles on the housewife's and her family's attitude toward food as expressed in a new survey.

By BARBARA HOSMER

Roast beef or steak, baked potato, a vegetable and a green salad, coffee and sometimes ice cream or pie—Is this your favorite menu? Then you belong to the upper middle social strata, social researchers say.

The underlying reason for the popularity of this meal may be its "Americanism" or remoteness from foreign ethnic origins, they suggest. They continue:

"By serving this kind of meal people may be demonstrating how far they've progressed and outgrown their ancestry and how successful and American they've become."

Also, the survey team says, cooking American style seems to have become synonymous with "easy-to-make," and this menu is regarded as easy to prepare, nourishing and filling, as well as good tasting.

But nevertheless a number of housewives who themselves serve this steak or roast beef menu recall fondly the exotic dishes their mothers and grandmothers cooked.

They remember the meals that often took many hours or even days to make, but they themselves feel inadequate to the job of cooking the way their mothers did. Many feel that no matter how hard they try "it will never taste as good as Mother made."

If Mother is still around she is sometimes called into the kitchen to recreate her specialties and these traditional dishes are regarded as a rare treat by the family.

The survey concludes that this traditional cooking is a dying art. Few in the next generation are bing taught to cook the special family or ethnic dishes. They go with the instant potatoes and TV diners, roasts, chops or barbecued hamburgers so the kids can get to Little League lots and the parents to the P-TA or movies. Leisurely meals are reserved for Thanksgiving or Christmas or special birthday dinners.

This is what the researchers found going on among the middle class and upper rungs of American social ladder. They generalize: "the higher the socio-economic group to which the family belongs, the further removed are their meals from traditional cookery."

Dishes of ethnic origin are preserved mainly in the less assimilated groups of Americans. Here traditional dishes are routinely prepared and the family members take this fare for granted.

One wife of German descent said she learned all the dishes she cooks from her mother and landlady in Germany. "I don't cook many American things unless it is hotdogs or such."

Over and over the survey showed that mother was the central influence in transmitting cultural patterns of which foods are an important part until the daughter wishes to be more "American."

Then as the daughter turns away from traditional dishes she turns to newspapers, magazines, books, television and friends' suggestions as sources of food knowledge. They tear recipes from papers and magazines and collect cookbooks, and in turn pass these habits on to their daughters, who experiment with "new foods."

Hadassah Tea Set Sept. 6

The garden of the Sam Kramer home in San Rafael will be the setting of this year's Hadassah Membership Dessert Tea, the annual event sponsored by Marin chapter Hadassah, this year on Sept. 6.

Mrs. Edgar Goldstein, national vice president of Brandeis University and national woman's committee board member of the Jewish Welfare Fund, will be guest speaker. A former vice president of Hadassah's regional board, Mrs. Goldstein has just returned from an extensive tour of Israel.

Special attraction at this year's membership tea will be a diving exhibition by national diving champion, Morley Shapiro. He will be accompanied by two members of the Ann Curtis Swimming School Aquacade. Mr. Shapiro, who currently holds two international military diving championships, is leaving shortly to participate in the Maccabee Olympics in Israel.

Persons interested in joining Marin chapter Hadassah are welcome to attend the Dessert Tea which will begin at 1 p.m.

Mill Valley Pair Plans Europe Trip

They will leave Sept. 2 and go directly to Copenhagen to meet the Schultzes' son, Kenneth, who is a student at Stanford-in-Germany at Beutelsbach near Stuttgart.

Between quarters he has the month of September off and plans to tour the Scandinavian countries, Scotland and England—then go to Paris. Mrs. Schultz and her mother will cover as much of the itinerary with him as they can and will go on to join a tour leaving from London for various places in Europe.

They are looking forward especially to visiting Ragunda near Stockholm, Sweden, the home town of Mrs. Schultz's late father, and to seeing Janey Marsh of Mill Valley, who will be studying music at Salzburg. Janey and Kenneth have been friends since they were children.

Mrs. Schultz and her mother will make the return trip by polar flight from Copenhagen to New York, where they will spend a few days before returning to California on Nov. 10.

Barbecue Is Given By Hardly Able Dancers

BOUND FOR AUSTRALIA

A traveling exhibit showing the American way of life for youngsters is being assembled by the San Rafael J-C Ettes to be sent next month to Adelaide, South Australia. Here packing up the typical playmate dolls of American children are Mrs. Robert Cassassa, president, and Mrs. Gordon Ness, secretary-treasurer. The exhibit of dolls, toys and pictures of American children at play will represent the United States in the Holdfast Bay J-C (Australia) exhibit competition. The San Rafael group will then donate the toys to needy Australian youngsters. (Independent-Journal photo)

Patricia Brady Wed In Sonoma To Richard Leslie

Patricia Ann Brady of Mill Valley and Richard Leslie of Bogalusa, La., were married on July 29 in a 3:30 p.m. ceremony performed by Judge Grimstead at his home in Sonoma.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brady of Mill Valley, recited her vows in a green box suit and black velvet hat, and her bridesmaid, Sue Lewis of Mill Valley, wore a yellow and white silk sheath and white hat. Best man was Grey Homan of Mill Valley.

The new Mrs. Leslie was graduated from Tamalpais High School last June. She has two brothers, Lawrence and James Brady of Mill Valley.

The bridegroom completed his high school education in the U.S. Navy and is now stationed at Mare Island Naval Shipyard. He expects to go overseas shortly and while he is gone Patricia will live with her grandparents in Los Angeles.

FUN WITH FOOD AND HELPFUL HINTS

Breathes there a lad with taste so dead, he never to his Mom has said, "Hey, I'm hungry"? Not in these parts, anyway. And the best cure I know for that empty feeling, is a box of NABISCO Sugar Honey Graham Crackers — made with lots of real Graham flour and pure honey. They're so nutritious, yet they won't spoil young appetites. Sugar Honey Grahams are a wholesome treat for hungry people of all ages.

Every Sunday cook has his own little bag of tricks, but one man I know carries his in a tiny bottle—LA CHOY Soy Sauce. He blends it with honey to make a delicious basting sauce for fowl; with ketchup and horseradish to paint big, fat hamburgers while they cook. Ever try it on string beans—or baked potatoes? LA CHOY Soy Sauce is real magic at a charcoal grill.

Isn't it a joy to find a flavoring extract which won't cook out or freeze out? SCHILLING Flavors are the very highest quality; their full, rich goodness is not lost in the oven or the refrigerator. And their variety—from Vanilla to Banana, Cherry, Anise, a dozen others. SCHILLING Wintergreen gives a piquant touch to pear salad, makes divinity fudge something special!

★ A unique gift which cannot be obtained elsewhere, is this beautiful new hostess apron: Send only $1.25 and 1 label from any Bonnie Hubbard product or a reasonable facsimile, or masthead from this column, to Bonnie Hubbard Hostess Apron, Box 62, Los Angeles 51.

KAISER Foil loves the ladies, and the ladies all love KAISER! And why shouldn't they adore the reliable quilted broiler foil, which preserves food flavors, saves dishwashing, lines drawers and shelves and performs dozens of chores around the house? Need a baking dish or a saucepan cover? KAISER Quilted Foil will pinch-hit, at the barbecue grill or in your own kitchen.

All dressed up in a party dress and a pretty apron, it's pleasant to be the hostess. But the salad must be just right: crisp, tender lettuce, rosy tomatoes, bright green peppers, cut into pretty wheels. The dressing—made with STAR Olive Oil, of course, because gourmets prefer this delicate oil from Lucca. STAR never intrudes; it brings out natural good flavor.

Whether it's a snack for a small boy or a dinner for a group, SCOTT Paper Napkins are right at home. The new Family size is especially good for a dinner or a buffet; they have a deep-quilted texture that makes them soft, like cloth, pleasant to use. And they come in the softest colors, too, making a table attractive, and harmonizing with flowers—good napkins, at a thrifty price.

If cats could talk—oh, I know they do, but sometimes the language isn't always clear! Because if it was, more cats would be enjoying HOLSUM Cat Food, the food which so deliciously blends the flavors of fresh fish and fresh meat that cats love it—and which contains elements to keep a kitty happy and well-fed.

"Who-oo's going to wash the dishes? Ever hear that ghostly voice in your ear? Yes, you KNOW who's going to wash the dishes—but if there is a box of CALGON in the cupboard, you're not worrying. This wonderful water softener works miracles in the dish pan. Add CALGON and let dishes, silver, pots, pans soak; you'll find them clean and shining when you return.

That's all for now! See you next week!

Reed Staffs To Be Feted At Luncheons

Luncheons honoring the teaching and administrative staffs of the Reed Union School District will be held Aug. 30. This annual event, held simultaneously at four homes, will be hosted by the four individual units of the Parents Club.

The site of the Reed School luncheon will be the Rolling Hills home of its president, Mrs. Peter Macgowan. Among the guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pino, Mrs. Adele Augler, Mrs. Nancy Cook and Jack Usilton of the soon to be completed Del Mar school.

Invitations have been extended by the Bel Aire Club to the home of Mrs. L. R. Petersen at Sea Firth. Mrs. Allan Olson is chairman and Mrs. Dick Kenney is unit president.

Belvedere schools vice principal Mrs. Edna Wessell and five teachers will be welcomed the Albert Harris's Lagoon home. Other guests include Miss Donna Staley and Mrs. Katherine DeBrecht, librarian and nurse for the district. Mrs. Peter Curtis is president.

Golden Gate To Convene On Sept. 11

The Golden Gate District of the California Federation of Women's Clubs will be the guests of El Granada Women's Club, El Granada, for the first meeting of the 1961-1962 club year, Sept. 11 at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. G. Frederick Norman, president, will preside and will emphasize the district's theme—"Accent on Achievement."

Following the coffee hour at 9:30 a.m., the call to order will be at 10 a.m. Mrs. Norman will report on the workshops held during the summer for club presidents and chairmen.

Mrs. Park Q. Wray, dean of chairmen of the district, will present all district chairmen and each will present their "outline" for the coming year.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m., by the Princeton Inn. Mrs. Louis Pipkin of 1532 Drake Ave., Burlingame, is in charge of reservations.

Lifelong Patterns For Health Set During Baby's Early Years

"Is mothering really important?" a woman asks. "I have three small children. I'm their slave. Before they came I taught school. I loved it. Now I spend my time doing menial tasks. Any moron could do what I do. I want to go back to teaching. Yet you, Dr. Barbour say mothering is the most important job in the world. Are you right? If so, why?"

I'm right. Here is why. Lifelong patterns of mental health or ill health are set during the first months of life. Character traits are established by the time children are 4 or 5. Do a good job of mothering while your children are little, and their future will be rosy. Neglect them, and it will be black. Your little ones need your minute-by-minute love and guidance.

Dozens of scientific studies back up what I say. One recent report came from a big medical school. Several psychiatrists followed two groups of babies for four years. One group was in a well conducted but impersonal orphanage. The babies got good care, but little or no mothering. The other group had the sort of care you give your children. By the end of the first month character differences could be seen. At three months the unmothered babies were behind in weight and general health. They had more fears. They didn't sleep as well. They caught more colds. At the end of the first year there was a striking difference in mental capacity. By the time they were four the unmothered childrn were marked forever. The other were thriving.

Mountain Theater Locale For Olds-Wirth Nuptials

The Mountain Theater on Mt. Tamalpais was the extraordinary setting for the marriage on Saturday of Marcia Ellen Wirth and Horace Irving Olds Jr., both of Mill Valley.

The 11 a.m. double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Samuel A. Wright Jr., pastor of the Unitarian Church of Marin, in the presence of 35 guests.

When the bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Pragnell Wirth of Mill Valley, was given in marriage by Jack Gibson, her former journalism teacher at the time she was editor of the school newspaper and yell leader at Tamalpais High School, she was wearing a street length beige organza dress and matching circlet with veil.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Gonzalo Pereira of Oakland, was attired in a bouffant street length blue dress and matching veil.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Irving Olds of Mill Valley. The newlyweds then left for a camping trip in the High Sierra and on their return will live in Tiburon.

Both are graduates of Tamalpais High School and attended the college of Marin for two years.

Horace is a student at San Francisco State College, where he is preparing for a career in teaching. His bride has also attended the college and will resume her studies there in January.

Among those attending the marriage ceremony was the bridegroom's grandfather, C. Burnell Olds of Claremont.

Make Sure A Child Hears Well Or Seek Help For Him

With school days just around the corner of the calendar it is more important than ever to make sure your child hears well. Even if he is too young for school, you should be aware of whether his hearing is normal, for hearing and speech are tied together more closely than most parents realize.

A child with impaired hearing will be slow to speak because he cannot imitate sounds he does not hear clearly.

Audiometric testing beginning the year before the child enters school and repeated every three years after is the course taken by one state school program.

Clues to your child's hearing ability are provided with the following tests. In a child 10 days to three months old, the infant usually blinks or moves his eyes or moves his body and cries at the sound of a sharp noise such as a handclap.

When he is from four to six months he will respond with his face or whole body to the sound of a familiar voice, even speaking quietly.

A baby six to 12 months old will turn his head at noises and recognize things such as a door opening have meaning to him. Sounds his own voice makes grow varied and sensible.

Babies from one to two years old should understand some words and pay attention to a quiet voice. They sometimes speak a few words themselves.

After two years the child who hears will respond to things said behind his back and will learn all sorts of words he hears around him. The child with impaired hearing needs special help to learn speech during the two to six years period.

Main Street Housewife Finds European Fashion Too Elegant

NEW YORK (UPI)—A 27-year-old housewife from "Main Street, USA" has been to Rome, Florence and Paris to see the fashion showings of Europe's haute couture houses and come back with only one purchase—a little denim suit.

"It's the only thing I bought and I got it in a little shop in Paris because it was too chilly for my American wardrobe," said Sue Evers, mother of three from Allentown, Pa. "The clothes I saw at the big fashion houses aren't for Main Street, not by a long shot."

Mrs. Evers, whose husband is a draftsman for a cement company, won the high fashion tour in a contest conducted by the Allentown newspapers. She wrote a poem saying she'd like to make the trip because "to meet the people of the world wasn't my destiny."

EVERYONE GRACIOUS

"The trip was everything I ever dreamed it would be," she said. "Everyone was so gracious to me and made me feel at ease. But the designers think only of their elegant audiences when they create clothes. They certainly aren't thinking about housewives like me."

Mrs. Evers said almost none of the evening clothes would do for Allentown and many of the day clothes would have to be adapted to American needs. She did like the sports clothes, especially in Italy, but found them much too expensive.

"They were simple enough in design for me to copy on my own sewing machine, and perhaps I will," she said. "But I won't copy the Bikini bathing suits. Who'd have the nerve to wear one of those in America?"

Mrs. Evers was entertained by mayors, movie stars, and nobility, saw her first opera at Rome's famed Baths of Caracalla, made a television film with Susan Strasberg, visited Paris' naughtiest nightclubs, toured the Louvre, and dined at the best restaurants everywhere. She also had the opportunity of visiting the apartments of two young mothers of her own income bracket in Paris and Rome.

NOW APPRECIATES

"That made me appreciate what I have back in Allentown, believe me," she said. "I'll never take refrigerators, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, supermarkets and laundromats for granted again."

Mrs. Evers said her trip also taught her to be more appreciative of art and music—"something that will make a big difference in my life."

Other things that impressed her were Rome's catacombs, the beautiful manners of European children, the courtliness of European men, and the marvelous food.

"We live in a meat and potatoes community," she said. "I can hardly wait to try fetuccini on my family, and eggplant, too, and buy some mozzarella cheese. Oh, and I want some fresh figs and prosciutto ham and lots of other things. I only hope I can keep my figure."

Rock-n-Roll Fans Now Long Hairs

NEW YORK (UPI) — The first rock-shocked teen-agers have grown up—and so have their musical tastes.

The predictions that rock 'n' roll would lead them to rack and ruin now are being disproved. It turns out that rock 'n' roll has led them to an enthusiasm for better music.

This was revealed in a survey by a maker of phonograph needles and accessories.

Seventy-eight per cent of the young persons questioned have turned to the kind of music they scorned as "square" when teen-agers.

The other 22 per cent still rocks—but not necessarily around the clock. They intersperse the rock 'n' roll discs with plain melodies, the pollsters found.

NWP Leaves Marin But One Alternative--We Must Fight

Decision of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad to abandon the collapsed tunnel at San Rafael came as a shock.

The shock wasn't so much that the railroad was interested in such a move—we had warned in this space that it was likely and again that it was unwise.

The shock was that the railroad was so indifferent to the needs of Marin County that it went so far as petitioning the Interstate Commerce Commission without ever bothering to consult city, county or state officials here or the people of Marin.

We shouldn't be shocked by this callous attitude of the railroad. Recent actions of NWP have shown complete indifference to Marin County, its growth or development. When a group of interested citizens sits down to talk about the county's future, NWP is conspicuous by its absence. In county planning, railroad officials, instead of being leaders, have been among the missing.

Yet knowing all this, it still comes as a shock when a public service agency makes a unilateral decision affecting the welfare of an entire community, takes action to make that decision stick and then comes to the county and tries to explain what they are doing.

Actually, the railroad says soothingly, the only major effect would be in lumber which flows throughout the county from the Redwood Empire, and sand and gravel which travels from the Healdsburg area to the three pre-mix concrete plants in San Rafael.

ONLY lumber and sand and gravel, eh? Well, let's say for the sake of argument, that this is true (which it isn't). Lumber, sand and gravel are the basis of our biggest industry—home building.

Costs of homes in Marin are high enough now. Are we going to be further penalized by increased costs because sand and gravel has to be shipped from Healdsburg to Shellville to Napa to Vallejo to Richmond to Oakland, then ferried to Tiburon and finally to San Rafael?

The alternative is to truck the sand and gravel into San Rafael. Twenty to 40 railroad carfulls per day? In trucks? Added to the traffic already on crowded Puerto Suello Hill?

NWP's decision obviously will have far-reaching effects in ways railroad officials haven't even considered. And no one can possibly say what removal of rail service from southern and central Marin will mean to the county's future.

We can't rely on NWP's protestations at this point that there still will be rail service—to Tiburon and thence by barge to the mainlines. We'll bet there's a little fellow somewhere back in the deep recesses of Southern Pacific's main office (SP owns NWP) who right now is starting work on plans to abandon the Tiburon line.

NWP's precipitous action leaves Marin only one alternative—to fight the application before the I. C. C. with every fact and every argument we can muster.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

PUT YOURSELF IN THEIR PLACE

A shop in Detroit had a sign with these words hanging over its entrance:

"Do unto others as though you were the others!"

Few people have much difficulty in seeking their own personal advantage. It's something else, however, when it comes to showing a like consideration for the interests and rights of the rest of men.

Despite man's tendency to be self-centered, a divine sense of balance is so ingrained in him that he can never wholly forget that he can and should "love his neighbor as himself."

As much as you may overlook or side-step your responsibilities to others, you have an instinctive sureness in knowing how the "others" ought to treat you when you are in a tight fix.

This built-in disposition, instilled in you by God Himself, keeps reminding you that you will never be completely happy until you show the same solicitude for your fellow man that you expect yourself.

"As you would that men should do to you, do you also to them in like manner." (Luke 6:31)

Inspire me, O Holy Spirit, to seek the same material and spiritual advantages for others that I expect for myself.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Vacations Are Like Rehearsals For That Final Retirement Day

How to retire gracefully and enjoyably is one of the major problems more and more people face as living longer becomes a mass human victory as well as an individual triumph.

What do most people really want most to perform, yesterday, today or tomorrow?

During a recent week, when the world and its purpose seemed to be balanced precariously on a fulcrum called Berlin, I took a vacation from the crises that have been our mortal bread and dread for 16 years—ever since the end of World War II.

The idea occurred to me that giving up isn't a necessary virtue and that trying to live a long and planned life is a kind of pleasurable duty.

Here I am in a 150-year-old farmhouse about 50 miles from Manhattan, and it might as well be a thousand or ten thousand miles away from the doubtful reality of human fear, I thought.

It is hot in the city, but it is cool here. I search the yard to pluck from the tomb of dead trees the kindling lumber of bright flame to illustrate the yearning that marches in every fireplace.

Today I can reach up and touch the sturdy low ceilings, and feel a distance in my reach I cannot summon. Years and years before I was born, a minister now dead married here the local couples, before this fireplace.

I go among this place and pick up for a new fire the rotting remnants of trees that saw these weddings—and survived most of them — and I wonder what happened to the honeymoons of the people and the reach to the sun of all the separate trees. What a wealth of death life is!

I sit on the porch in an old-fashioned rocking chair weathered to a wornness by earlier men. I complain about being bitten.

"Here," says the hostess, and hands me an insect gun.

This is too much progress for me on a summer's day. I am not interested in mass assassination. Instead I take an old-fashioned fly swatter.

ROCKING BACK and forth, biding my time, I knock off two daylight mosquitoes and seven houseflies without a miss, a local record for an out-of-town fellow my age.

IT IS TIME to go in, shivering a little, and light the evening fire.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Point Reyes Seashore? No!

EDITOR
Independent-Journal

Point Reyes a National Seashore—No!

The present danger of nationalized land grabs is no longer Cuba, fait accompli, but the private lands of citizens of our own country. Our Founding Fathers are probably whirling dervishes because of the encroachment upon the liberties and rights granted us by the Constitution. And, we as citizens are idly watching these liberties and rights being subordinated by the larceny experts of power-hungry bureaucracies.

Carrying socialism a bit further, the basic concept of Marxism is to reduce everything to the level of the masses; or in simpler terms, take from the few with the ability and ambition to produce and acquire, and give to the majority.

Whether or not the proposed national seashore park at Point Reyes becomes a reality is beside the point. Were it needed for national security it would be another matter but, why must additional land be taken by the government when approximately fifty per cent of California is already public land of either city, county, state or federal ownership?

The population is already being stifled with taxes, and this is just another step toward national bankruptcy, which is exactly what the Soviet would like to happen to the United States.

Pressure groups, including some of our political leaders, could accomplish more for the masses they purport to help, by expending their money, time, and efforts to procure development of the thousands of acres of public land already being supported by the over-taxed populace. Why should people, all in other parts of the other forty-nine United States, be forced to pay additional taxes to support greater land masses, which less than one per cent of the population will ever have time, or care, to see?

Safety is a factor completely disregarded and policing and control has not been touched on. When a child can wander in the Samuel Taylor Park of 2,500 acres for twelve hours in complete wilderness, what would it be in the 53,000 acres of Point Reyes, which is more rugged, more remote, and has the added dangers of bogs, perpendicular cliffs and killing undertows?

In spite of the allure attributed to Point Reyes by the National Seashore Foundation, and the Sierra Club, the area is not suitable for either camping or swimming. One needs a well insulated home to be comfortable in the Point Reyes area throughout the year, including the Summer months.

Many statements have been made about lease-back to "maintain the pastoral scene." Ranches and farms require constant expenditures for upkeep. Would any rancher in his right mind, improve land, buildings and fences that did not belong to him?

Common sense and good business practices require only that property be maintained with "reasonable usage." We must then be prepared to subsidize, by taxes, ranches and ranchers who will "look pretty" from the roadways, to be constructed with even more of our precious tax dollars.

More and more of the freedoms granted by the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, are being lost each day. The so-called "purists" by their green for more and more public land are making our tax burdens so great that ambition is being stultified.

There are those who upon reading this would say, "radical." But, it was this kind of "radicalism" that was responsible for our Founding Fathers, securing our liberty, and now becomes necessary to hold inviolate our remaining precious freedoms.

Sincerely,

ESTHER W. HANKINS

Ephraiam Kishon, who writes a popular daily column for a Tel Aviv newspaper, describes Israel as "sprawled on the shore of the Mediterranean in such a way that half an hour's drive from any point in the country will take you either to the seashore or into captivity at the hands of the Arab Legion."

Once Kishon complained in court about being smacked by a taxicab, but the magistrate quickly put him in his place. "See how Israel has progressed," boasted His Honor. "When the pioneers first came here, some of them had to wait 18 or 20 years before there WERE any taxicabs to knock them down!"

"My mother," boasted a little girl in a Bevery Hills schools, "makes up jokes." "Well, well," nodded the teacher, impressed. "One of those highly paid comedy writers, eh?"

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Let's Look At Communist Claims About Free World And The Facts

WASHINGTON—The Kremlin's upside-down misuse of language is so flagrant that we need to examine it periodically lest repetition make it look like truth.

This may be conventional Communist propaganda, but it is dangerous for the Soviet leaders to believe and to base serious policy on such a massive mis-statement.

Consider a few samples.

SOVIET CLAIM—"State-monopoly capitalism (that's supposed to be us and you can see how the Communists attribute to others the character of their own system) instead of shoring up the capitalist system, undermines it."

WESTERN FACT—Does it? Or is the opposite the truth? After the devastation of World War II, the capitalist system of the United States went to the rescue of the entirety of Western Europe and in an heroic common enterprise of self-help and American aid the economies of all the nations of Western Europe were restored to a level of strength and prosperity higher than before the war.

SOVIET CLAIM — Capitalism is in its "last stages of decay and collapse."

WESTERN FACT—Not only have the U. S. and all Western Europe achieved heights of productivity and living standards beyond anything attained before, but the two countries which suffered colossal war devastation — West Germany and Japan — have achieved high levels of prosperity. They have done this, not by abandoning the private, competitive enterprise system, but by relying upon the free market and free enterprise. And now Britain is setting out to join the European Common Market and to help create a free trading area comparable to the 50 states of the U. S. A. If this decadent capitalism is on its last legs, it is a very healthy sickness.

SOVIET CLAIM—"Capitalism stimulates militarism to a very high degree."

WESTERN FACT — After the defeat of Germany and Japan, capitalist United States radically dismantled its armed forces. Communist Russia did not. Not until the Red Army takeover of all of Eastern Europe and the attack on South Korea did the U. S. begin to rearm.

SOVIET CLAIM — "Modern capitalism has made the market problem extremely acute."

WESTERN FACT — One need only look at the homes, the conveniences of living, the congested traffic, and the stores of America to see that capitalism is distributing the fruits of labor to those who share in their creation as never before. More Americans—and Europeans — are today employed at higher wages with more take-home pay than ever before in history. Western capitalism is not only producing fantastically, it is distributing the vast flow of consumer goods to its people at lower prices.

SOVIET CLAIM — "The inexorable process of decay has seized the capitalist system from top to bottom."

WESTERN FACT — The advanced industrial societies of the U. S., Britain, West Germany, France, Italy, and Scandinavia, have achieved a remarkable combination of individual enterprise and social welfare with constantly expanding social security, retirement pensions, and unemployment insurance.

AND WHAT is Moscow's most upside-down distortion of all? The Communists claim that the "capitalist powers hide behind the specious slogans of freedom and democracy?"

When the Communists are shooting down their own people in East Berlin, you wonder if they are trying to fool themselves—or others.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

Government By Whim Is No Fun To Watch On Large Or Small Scale

The source was a female member of the supervisors' audience as they ground toward conclusion of the final budget.

She looked at the supervisors, but she meant me too. A few days before she'd spoken more at length, and not a word got into the I-J.

This, she explained to me, was a great injustice. She is not a subscriber, she said, and had been put to a world of fruitless bother to borrow next day's paper.

Government by whim is no fun to witness. And I'd nursed a growing conviction that Judge Richard Sims had already coined a telling phrase when a few days ago he warned against "two-bit government" which, he said, Marin doesn't want.

As one taxpayer I don't want it, but I think we're close to getting it right now. There have been some pretty sleasy happenings lately.

Opportunism, rule-breaking and a tendency to toy with sharp practice — how much pride can we take in things to be described in no kinder words?

The biggest hunk of opportunism was not in such matters as a childish piece of higgedly-piggedly to take five cents off the tax rate this year—by postponing civic center payment till next fiscal year. Yes, I know the contractor will get paid if necessary by bookkeeping funny business, borrowing from ourselves. Phooie.

WHAT WAS REALLY bad was that the board ducked its overdue duty to correct inequities in county salary structure. Instead of dealing in straightforward terms of justice with a careful job of analysis showing need for change in 51 categories, touching 151 people, it elected to pick and choose a few. Employees nearest the supervisors are thus nearest the trough.

The sting of what must be construed (somewhat unfairly) as favoritism hits the whole county employee structure. Gratuities for "longevity" and "uniform allowance" are poor substitutes for fairness. This was soon followed by flagrant rule-breaking.

And by historic irony the offender, with supervisorial encouragement, was the one man in the county who should stand for keeping to rules — our sheriff.

Sheriff Mountanos was a rule-breaker when he tore up the personnel system as it applies to his office.

Of course the personnel setup is out of date. As far back as last mid-spring Administrator Bruce sent in a revamp plan on which the board has yet to act. Instead it busied itself in trying to destroy the office of administrator. This brought a public rebuke evidently still not understood.

I HAVE SEEN history made on a stage larger than Marin County, but it's amazing how closely the lessons apply. From 1924 to 1949 I watched China progress from warlordism (just the kind of individual wilfullness demonstrated with charm by our sheriff) to the Fascism of Chiang, then to the Communism of Mao and Chao. This was at least progress toward national system, however bad.

Government by whim, either that of an individual or a group, can't but lead down dangerous paths strewn with sharp rocks.

Are we being honest with our own federal government about Muir Beach Overlook? I say not. We are cutting corners on a moral and legal obligation.

Uncle Sam let us have this at a bargain price on clear condition that we move promptly and steadily to make the overlook safe, and open it to the people. We must report on progress early next fiscal year.

BUT WE SHALL do nothing this fiscal year (and how we can catch up I can't figure) because of two notions:

1—An old wharf out to be replanked to keep splinters out of fishermen's rears.

2—Probably we can kid the feds along a while longer.

One notion is silly, the other dishonorable. Perhaps we can get away with such hanky-panky because up to now Marin has had a good reputation in Washington and elsewhere, and nobody is suspicious of us. Yet, for how long?

Myself, I feel sad and a little sick and I'm running away for a while to a little inn on an island.

SERVICE

is a word that means many things. We'd like to have you know our definition of "Service". We feel that our customers, after they have made their selection, shouldn't have to lift a bag or package or finger until they arrive at their own home. When you approach our check stands—we'll empty your shopping cart. We'll bag your purchases . . . and we'll take them to your car. We thought you might like to know what we mean by service in case you're tired of unloading your cart . . . carrying or pushing your purchase to your car and loading and unloading again. This is our service for everyone—men and women, large orders or just an item or two. It's the best way we can say the "Thanks" that we feel when you shop at Drake.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday. Aug. 23, the 235th day of the year with 130 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1785, American Naval hero Oliver Hazard Perry was born.

In 1879, followers of Mary Baker Eddy obtained a charter in Lynn, Mass., giving them permission to organize as "The Church of Christ, Scientist."

In 1927, two Italian workmen who lived in Boston—Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti—were executed after being convicted of shooting, robbing and killing two payroll guards in South Braintree, Mass.

A thought for today: English philosopher and economist John Stuart Mill said: "Success discloses faults and infirmities, which failure conceals."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden) Gate):

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Different Kind Of Fable For Players Of Bridge

In the old fables, the spendthrift always comes to a bad end to the accompaniment of hoarse chuckles from the frugal type. We write a different kind of fable for bridge players.

Opening lead — ♠ 5

East wins the first trick with the king of spades, and South has the chance to show whether he's an ant or a grasshopper. If he's a frugal ant, he hangs on to the queen of spades and plays the eight of spades on the first trick.

Back comes the queen of clubs, and South wins with the ace. Now South must lose a trump and two clubs even if he cries his eyes out.

GRASSHOPPERS: That shrill snicker you hear is from the grasshoppers. They all managed to throw away the queen of spades at the first trick.

East returned the queen of clubs against them, too but they took the ace of clubs, cashed the two hearts and then led the carefully preserved eight of spades. When West played low, our grasshopper friends finessed with dummy's ten.

This finesse won, and the ace of spades supplied a welcome discard. Score game and ruler for the spendthrifts.

What would happen if East had the jack of spades as well as the king? In that case the spendthrifts would go down two instead of one. The cost would be only 100 points. The difference between making game and going down is 920 points. In other words, South is getting 9-1 odds on an even-money finesse.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid four diamonds. You may shut the enemy out, and at the worst you will deprive them of vulnerable bidding room.

700 Convicts On Fire Line

About 700 inmates of San Quentin Prison and its camps were on fire lines in northern California today.

Seventy-five of the convict-firefighters left the prison proper at 1:45 a.m. today by chartered buses for Redding. The detail was led by sergeants Ben F. Young and T. J. Lemke and other correctional officers. The remaining inmates left from the prison's work camps throughout northern counties, reported Associate Warden Walter D. Achuff.

He said this morning's detail was dispersed from Redding by the State Division of Forestry to fight lightning caused fires in Six Rivers and Trinity national forests.

Marin United Fund Sets Meeting Aug. 31

The board of directors of the Marin United Fund will meet on Aug. 31 at 8 p.m. at the Jewish Community Center, 1618 Mission Street, San Rafael.

Directors of the Marin Council of Community Services will present and interpret the functions of their organization in Marin. Appointments to the 1961 nominating committee will be confirmed by the board.

Two Psychiatrists To Exam Accused

Two psychiatrists were named Monday by Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of Marin Superior Court to examine Leland Rose, 53, Larkspur apartment house owner found guilty last Wednesday of molesting a 6-year-old girl.

Judge Sims named Dr. Samuel T. D. Anderson of San Rafael and Dr. Theo Miller, superintendent of Napa State Hospital, to perform the examinations, and continued the case until Sept. 11 for their report.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

European Common Market Threatens U.S. Exports

NEW YORK (AP)—An all-European Common Market "will in the end be disadvantageous to the United States exports." That is the view of the United States Citizens Committee on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, headed by former Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and former Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton.

Some U.S. manufactured products without doubt will see their European markets dwindle or disappear, and competition here at home increased. But in the long run, U.S. world trade in general should benefit. That is the opinion of William F. Butler, vice president and economist of Chase Manhattan Bank of New York.

President John F. Kennedy stresses his gratification that the United Kingdom wants to join the European trading bloc, but adds: "The enlargement of the European community will necessarily result in some changes in the pattern or trade."

Britain's move to join the current six-nation Common Market will accentuate the increasing urge of U.S. firms to invest overseas in new plant and equipment. This is the prediction of Department of Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges. He thinks total U.S. investment overseas will reach four and one-half billion dollars this year, a gain of 20 per cent over 1960, and Europe should get about 1.5 billion dollars of the total.

Here's how businessmen size up the threats and the opportunities, both short-term and long-term:

Sale of U.S. farm products seem likely to be hurt. The Continental European practice of protecting their own farmers is stubborn. The British seem sure to insist on helping Commonwealth exports. France has commitments to its former African colonies.

Increasing European industrial activity will call for more raw materials, semifinished goods and machinery. Europe itself can't supply all it will need and Americans have a chance, if they can keep prices competitive.

The range of opinion on the long-term outlook is wide.

A growing and steadily more vocal group of American companies complains of the inroads of European goods in American markets—usually with a price advantage rather than just one of style, novelty or snob appeal. They think the bigger European bloc now forming will mean greater efficiency, lower prices, cut-throat competition here and in world markets.

But there's a hard core of dissenters among bankers and especially manufacturers with foreign operations that can be expanded — who think the promised European economic growth will mean more money over there to buy the goods and services we can offer.

750,000 May Attend California State Fair

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California State Fair and Exposition opens next week with housewives displaying knitting and farmers exhibiting livestock just like they did when the fair began in 1854.

Officials predict 750,000 persons are expected to tour the fairgrounds in Sacramento between the Aug. 30 opening day and the time the exhibition closes on Sept. 10.

That wouldn't be a record. A total of 928,000 saw the fair in 1959. But attendance is expected to surpass last year's 705,000.

The favorite attractions at this year's fair will be the ones that were popular in the old days—horse racing, agricultural and homemaking exhibits, horse shows and rodeos.

There'll be two rodeos. For the first six days, riders from 18 schools will compete in the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Championships. During the last six days, professionals will ride in competition sponsored by the Rodeo Cowboys Association.

A new attraction will be the appearance of 102 Mexican folk dancers, singers and musicians, members of the Conjunto Folklorico Del Instituo Mexicano Del Seguro Social.

Other events at the exposition include:

The annual "Maid of California" beauty contest.

Those in charge of the horse racing are hopeful the parimutuel handle will exceed last year's $5,245,302.

There will be 12 races every day except Sunday starting at 12:30 p.m.

This is the 52nd year the big exposition has been held at the present grounds.

The first fair was in San Francisco, in a hall at the corner of Bush and Montgomery Streets. There were plenty of vegetables, flowers and fruits on exhibition.

The next year, the exposition moved to Sacramento. Then it went to San Jose and Stockton. In 1860, it was held in Marysville and then returned to Sacramento for keeps.

Final Utilities Assessments For Hub, Fairfax

Public utility assessments of $1,657,490 for San Anselmo and $641,140 for Fairfax became final yesterday, the State Board of Equalization announced.

The board said the figures were accepted when it confirmed the assessed values adopted for county tax purposes and approved separate utility rolls for cities still doing their own assessing of nonutility properties and collecting their own property taxes.

The valuations as equalized with county assessments were $1,090,450 for San Anselmo and $442,160 for Fairfax, the board said.

Pleads Guilty

Frederick Falch Jr., 38, of 39 Glen Court, Sausalito, pleaded guilty to drunken driving in Sausalito Aug. 18 and was sentenced Monday by Judge Harold J. Haley in Marin Municipal Court to a fine of $184 plus six months probation.

He Learns While He Earns

BLUEPRINT FOR YOUR SON'S LIFE

Good habits formed early in life are the foundation stones of sound character development. Parents cannot hand their son such ready-made habits on a silver platter. But fortunately, there is a way to accomplish this same objective: Provide the boy with an opportunity which will enable him to develop the habits himself. The best opportunity exists in newspaperboy training.

A boy with his own newspaper business develops initiative, tact, thrift, punctuality, and friendliness. He learns the tremendous inner satisfaction which can come from serving mankind in a worthwhile endeavor. It's no surprise that parents consider newspaperboy training as a fine blueprint for their sons' successful future.

Relaxing Enjoyment
A true charmer that is cleaner than new and beautifully landscaped to boot. The trees have grown to a nice size and the deep green lawn is kept that way by the sprinkling system. Sparkling hardwood parquet floors, two fully tiled baths, and formica counter tops make for a minimum of housework. Over the fireplace mantel you can place your cherished heirlooms with pride, and entertain with pleasure on the brick patio. You'd agree that you can leave your paint brush and mop behind.

Library To Show Films For Children

Two films, "Madeline" and "Hen Hop," will be shown Aug. 30 at 1 p.m. at the Mill Valley Public Library in a program which will also include story telling and which will conclude the library's summer reading program for children.

Due to the popularity of the weekly storytelling hour, it will be continued each Monday at 1 p.m. until school opens and following that on Saturdays at 11 a.m., children's librarian Margo Farnsworth said.

'Freedom Highway' Film

"Freedom Highway," a documentary color film on U. S. History will be shown to members of the San Rafael Council of the Knights of Columbus at Star Hall in San Anselmo tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Burdell District Approves Budget

Trustees of the Burdell School District have approved a $12,536 budget for the fiscal year with the same 84-cent tax rate as last year.

The budget includes $4,200 for tuition for students attending the Lincoln School and Petaluma Junior High School, some $6,000 balance from the last fiscal year, with most of the remainder of the income to stand as a balance at the end of this fiscal year.

Five students attended the one-room Lincoln School as the Burdell School was burned down by young arsonists in 1958. The district is supported by ranch families in North Marin.

Rapid Transit Dispute On TV

The controversy over the role of the Golden Gate Bridge in the proposed Bay Area rapid transit system will be aired tomorrow night on television station KQED.

Channel 9's "Profile: Bay Area" show, at 9:30 p.m., will turn its attention to two opposing engineering views as to the feasibility of running rapid transit trains across the bridge.

Appearing on the program will be Redwood City newspaper publisher Raymond Spangler and two Bay Area Rapid Transit District executives, general manager John Peirce and chief engineer Kenneth Hoover.

San Francisco attorney Caspar Weinberger moderates the program.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Building Is Really Booming In Tiburon's Downtown Area

Taking on a new look is downtown Tiburon—and there is more to be seen in that respect than Ernie Van Asperen's Dock restaurant almost completed.

Across the street, John Musso's French Pastry Shop has been torn down and new structural timbers are already up in replacement.

Farther along in construction is the two-story building being erected by George and Fred Mantegani, owners of the Corner Market. It's located practically next door at 1680 Tiburon Boulevard, will have 5,000 square feet of floor space, a redwood rustic exterior and should be completed sometime in October. Felix Warburg of San Rafael designed it.

The structure which still has no name will have stores downstairs and offices on the second floor. We hear that it's already half committed to tenancy. On the list are Don Geddes Realty, Stage Door Cleaners, probably a laundromat and barbershop, and upstairs—Louis Britt Associates, construction engineers.

SPAN Publishing Co. in the Keystone Building, Mill Valley, has changed its name to Oman Publishing Co. but there's no change in ownership. Donald E. Oman, president of the firm, founded it in 1955 as Span which was just unclose enough to his name to be confusing. Oman publishes two business magazines: Pacific Work Boat and Western Meat Industry.

HELEN OF TROY, beauty salon that recently opened at 1502 Grant Avenue, Novato, has installed the latest type of hair dryers, we understand. They don't require nets or much heat.

"No palpitations or burning ears," says Mrs. Edward Sanders who operates the place with her husband. "And they still take only the usual or less drying time."

Fixtures also include reclining chairs, and the Sanders serve coffee and cookies to patrons. All the comforts of a home permanent.

THE 1962 VERSION of the Austin-Healey 3000 has been given more power, says Eugene Sweeney of San Rafael, but body lines are practically the same. The new model is called Mark II and has upped its horsepower to 136 at 4,750 rpm and maximum speed to 120 mph by using three instead of two carburetors.

It's available with or without overdrive, as a two-seater or four-seater and sold with a choice of wire or disc wheels.

VOLKSWAGEN FOR 1962, though now being turned out at the rate of 4,000 a day, won't go on sale in the U. S. until fall, according to Laurie Felton, Marin County dealer. Standard equipment adds will include gasoline gauge, better windshield wipers and steering column lock.

HAROLD M. ENGLE, structural engineer at 1539 B Fourth Street, San Rafael, is as proud as a father can be. His son, Harold Jr., is now associated with him. Recently graduated from University of Southern California with honors, he's already worked in the office during vacation periods when he completed most of the drawings for the Redwood High School additions.

MULTIPLE listing sales in Marin last month were above July, 1960—not substantially but enough to maintain a good level—about three and one-half million dollars total.

Tam School District Gets Ready To Open

Pre-school meetings for Tamalpais District personnel begin tomorrow and continue until the first regular day of school on Sept. 6.

A general session for all staff members will be held in the morning of Aug. 30 in the gymnasium at Redwood High School in Larkspur.

First faculty meetings will be held in the afternoon of Aug. 30 and the morning of Aug. 31. New teachers will hold their first metings in their schools on Aug. 29.

First classes will be held on Sept. 5 for students new to the district. All students will report to all three schools, Redwood, Tamalpais and Sir Francis Drake high schools, on Sept. 6.

Marines To Begin Active Duty Tour

Three Marines from the 14th Rifle Co., Marine Corps Reserve in San Rafael will begin six months active duty at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego Friday.

They will undergo "boot" training for 12 to 14 weeks and then complete the six months at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside.

The three men are Privates David L. Jensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Jensen of San Quentin; Randy R. Keading, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Keading of 728 Bradley Avenue, Novato, and William G. Schendel Jr. of 87 Valley Road, San Anselmo. Pvt. Jensen will be in charge of the detail.

Pear and Pineapple Chiffon Salad

(Makes about 8 servings)

- 2½ cups (5-8) pear halves
- 2½ cups (#2 can) crushed pineapple
- 1 package orange gelatin
- Red food coloring
- 1 cup chopped celery
- ½ cup chopped walnuts
- ⅓ cup mayonnaise
- ½ cup ice water
- ½ cup Carnation Instant Nonfat Dry Milk Crystals
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice

Drain fruit. Reserve 1 cup syrups. Heat syrups to boiling point. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Chill until slightly thickened. Brush pears lightly with food coloring to tint. Arrange in 1½ quart mold. Add celery, walnuts, mayonnaise and pineapple to gelatine mixture. Blend well. Pour ice water into mixing bowl. Add Carnation "Magic Crystals" and whip until soft peaks form (about 3 to 4 minutes). Add lemon juice and whip very stiff (about 3 minutes). Fold into fruit mixture. Spoon into mold. Chill until firm (about 3 hours). Unmold. Garnish with crisp salad greens.

EAST BERLIN—The scene today as photographed by a Marin visitor, hasn't change in years.

By PAUL MILLER

It was like World War II had only ended yesterday.

This is what Howard Wheatley Allen, of 226 Woodland Road, Kentfield told the Independent-Journal today of his visit to East Berlin Aug. 5, a week before its border was sealed.

Allen, a 20-year-old Dartmouth University student and son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howard Allen, had been in Europe since early June. On Aug. 5 he took a $2, four-hour tour of East Berlin.

In West Berlin the same day he had become acquainted with a German his own age, who in 1956 fled with his family from East Germany and later became citizens of West Berlin. The young German accompanied Allen on the tour.

He acted scared, as if he weren't going to get back into the West," recalled Allen. "He told me that it would only be a matter of days before the Communists would close the gate."

Allen said that as he headed east — through Brandenbourg Gate — "it was a strange feeling to cross, for the first time in my life, the Communist border with the blood-reg flag of Communist 'victory' flapping in the breeze.

"Not 100 yards from the gate, the war rubble begins. Buildings flattened, and half standing — twisted, rusting steel girders and weeds intertwined. The half-grown bushes fight for existence in the cracks filled with rubbie and dirt. There are machine gun bullet holes everywhere. We

TANKS IN BERLIN—Two U.S. Patton tanks are parked in Friedrichstrasse today near the border between West and East Berlin. Tanks and a machine gun squad drew up and faced Communist forces. (AP Wirephoto)

U.S. Ponders New Red Curb In E. Berlin

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department said today it still was undecided whether Allied troops and diplomats will obey Communist travel curbs limiting them to one entry point to East Berlin.

"That is a matter which is under study," a department spokesman said. "I cannot answer that at this stage."

17 MILLION PEOPLE

The spokesman, Lincoln White, denounced the Communists for attempting to "imprison 17 million people behind the barbed wire and concrete curtains" of East Berlin and East Germany.

U.S. officials pointed out that last night's new Red curbs still did not interfere with this country's major "vital interest" —western access to West Berlin.

But the restrictions were the first on Allied travel to East Berlin. The ban limited allied forces and diplomats to one entry gate to the eastern zone. It limited West Germans to two entry points and West Berliners to four points.

UNDER STUDY

White told newsmen, "the implications of this latest Communist move are under study by the allied powers."

He said strategy consultation was going on "at all levels"—a group of western ambassadors meeting here this afternoon, special task forces, talks in allied capitals and in the NATO headquarters at Paris.

TANKS, TROOPS

Allies Move Up To Berlin Border

BERLIN (UPI) — American, British and French troops moved into positions along the tense East-West Berlin border today within hours of a communist announcement of new travel restrictions.

An entire American Battle group and "some" tanks were deployed all along the U.S. sector border shortly after the three Western Allied commandants in Berlin heatedly denounced the new Communist East German moves as "illegal . . . brutal and callous."

A spokesman for the Western commanders said they were taking the "necessary actions" to "insure the security and integrity of the sector borders."

The armor-supported U.S. Army battle group of 1,500 men went into position immediately afterwards. The British followed with a company of the King's Royal Rifles, supported by armored vehicles, in their area. And a French spokesman said French army "patrols" were sent to the border in their sector.

The no-nonsense moves by the West followed swiftly on the latest Communist restrictions which went into effect last midnight. The East German Reds reduced the number of crossing points between East and West Berlin from 12 to seven, required West Berliners to obtain passes from the Communist regime to move into East Berlin, and warned citizens of West Berlin to stay at least 328 feet from the border.

Soldiers of the 2nd Battle Group of the U.S. 6th Infantry took up positions here, backed by two tanks. They wore full combat gear with steel helmets, and carried rifles and hand grenades.

Col. John R. Deane of San Francisco, commanding officer of the 2nd Battle Group, personally led a patrol of 12 men along a stretch of the border east of Frederick Street. He said helicopters were taking part in the operation and that tanks taking part had their rendezvous point in the Templehof area.

A U.S. Army spokesman, asked if the men had orders to shoot if necessary, said "The troops are ready for any contingency."

Nehru Says Russ Have Legal Right

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharal Nehru said today the Russians have a perfect legal right, granted to them in 1949 by the Western Allies, to close the East Berlin border.

Nehru gave his interpretation of the current Berlin crisis to the Indian parliament.

He said a Big Four foreign ministers' agreement on June 20, 1949, "diluted" the protocol of Sept. 12, 1944, which set up joint occupation of Berlin.

Joint occupation was ended under the 1949 agreement and gave all parties, including the Soviets, the right to control traffic in their respective sectors, according to Nehru.

EXPERT SAYS SPAN TRAINS PRACTICAL

Rebuttal Heard Of Objections To Rapid Transit

By CHAPIN A. DAY

A "generous reserve strength" originally designed into the Golden Gate Bridge makes it feasible and practical for the bridge to carry rapid transit, a leading bridge engineer reiterated yesterday.

Carl H. Gronquist, New York consulting engineering for the Bay Area Rapid Transit District, made public his answer to Golden Gate Bridge engineer Clifford E. Paine's contention that the span cannot carry trains. He will present his rebuttal in person to the transit directors tomorrow and to the bridge directors on Friday.

STRENGTH, BEAUTY

Gronquist declared there is a complete lack of merit in Paine's objections.

Praising the bridge's original design, strength and beauty, he called it unthinkable that anyone would want to "impair its life, its present usefulness or its appearance."

Gronquist's report then turned to Paine's specific objections to his earlier report on feasibility. He said:

1. Sag of the bridge below the 220-foot minimum clearance required by military authorities would happen only when the bridge was fully loaded with automobiles and filled with loaded rapid transit trains (15 of them on the bridge at once), and the temperature of the main cables would have to be 110 degrees.

SAG EIGHT FEET

Under such severe combination of conditions, the bridge would sag about eight feet below the minimum requirement. And that requirement could be amended by the Army Engineers, he said.

2. To Paine's contention that the transit facilities would overload the cable, Gronquist reported that the two newest suspension bridges, the Lions Gate Bridge at Vancouver, B.C., and The Narrows Bridge in New York (a longer span than the Golden Gate Bridge), both used 90,000 pounds per square inch as the design strength for identical cable wire. Actual tests during construction on the Golden Gate wire showed 95,000 pounds, he said. Even with maximum loads, Gronquist said, only "40 per cent of the actual minimum ultimate

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — One person drowned and two others were missing today in the aftermath of one of this city's worst storms in years.

More than two inches of rain fell on the city last night, flooding streets and dry washes, stranding hundreds of motorists, and gushing into homes and businesses throughout the city.

Carolyn Grubbs, daughter of M. P. Grubbs, drowned when the car in which she was riding was flooded in a wash.

Railroad Will Restore Lincoln 2-Way Traffic

Agrees To Start Job Immediately

The Northwestern Pacific Railroad agreed today to start immediately on restoring Lincoln Avenue for two-way traffic use.

The railroad will fill the hole caused by cave-in of its Puerto Suello tunnel, after removing portions of concrete slab that fell into the hole. It will re-compact the earth and fill to the original grade, said Gregg Linde of Marinwood, NWP division engineer.

The work should be completed in about 10 working days, Linde said. He was discussing the project with contractors this afternoon.

Rawles said the matter of resurfacing the street was left undecided in discussions with Linde yesterday afternoon and this morning. He said he recommended against replacing the concrete paving this fall, because of likelihood the fill would sink slightly during the rainy season. A seal-coat might be applied temporarily, he suggested.

Neither the railroad nor the city committed itself on bearing the expense of paving, Rawles reported.

Linde said this was the second plan offered by the railroad to restore southbound traffic to Lincoln Avenue. He said the railroad made an earlier suggestion on July 26 for a temporary southbound off-ramp paralleling the caved-in portion.

This idea was reported to the city council on Aug. 7 by Rawles, who said it was a joint idea worked out by city and railroad engineers. He reported at that time the railroad had indicated it might participate in cost of the temporary off-ramp if city and California Division of Highways would also participate. The division of highways refused, he said.

Rawles said his approval of filling the hole was not to be taken as meaning he was in favor of abandonment of the tunnel by the railroad.

"My job is to get the street restored," he said. "If they put dirt in it, they can take it out again when they get ready to re-open the tunnel. In the meantime, traffic can move both ways over Lincoln Avenue."

He forecast the job will be completed within two weeks.

WEISSICH FINALLY WINS A PARKING TAG DISPUTE

William O. Weissich, former Marin district attorney, who lost a parking tag fight in Marin County last year, won a similar battle in San Francisco yesterday.

San Francisco Municipal Court Judge John W. Bussey ruled in Weissich's favor on three parking tags which Weissich fought. The tags were issued against W. O. and/or Rosemary Weissich. The attorney contended that the ticket presumes both he and his wife were driving the same car at the same time and therefore is unconstitutional. Weissich thus beat $9 in fines.

But in Marin County, Weissich and his wife lost the same argument and paid a $20 fine. He appealed the Marin decision, but the appellate division of Marin Superior Court turned him down in a 2 to 1 decision.

Quentin Felon Wants Death Date Speeded

A San Quentin Death Row inmate, who doesn't care to live on borrowed time, asked yesterday for someone to hurry up and set his execution date.

San Quentin Prison officials indicated today that cop-killer James Kendrick, 29, may soon get his wish. Associate Warden W. D. Achuff said San Bernardino County Superior Court is expected to set the execution date within the next few days.

Kendrick was serving time for robbery and assault in December of 1959 when he escaped from San Quentin. He was caught after gunning down a highway patrolman in San Bernardino. He entered Death Row on June 19, 1960.

Kendrick's petition was sent to Marin Superior Court.

"The petitioner's time is valuable," Kendrick wrote. "If he is kept up here two or three years and then executed, there is no way I can get even for all the extra time spent here."

The killer claims that time spent on Death Row is lost, and "it is cruel to this petitioner as I am not allowed sunshine and fresh air." He fears that if he is not executed soon, he'll have to buy Christmas cards again this year.

"It must be noted that this petitioner is not asking for mercy; he is asking for action," Kendrick concluded.

Judge Thomas F. Keating denied the petition without official comment. He noted that the request for an execution date should have been sent to the Southern California court which convicted Kendrick.

Larkspur Street Is Still Sinking

Doherty Drive, Larkspur's roaming street, today continued to move toward the Corte Madera Creek slough, in spite of two days of intensive filling by city street crews.

This morning, the 225-foot section had sunk another six inches into the mud.

However, work on gutters and paving on the portion which has not slipped was resumed this morning by Brown-Ely Co. of San Rafael, the contractors.

The section where the slipping has occurred repeatedly since Aug. 3 will not be paved at this time, said City Manager Ronald E. Piper. Instead, after the migrating portion has stopped moving, it will be given a temporary oil sealing for the winter, Piper said.

11 Die In Collision

BELGRADE (UPI) — At least 11 persons were killed today when a crack passenger train collided with a freight train outside the Breska station between Belgrade and Novi-Sad.

Policeman Tied To Hijacking Of Marin Car

A San Francisco policeman denied from a San Francisco City Prison cell today that he hijacked three cars — one of them from a Mill Valley resident—in downtown traffic last evening.

Richard Ferguson, 26, a policeman for a year, was booked on four counts of robbery and kidnaping.

WHAT HAPPENED

This is what happened, according to San Francisco police reports:

A wavy-haired gunman jumped into the pickup truck of Louis H. Wayers of 9 Amicita Street, Mill Valley, at 4 p.m. at Market and Octavia Streets. He brandished a .38-caliber revolver at Wayers and ordered him to "drive north."

The gunman then leaped out, climbed into the car of Douglas McCune of San Francisco and gave him the same order. McCune drove. But his car stalled a few blocks later. The gunman then ran to the car of James Martinez, a San Francisco longshoreman. Forcing Martinez and his wife, Carmela, from the auto at gunpoint, he sped away in it.

CAR FOUND

The Martinez car was found abandoned a block and one-half from Ferguson's home.

Meantime, two other patrolmen picked up Ferguson downtown after receiving a report of "a man acting peculiarly."

Fingerprints on all three hijacked cars were those of Ferguson, police said.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Writer Dies

SAN DIEGO (UPI) —Billy Miller, a member of the prolific two-man team who wrote novels under the names of Wade Miller and Whit Masterson died yesterday in Grossmont Hospital. He was 41.

Miller and Bob Wade, also 41, wrote 33 novels, many of which were filmed in Hollywood. The 29-year partnership started in junior high school.

Slayer Executed

CARSON CITY (UPI)—Thayne Archibald, 22, was executed in the Nevada State Prison gas chamber today for the 1959 murder of 17-year-old Larry Waters.

He entered the chamber at 6:10 a.m. The lethal cyanide pellets were released into a vat of acid at 6:16, and he was pronounced dead by the prison physician at 6:21.

Before the pellets were released, Archibald looked out of the glass window separating him from the witnesses, and smiled and winked at prison psychologist E. Wesley Hiler, who had spent the night with the condemned man. Hiler said Archibald had told him early this morning he was overcome by "a feeling of love for the whole human race."

Goldwater Kin

Goldwater, in the Los Angeles area to make several speeches, was notified of the birth and visited the mother and his grandson.

Joanne and her husband, Dr. Thomas Ross, have two daughters, Carolyn, 3, and Cynthia, 2, in addition to the latest arrival—named Thomas Michael. Thomas weighed 8 pounds, 13 ounces at birth.

Building Sale

The world's tallest skyscraper was sold by the Empire State Building Corp., headed by Col. Henry Crown who left school at 14 to work as a $4-a-week shipping clerk. The buyer was Lawrence A. Wien, head of an investment syndicate who apparently thinks tall. He once almost bought the Chrysler building—second tallest skyscraper in the world.

The contract signed in Newark, N.J. is effective Dec. 27.

Paris Bombings

No one was injured by the blasts, but property damage was heavy from the putty-like plastic on the outside of buildings housing Gaullist politicians, writers and other liberal personalities.

Fire Spreading

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Six Rivers National Forest fire in northwest California gained momentum last night.

W. W. Spinney, Six Rivers supervisor, said the fire had burned over 2,000 acres. He added that a predicted cold front today with resultant winds could whip flames across even more acreage.

More than 500 men were on the lines yesterday. Another 121 Eureka lumbermen joined the fight this morning. Five helicopters and seven borate-dropping planes helped battle the blaze.

Italy Sabotage

BOLZANO, Italy (AP) — Saboteurs dynamited an electric pylon last night in Italy's troubled Alto Adige (South Tyrol), then fired machinegun bursts for 15 minutes at investigating troops and police.

The troops and police returned the fire, but apparently no one was hit and the terrorists escaped in the dark. The area, the Val Passeir near Ponte Clara, is mostly thick mountain forest.

Another group of terrorists fired shots at a power station near Appiano but there was no damage.

No Honeymoon

MIAMI, Gla. (AP) — Georgine (Gigi) Gorman, 18, and her family today planned a short vacation "to get away from things and think for a little while."

The pretty debutante was to have been married a week ago to Robert M. Oliver III but left a note and disappeared after the wedding rehearsal.

"She is only 18 and she did not start going with Bob until July, so it may have been too hurried, too quick," her mother, Mrs. Harold Dale Gorman, said.

Gigi's mother said 400 wedding gifts are being returned and wedding plans are off.

X-Ray Proposal

PASADENA (AP) — A radiation expert says exposure to X-rays could be reduced 67 per cent without hampering the quality of medical treatment.

Dr. D. W. Moeller, chief of radiological health training at the Taft Sanitary Engineering Center in Cincinnati, addressed an institute on X-ray protection at Cal-tech yesterday and advocated use of a cone to limit the size of X-ray beams on an aluminum sheet in front of the machines to filter weak rays otherwise absorbed by the patient.

Teaching Proposal

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Dr. Herbert McClosky, University of California professor of political science, says high school students must be told about both democracy and communism.

McClosky spoke here yesterday to a group of California educators who met to discuss teaching the two political philosophies in the public schools.

McClosky maintained that adults with a limited education tend to misunderstand democratic concepts.

Covered With Greasy Cream — Poison Oak Itch Still Unbearable...Moans Meter Reader

I looked like a walking ghost, covered from head to foot with grease and dried up scaling creams. But the poison oak itch was still driving me crazy.

A neighbor told us she'd used BATHE-AWAY on her youngster.

That night I BATHED-AWAY THE ITCH AND RASH OF POISON OAK with one application of this invisible delicately scented lotion. I threw away all the grease and ointments!

We keep BATHE-AWAY POISON OAK right in the medicine chest ready for use anytime. Soon as I've been exposed, I come home and BATHE-AWAY POISON OAK before it gets a start! See your druggist at once.

Senate Racket Probers Looking Into Gambling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate racket probers, having heard and seen how gamblers stack the deck in their favor with rigged equipment and crooked officials, explore today the ways hoodlums cheat on taxes and prey on race tracks.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, called for testimony from Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer E. Caplin and Angelo Rosetti, a Boston race wire operator.

The subcommittee described Rosetti as the operator of Sports Day Weekly, a race wire service.

In yesterday's first day of hearings, the senators witnessed some startling demonstrations of paraphernalia used by crooked gamblers in illicit card and dice rooms.

They also heard how off-the-track bookmakers try to get the jump on their bettors by constantly attempting to get reports of horse race results well before any customer can get the word. The fast report gives the bookie a dual advantage: A chance to accept more bets on horses that lost and a cast iron assurance no patron can bet a known winner.

The subcommittee, heard an estimate that the total play handled by illegal handbooks may be 50 billion dollars a year, from which the bookies' profit would be about five and one-half billion dollars.

John Scarne, who described himself as "somewhat of an expert" in protecting the public from being fleeced by gamblers, gave the estimates and charged that 750 million dollars of this money is spent each year to "corrupt law enforcement officers."

He said he is employed by the Hilton hotel chain and the governments of Panama and Puerto Rico.

Scarne described elaborate tricks used to introduce marked cards into poker and other card games. Of every five poker games where the stakes are as high as $10, he said, at least one of them has a professional cheat among the players. He estimated that 40,000 marked decks are in use in the country.

Paul P. Karnov, a Chicago manufacturer, testified his firm sells loaded dice, marked cards, rose-colored contact lenses with which "to read the backs" of marked cards, and trick mirrors used by gamblers to see the hands of other card players. He said he is president of the H. E. Mason Co., also known as the K.C. Card Co.

Jury Dispute In Negro Rider Trial

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Attorneys begin selecting a jury today for the first Freedom Rider appeal trial in Hinds County Court in the wake of an overruled defense move to toss out the jury list.

He arrived in Jackson May 24 in the second of two busloads from Montgomery, Ala., the first wave of the riders to move into Mississippi. A city judge fined him $200 and suspended a 60-day jail sentence after police arrested him for refusing to leave a segregated waiting room in a bus depot.

NEW RESTRICTIONS

Kennedy Keeping Eye On Crisis In Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy was reported today to be keeping a close watch on reports of new East Berlin travel restrictions.

Aides declined immediate comment pending a study of official dispatches and consultations with the Western allies.

A Western Big Four ambassadorial working group which has been considering the German issue planned to meet at the State Department.

A major consideration for U.S. strategists was just how far the new Red restrictions go. The allies have been following a policy of tailoring their reactions to Red pressures on Berlin in accord with the importance of Communist acts.

The Red East German regime said that under its new restrictions, West Berliners would now have to get passes from the East Germans in order to enter East Berlin. Foreign diplomats and occupation personnel were told they could enter East Berlin only through one check point.

After the Aug. 13 Communist barricade of the East Berlin border, which had applied to East Berliners and East Germans, the Western allies added to their garrison in West Berlin. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson flew to Germany to demonstrate U.S. determination to stand firm.

U.N. Members In Dispute Over Tunis

Britain and African nations still allied with France were working behind the scenes to water down the resolution submitted by 31 Asian-African nations and Yugoslavia. The object was to win support of the United States and other friends of France, by removing implied censure of French actions in Tunisia. The resolution's sponsors said they didn't need that support.

Tunisia and her supporters were confident they could muster well over the two-thirds vote required to adopt the resolution, which calls on France to withdraw her troops from territory seized during the July fighting around the Bizerte naval base and to join Tunisia immediately in negotiations for a complete withdrawal of French troops from Tunisian soil.

Sponsors of the resolution rejected a suggestion from Britian that they eliminate the call for withdrawal of French forces from Tunisian and the pinpointing of France's role in the dispute.

Spade Cooley Given Life In Prison

BAKERSFIELD (AP) — Spade Cooley, who parlayed six cents and an old fiddle into fame and fortune as the "king of Western swing," was sentenced to life in prison yesterday for the murder of his wife.

The unexpected climax of the case followed a dramatic meeting between opposing attorneys and Superior Court Judge William L. Bradshaw while Cooley was preparing to show he was insane April 3 when he beat and stomped his wife, Ella Mae, 37, to death.

The jury which Saturday found Cooley guilty of first-degree murder was to rule first on the insanity plea and then set the penalty if Cooley, born Donnell Clyde 50 years ago in a storm cellar near Pack Saddle Creek, Okla., was judged sane.

After the conference in Judge Bradshaw's chambers, Cooley's attorney, P. Basil Lambros, conferred for more than an hour with his client, who then waived his right to a sanity trial and also waived his right to have the jury set the sentence.

Reuther Snubbing Big Three —Courts American Motors

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, is snubbing the Big Three car makers and courting little American Motors Corp. in the home stretch of labor contract negotiations in the auto industry.

His strategy appeared today to be to persuade American Motors to improve on its profit-sharing offer, make a quick settlement with AMC and then use it to pry out from General Motors, Ford and Chrysler something better than they offered yesterday.

Reuther called the Big Three offers—identical except in minor detail — "woefully inadequate."

GM, Ford and Chrysler offered a minimum 21-cent hourly increase in wages over the next three years and fringe benefit improvements which the union said would only cost the companies a cent an hour. The companies said the fringe benefit costs would be substantial.

Auto workers now average $2.80 an hour plus fringe benefits of between 35 and 40 cents.

Present contracts at the Big Three expire eight days hence. The AMC contract runs out a week later.

Today a tenth of the earth's surface lies under ponderous ice. Antarctica and Greenland account for most of it but there are small mountain glaciers in many parts of the world.

Deputy County Coroner Post May Be Named Next Week

Appointment of a chief deputy county coroner, authorized by the Marin supervisors during the closing phase of budget discussion, will probably be announced sometime next week, Coroner Frank J. Keaton said today.

"I'm making a study of just what is needed," said Keaton. "Actually I know pretty well but I want to be sure we get the right man for the job."

As authorized by the board, the post will be one of regular salary of $6,660 a year.

"You may assume the assistant wouldn't work for Keaton's Mortuary," said Keaton. "The only reason the coroner's office is at the Keaton address is to save the county space and money."

The board of supervisors' vote authorizing a chief deputy was 3-to-1 with chairman William D. Fusselman absent and Walter R. Castro dissenting.

Police Piece Together Goya Painting Theft

LONDON (AP) — Detectives believe that the thief who stole the $392,000 Goya portrait of the Duke of Wellington hid with it for more than 12 hours in Britain's National Gallery, then walked out with it under a topcoat or in a briefcase.

The 19th century masterpiece, center of a British-American controversy over its ownership earlier this summer, was taken from its place in the gallery Monday night. The theft was discovered yesterday after the gallery opened.

The head and chest portrait of the Iron Duke, Britain's victor at Waterloo, was last seen by the gallery's security guards at 7:40 p.m. A guard noticed it was gone at 10:08 p.m. and reported it, but it was thought it had been moved to another part of the building since the fragile panel on which it was painted was due for repair.

The theft was established after the gallery's staff reported for work yesterday morning. Detectives combed the big classic-style building on Trafalgar Square for 10 hours. There was no sign of forced entry and no word that significant fingerprints had been found.

Investigators evolved this theory:

The thief hid himself inside the gallery just before closing time. From his hidding place he timed the movements of the five night security guards. Then he nipped out when the room was empty, grabbed the painting and scurried back to his hiding place. When the gallery filled with visitors in the morning, he calmly walked out with his loot.

Guards were placed on airfields and ports amid speculation that the theft was the work of the gang believed responsible for a rash of art thefts in France. Only 10 days ago eight Cezanne paintings valued at two million dollars were stolen from the museum at Aix-en-Provende.

The Cezannes were covered by insurance but the Goya was not.

8-Year Study Planned For Novato High

The study will follow students from freshman through high school graduation and for four years beyond to find how the high school has served and what changes may be needed, trustees heard last night.

The trustees meeting was devoted to discussion of high school programming, class loads and philosophy.

Trustees generally agreed they would consider setting a policy on low and high class loads later in the fall, to be applied to the 1962-63 school year.

The board heard that about 600 man hours are needed to set up each year's class schedule at the high school and that administrators were checking the possibility of using data processing machines in the work.

Trustees set for 8 p.m. next Tuesday a meeting at district office to set policy on some 15 requested interdistrict transfers from the San Jose to Novato district. Also on the agenda will be possible purchase of a trampoline for gymnasium classes and a tractor for grounds work.

Novato Approves Streets Measure

A new policy for division of construction costs for city street improvements was approved last night by the Novato City Council, with the understanding that it will be changed if found unworkable.

Councilmen had continued discussion of the policy from their Aug. 8 meeting when some thought it too expensive for homeowners. But last night, after a thorough explanation by Charles A. Joseph, city public works director, they agreed to it.

"I can't see a more fair policy," commented Councilman Charles R. Johnson.

"I certainly hope we can liberalize it — and soon," said Councilman John J. Angeloni.

Under the policy, the city would make no contribution for improvement of residential streets. On major city streets, which benefit property owners and the general public, residents would be responsible for right of way up to 50 feet; the city would pay for any additional needed. Property owners would pay for construction of parking lanes, curbs, gutters and sidewalks. The city would pay for construction of the traffic lane portion of the street. Property owners would pay for storm drainage up to the cost of a 24-inch diameter pipe; the city would pay the difference for anything larger.

"During the early years of the city's life, the limited funds available for street improvement must be expended where they do the most good," Joseph concluded.

In other business last night, the Novato Council:

1. Received a petition from Robert S. Goldener, 1704 Center Road, with 14 signatures, asking that the city install stop signs, construct dips in the road and more closely patrol Center Road to slow speeding motorists. The council heard from police that enforcement already had been stepped up and that they were considering signs.

2. Approved the Cross Roads Shopping Center master plan for construction at Highway 101 and Novato Boulevard, but with questions on whether the center ever will actually be constructed or whether it is just speculative.

3. Approved an ordinance setting the requirements for operation of private police in the city.

4. Set Sept. 12 as the date for discussion of an ordinance which would prohibit home solicitors unless invited by a householder.

Novato Council Approves Two Cab Companies

The Novato City Council last night approved operation of two taxicab companies in the city. But Louis Warden, operator of one of the companies, said he would protest the decision.

Councilmen approved operation of Warden's Novato Yellow Cab Co. and the Novato Cab Co. of Mrs. Consuelo LeCam, each to operate two taxis upon city approval of their drivers.

Councilmen voted 3-1 in favor of granting the two permits. Mayor Wayne Womack voted "no" and Councilman John J. Angeloni abstained.

Warden was "somewhat at a loss" at approval of both companies, his attorney, Robert Carrow, told councilmen after the decision. He plans to "explore the possibility" of a review Carrow said.

"There is only enough business in Novato for one cab company to operate efficiently," Carrow told councilmen. Marcel LeCam, manager of the Novato Cab Co., said he favored operation of two companies.

Youth Struck By Roof 'Fair'

Gerald Shafer, 16-year-old laborer struck by the falling roof of an old house in Mill Valley yesterday, was reported in fair condition with a possible broken back today at Doctors Hospital of San Leandro.

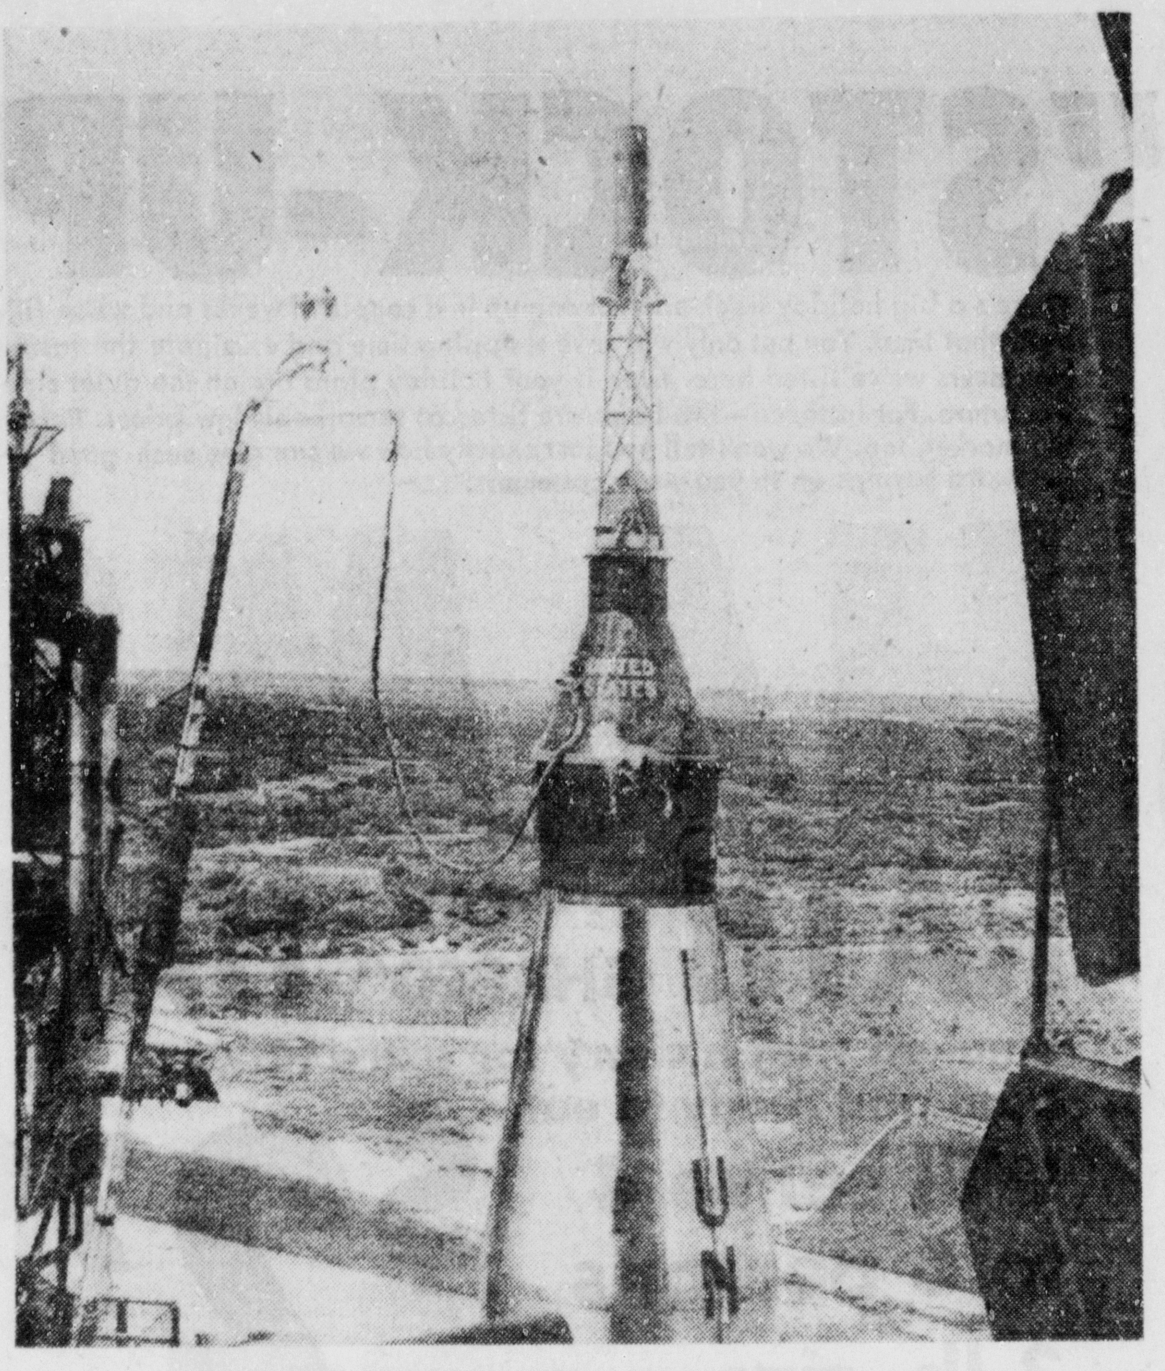
Shafer, a resident of San Leandro, was transfered by ambulance from Marin General Hospital yesterday afternoon. Attendants at San Leandro said the youth's injury could not fully be determined until he was strong enough to undergo examination.

Shafer was one of three men tearing down the house at 299 Miller Avenue for H. F. Bretschneider Co. of San Francisco.

Engineer Contractor's License For Marinite

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The Contractors' State License Board announced it plans to issue a general engineering contractor's license to Wilson & Chadwick Construction Company, Inc., San Rafael, if no protest is received by Sept. 7.

The firm listed its officers as Joe D. Wilson, president; Berlram M. Thomas, vice president and manager, and Howard O. Chadwick, secretary.



MERCURY ATLAS READIED

Latest U.S. Satellite Space Shot Turns Out To Be Only Half Failure

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The United States fired a satellite launch platform into orbit today but it failed to send a piggy-back payload on a projected million-mile round-trip into space.

It was indicated — but not immediately certain—that the two units did not separate.

Nevertheless, scientists expected signals from the space craft to yield some measure of valuable data. The purpose of the flight was to test techniques for launching future vehicles to the moon, Mars and Venus.

A powerful Atlas-Agena rocket blasted off at 5:04 a.m. The Agena second stage spun into a "parking orbit" from which the 675-pound payload, Ranger I, was to have been flung into space.

The Agena, with power shut off, was designed to follow its orbit for 14 minutes until it reached a proper point before reigniting to build up speed to 23,800 miles an hour and kick Ranger loose. Ranger was intended to go into a highly eliptical orbit with a high point of 500,000 miles. The Agena was to continue on a path about 100 miles up.

But the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced three and one-half hours after the launching that the Agena rocket stage and the space craft are in a near earth orbit rather than the highly eccentric orbit planned for the flight.

Exact orbit details were not known. It is possible, an official said, that the two vehicles are in separate orbits, close together.

Officials said radio data from the orbiting vehicle is being analyzed to determine why Ranger I did not separate.

"Primary mission of the flight was to test operation of the space craft. Since data are being received it is likely that this objective will be achieved in part," they said.

Earlier James D. Burke, Project Range manager, had reported all communication lost. At that time it could not be determined whether any part of the device had gone into orbit.

The last affirmative word, some 50 minutes after blast-off, had been that the second stage of the big booster had fired on schedule a second time, after cutting off as planned for a coasting interval. The second firing was to have injected the package into orbit for the launching of the piggyback rider.

NASA had hoped the flight would prove the feasibility of the space launch platform system and test techniques for sending future space vehicles to the moon, Mars and Venus.

Another rocket and payload, Ranger II, are available to repeat the mission. That effort is tentatively set for late fall.

AEC Exports To Havana Tightened

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission clamped tighter regulations today on the export of radioisotopes and other atomic material to Cuba.

Under the new order, only radioisotopes usable in medicines, pharmaceutical preparations and for medical diagnosis or therapy can be shipped to Cuba.

Anyone trying to export other radioisotopes to Cuba must obtain specific licenses from the AEC. In addition, the AEC imposed the same licensing requirements on shipments of source materials such as uranium or thorium.

Until today, such shipments were allowed under a general AEC authorization.

The AEC said that no applications for the export of source material to Cuba have been received since January, 1960. The commission said that "most of the byproduct material exported to Cuba before that date appears to have been for medical purposes."

The AEC said its order was issued to bring its regulations in line with those of the Commerce Department in restricting exports to Fidel Castro's regime.

Radioistopes derived from atomic materials have come into widespread use in industry and agriculture as well as medicine.

The commission noted that until now any radioisotope subject to AEC control and having an atomic number 3 to 83 inclusive could be exported to Cuba under its general authorization.

The AEC announced: "The commission has now limited this authorization to radioisotopes contained in medicinals, pharmaceutical preparations or in devices, applicators or appliances designed for use in medical diagnosis or therapy."

Lagunitas Schools Meeting Tomorrow

Bids for a science demonstration, tables, benches and a tote tray are to be opened by Lagunitas School District trustees at their meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Lagunitas School.

Reports on the addition to the schoolhouse, now under construction, are scheduled, along with numerous reports by Supt. Clifford L. Frye regarding plans for the new school year.

Purchase of furniture for the new classrooms will be discussed, said clerk Marietta F. Larsen.

Recorder Office Will 'Stay Put'

A "crash attack" by four Marin County title company representatives caused a majority of the county board of supervisors late yesterday to vote to keep the recorder's office in the San Rafael courthouse.

By 3-2 vote the supervisorial majority bowed to wishes of the companies and agreed to let Recorder Noel T. Giacomini and staff "stay put" in present quarters for at least one year beyond next spring, the time which had been scheduled for moving the office to the civic center. Voting for the one-year delay were Chairman William D. Fusselman and Supervisors J. Walter Blair and George Ludy.

Administrator Alan Bruce reported Sonoma and Santa Clara Counties, in the face of similar objections from title companies, moved their recorders and came out all right. He said both counties recently established new administration buildings out of the congested business district and moved their recorders out with the "first wave" along with auditor, tax collector and assessor. Despite complaints beforehand by title companies, banks and attorneys, the fussing soon died down and all has gone smoothly, Bruce reported.

"This happened elsewhere and may or may not have bearing here," he said.

Clyde Stevens of Marin County Abstract Co. thought it didn't, apparently. In a long presentation as main speaker for the title company group, he maintained that service to the people would best be furthered by keeping the recorder in present quarters.

He said the five title companies now have five representatives constantly shuttling back and forth searching titles and answering queries from the public about restrictions, easements and other matters. Such information isn't in the companies' files because they have been duplicating official records by photography only since 1948, he reported.

At the civic center, he said, company representatives could make only one trip daily and inquirers might wait 24 hours.

He said the companies would not object to a move by the recorder when courts and clerk move, presumably in the second stage of construction.

Steven's statements were supported by Paul Leahy of California Pacific Title Co., Aldo DeSoto of Trans Western Title Co. and Ralph Croker of Pacific Coast Title Co. of Marin. Croker said that in Sonoma the recorder has well laid out space of 8,500 square feet as compared with an estimated 3,600 square feet assigned to the recorder at the civic center.

Architect Aaron Green pointed out that the recorder's initial location in the administration building would be only temporary. When the next structure is built he will get larger quarters.

Bruce said the Sonoma location also is only temporary and in the second stage of Sonoma's building the recorder will move into much smaller space.

Green said there would be no technical problem involved in leaving the space open for a year, since plumbing and electricity could go in at any time. Delay in a recorder move would let him remove a partition toward the lunch room and provide more space for it.

Giacomini said his personal concern was only with the problem of space.

Proposed County Nursing Home On KTIM Panel

Three proposals for a new county nursing home for the elderly, to be financed without a bond issue, will be discussed on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Participants will be County Administrator Alan Bruce; Frank E. Marsh, president of International Industrial Institute, who submitted a plan to the county for private financing of a nursing home; George D. Monardo, Mill Valley city councilman and administrator of Franklin Hospital in San Francisco; James Moore, administrator of Marin Medical Center Hospital, and Dr. Wilson W. Goddard, president of the board of Marin County Hospital District, which operates Marin General Hospital.

Kitty Oppenheimer will moderate.

Hospital Wing Frame To Start

Framework for the new William Babcock Memorial Wing of Marin Hospital should be up by the first of the year, hospital administrator W. W. Turner last night told the hospital directors.

Concrete foundations are being poured for the laboratory and physical therapy addition, and structural steel will be delivered next week, Turner said. The progress report on the building was the main topic of a short meeting of the directors.

Hamilton Squadron Seeks Huge Trophy

The trophy is awarded annually for top squadron work in every phase of cooperation from administration through maintenance and flying efficiency. It is awarded by the Air Defense Command for the best in the Air Force.

The announcement of the trophy winner is expected Friday. Hamilton offices would neither confirm nor deny that the squadron was in the running.

The 83rd is commanded by Lt. Col. Arthur Owen Jr. Commander until last spring was Lt. Col. Robert B. Goetz. The squadron is one of two at the base, flying F-101 jet fighters under the 78th Fighter wing commanded by Col. Harvey E. Henderson, who also is base commander.

Education Funds For Marin County

Marin County last year received $25,363 in federal funds to improve science, mathematics and foreign language classes, Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction, announced today.

He said the funds went for 13 projects, bringing Marin's receipt of federal funds for such classes to $88.986 since the National Defense Education Act was passed by the Congress in 1958.

Marin schools also received $12,796 last year to increase counseling of high school students on education for their future. Since 1958, Marin schools have received $64,017 for better counseling, Simpson said.

9-Acre Aquatic Park For Sausalito Gains

Sausalito citizens urging a nine-acre aquatic park last night won promise of the city council and Sausalito Properties, Inc., to cooperate to try to give them what they want.

About 60 citizens turned out for a special city council meeting on parks and recreation. They saw this action taken:

1. The council reaffirmed its previous stand favoring acquisition of a nine-acre aquatic park in the Napa-Litho Street area to be called the Sausalito Marina.

2. The council voted to offer to purchase the southern portion of the church playground. (The present playground on this land must be given up Sept. 15.)

3. Sausalito Properties, Inc., which owns the nine-acre parcel, offered to exchange some of its land for city underwater street land in the same area and work with Sausalito to see that the city gets recreational acreage in the Napa-Litho area. Too, the firm will consider renting a portion of its Napa-Litho property on a short-term basis as a playground for small children.

The meeting was called to discuss a recreation commission plan with members of a citizen committee organized spontaneously Aug. 8 to get more parks. The meeting lasted three and a half hours.

Committee co-chairman Raymond Gergus read his committee's report, which stated the need for recreational facilities and suggested six possible means of financing. They are: (1) A land swap of the city's four-plus acres of underwater street land for Sausalito Properties, Inc. land; (2) a grant from small craft harbor district; (3) a federal grant from the Urban Renewal Agency; (4) use of the open land provision of Public Law 87-70; (5) use of Sausalito budget surpluses, and (6) a bond issue.

"It is a tragic denial of necessity" that the city, a predominantly waterfront community, is without adequate waterfront access recreation," said Gergus. He was applauded loud and long.

Elmore Hutchinson, president of Sausalito Properties, Inc:, said the firm will work with the city to see that it gets a recreational area with a waterfront which has a strip of water right-of-way past Railroad Avenue.

Hutchinson said his firm owns 32 acres which includes the proposed nine-acre park and that the whole area is to be developed into garden apartments, restaurants and an inn.

He said the Napa-Litho portion, which Gergus had drawn on the board to show the proposed contours of the park, was the "heart of our project."

Mayor Philip J. Ehrlich Jr. said the matter would be put on the city council agenda again in six weeks.

Councilman Howard Sievers said he could not make up his mind whether the park should be five, nine or 13 acres. Councilman Marjorie Brady said she felt nine acres a logical figure. Ehrlich said he believed planning was needed. Councilman Michael Harris said he preferred to reiterate the council's previous stand in favor of the site.

Harris suggested the offer of purchase of a portion of Christ Church playground.

William Grader of Fort Bragg, field representative for Rep. Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera), said he would help the group in seeking federal assistance.

George Kowski, told the council the park program "should be put in one package and let the people pay for it. I think the people would be willing to pay for it."

This was followed by loud applause from the audience.

Marinite Finds East Berlin Like End Of World War II

went down past what used to be the biggest hotel in all of Europe, now a disintegrating pile of crumbling bricks. We passed opera houses and churches, all destroyed. It's an impressive and incredible sight."

In East Berlin a bar of chocolate would have cost Allen $1, a pound of coffee, $10, and fresh fruit was only a term. Telephone calls, even during most relaxed periods, could not be made directly from one zone to the other. When a long-distance call is made, one can talk for only a few moments, said Allen.

"East Germans hate Russia and the Communist," declared the youth. "However they live in a police state. They are caught forever.

"Berlin was a fascinating experience for me. The fact that I have now seen a Communist occupied country, and met people who have experienced and hated life under communism has made me realize even more the danger that we are faced by, said the young Marinite. "It has made me analyze my own ideals; and I understand better, much better, why our way of life is so much more real, so much more rewarding. God help us to hold back this terrible tide!"

That afternoon on a main street, Stalin Allee, there were only a few West German cars and some tourists, he said. Marx-Engels Square was the same except for a few newspapers "scattered by the wind." He said the stores were open, but he was told that residents left for West Berlin for the weekend.

The "nice parts" of East Berlin were described by Allen as the parks and "government blocks, but when 80 per cent of a city is still in ruins it is difficult not to be impressed by the distruction and waste, he added.

Allen took snapshots of German "People's Police," Russian soldiers, bridges, train stations, and the Russian Embassy, all of which are illegal to photograph. He ran into three truck loads of Russian soldiers "not five minutes inside the border. With these pictures, I could have been hauled off to an East German prison, had I been seen by a tough cop."

JFK Fights For School Aid Passage

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy and speaker Sam Rayburn agreed today to try for passage of a stripped-down version of the administration school aid program before Congress adjourns.

After conferring with Kennedy, Rayburn called a meeting of House school aid leaders to discuss the bill and strategy for getting it through the House.

Rayburn did not reveal details of the bill. But those close to the situation said it probably would carry one-year authority for continuing the existing "impacted areas" and national defense education student loans plus a new, 325-million-dollar public grade and high school construction plan.

In total, the three items would cost about 600 million dollars or one-tenth of the original Kennedy school aid requests.

But the "package" agreed to by the leadership probably would be followed to the House floor by a 1.8- to 2-billion-dollar aid plan for college construction and scholarships.

It was believed the bill would not carry any new assistance to private and church-operated elementary and secondary schools. This issue was blamed for torpedoing the original Kennedy education program.

The church-state dispute flared anew this week in a sharp exchange between Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York and chairman Wayne Morse of the Senate Education Subcommittee. School aid leaders in Congress believed that while the flareup did not help the situation, it did not materially change chances of school aid enactment.

It was understood that House leaders did not expect rules committee approval of the new bill and would plan to bring it up two weeks from today under a special procedure for bypassing the rules group.

Business Development Plan For Courthouse Land Urged

Plans for business development of the front yard of the county courthouse facing Fourth Street in San Rafael were discussed by committees of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce at a picnic in Gerstle Park yesterday.

Fred F. Enemark, who made the principal presentation, said today he was confident that "nearly an acre could be taken without encroachment of any kind" on courthouse functions.

He saw several benefits to the plan, brought forward in principle 10 years ago: Stimulation of San Rafael downtown business activity, provision of handy downtown motor parking space, and eventual acquisition by the county of a valuable structure.

His plan envisaged use of a non-profit corporation which would lease the ground from the county on an initially nominal rental basis, sell stock to cover preliminary costs, employ bond sale or mortgage to build, and amortize all costs over a reasonable period after which any surplus would go to the county as rent. Eventually the structure would revert to the county after completion of the amortization period.

County counsel opinion has approved either lease or sale of properties first declared surplus, a device considered for the Frank Marsh program of private construction of a hospital on county property in Lucas Valley.

Enemark said that though underground garage plans had been considered and might later work out, a combination of factors including apparent presence of an underground creek in the area might make it best to plan for initial construction of one story at ground level for stores, plus two stories for parking.

"This would benefit citizens, merchants and government," said Enemark. "It would provide shoppers with greater choice of merchandise by additional quality stores, merchants with increased trade, and the city with additional sales tax revenue, as well as more parking in the most congested area in the county."

County Clerk George S. Jones recalled past plans he has favored along this line and he concurred with Enemark's estimate that the business community would welcome and support it.

"I consider this proposed plan a proper use of the property," said Jones. "I favor it only if the concept of additional parking is coupled with additional stores or business facilities."

Additional parking levels could later be added, Enemark said, with the lower inital level on the second floor converted to business facilities.

Opposition was voiced by Pat Hetherton, chairman of the San Rafael Planning Commission, because he wished retention of "a park-type area for the benefit and enjoyment of all citizens." The proposal, he said, would be a "blight to this only open space left in downtown San Rafael."

Chairman Paul Steinmets of the chamber's parks and recreation committee elicited from Enemark the view that "by proper architectural design and good taste this area could be developed as an asset in attractiveness and utility."

NEW SAFEWAY FOR SAN RAFAEL—Shown above is the architect's conception of a new, 22,000-square-foot Safeway Store approved last night by city planners for construction at First and B Streets. The store, designed by architect Arthur A. Iwata of Berkeley, will provide parking space for 135 cars and will be constructed of plate glass, concrete and exposed aggregate.

New Safeway Store Wins Approval

Safeway Stores Inc. last night gained approval of the San Rafael Planning Commission for an ultra-modern store at First and B streets.

The 22,000-square-foot glass and exposed aggregate building will be lighted through open eaves and will provide parking spaces for 135 cars. Safeway representatives did not indicate when construction would begin.

The store will be identical to one in the Marina district of San Francisco with the exception of a set of $10,000 murals across the front. "We don't think the murals sell that much more in groceries," representatives said. Planners said traffic conditions would be studied for six months after occupancy and changes in traffic flow might be made after that time.

Planners approved developer Kenneth Solares's revised plans of a 21-unit apartment house on Channing Way at the Marin Professional Center with the provision a bumper guard be placed at the top of the property as a safeguard against runaway cars.

Two 12-unit apartments sought by the D. M. Christensen Construction Co. were approved at 545-555 Canal Street. The builder will be required to maintain a 15-foot setback of a swimming pool and apply for a variance for a six-foot fence to enclose the pool.

Approval was given the final subdivision map of White Oaks Unit No. 2 at Chesnut Avenue north of White Oaks Unit No. 1. The map of the 54-lot subdivision will be forwarded to the city council for final approval.

Hallinan Says Home For Sale At $125,000

The five-acre Ross estate of the Vincent Hallinans is being sold, the controversial attorney reported today.

Hallinan, onetime presidential candidate, said the estate, which includes a 20-room home, high school-sized gymnasium and Olympic-sized swimming pool, is being sold for $125,000 to Sheldon Sackett, publisher of a chain of labor newspapers.

The property is being bought in the name of a Sackett corporation, Hallinan told the Independent-Journal, through Marin Title Guaranty Co. of San Rafael. The name of the corporation could not be immediately learned.

Roger Darrow, head of the title company, said, "We neither admit or deny any deal until it is final."

Hallinan, who maintains law offices in San Francisco, said he and his wife, Vivian, "hate to leave the place after all these years." They plan to buy a smaller home "somewhere in Marin."

The five oldest Hallinan boys are now away at school, Hallinan said, leaving only the youngest, Danny, 12, at home with his parents. "A 20-room house is too much for just the three of us," he said.

Sackett, owner of the Olympic Press in Berkeley which publishes the North Bay Labor Journal, among other papers, has been rumored as attempting to buy several Marin County weekly newspapers.

John Harlan, publisher of the Marin News in Sausalito, said he is "not currently negotiating with Sackett. My paper is for sale at a price, but this man has made no deposit," Harlan said.

Roger Esteves, owner and publisher of the Ross Valley News, Tiburon Pelican and the Larkspur-Corte Madera Times, said negotiations with Sackett "have been going on for weeks."

Fred Volz, co-publisher of the Novato Advance, said he "was not in negotiation" for sale of the paper.

Jane Stevenson Of Bolinas Dies

Mrs. Jane Stevenson, a resident of Bolinas, died early today in a local hospital. She was 60.

Mrs. Stevenson, of Park Avenue and Juniper Road, had been hospitalized for 12 days. She was the wife of David Stevenson, a transmitting technician at the RCA Communication, Inc. transmitting station in Bolinas. The couple moved to Marin in January, 1959, from Torrance, Los Angeles County.

LA FONTAINE RITES

Funeral services for Arthur La Fontaine, 61, will be held Friday at 10:45 a.m. at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

La Fontaine, a linotype operator with the Independent-Journal since 1928, died yesterday at a local hospital after a week's illness. La Fontaine was a resident of 45 Center Street, San Rafael.

Burial will be at the Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno at noon, the day of the funeral.

GRACE ANSCHUTZ

Mrs. Grace C. Anschutz of Belvedere died last night at a local hospital after a short illness.

A native of Keokuk, Iowa, and from an Iowan pioneer family, she would have been 82 on Aug. 31.

Mrs. Anschutz is survived by her son and daughter.

Services and interment are to be in Keokuk. Arrangements are being handled by Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

MRS. OGDEN

strength" would be used, he contended.

3. Stiffening of the bridge trusses, which Paine called not practical, is "completely practical," Gronquist maintained.

Ralph Tudor of Tudor Engineering, employed by the transit district in designing the transit routes, went even further. He said the truss stiffening would not be as difficult as the job being done by the state on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge. There, roadway supports are being strengthened without interruption of traffic.

Hoover declared that even considering overloading the bridge with as many as 15 trains at once is "patently ridiculous. I doubt that there will be that many trains on the Marin run. But even if there were, an automatic block signal system would prevent more than one train in each direction from being on the span at the same time."

He also said the assumed weights of cars used in the studies is 25 per cent higher than the maximum requirement set by the transit district for its rolling stock. "Such extreme conditions (as considered in the reports) never would —never could—be imposed on the bridge."

Tudor, while refusing to call rapid transit on the bridge feasible, "because I haven't actually checked all the engineering figures myself," said he would have no hesitancy in using 90,000 pounds per square inch as the design strength for the bridge's cables.

He said it would be appropriate to refer both Paine's and Gronquist's findings to a "competent board of engineers" for evaluation.

This is the proposal of the rapid transit directors. The bridge directors have been awaiting Gronquist's answer to Paine before making up their minds whether to cooperate in such an engineering review board, or whether to accept Paine's report and prohibit rapid transit on the bridge.

Frederic August Bartholdi not only created the Statue of Liberty, the sculptor also pledged his personal fortune to defray construction expenses.

'BORDEN BELLE' ON WHEELS

Mrs. Anita H. Dehnert of 5853 Redwood Highway, Ignacio, happily displays the keys and registration slip to her new custom built trailer she won for being named Marin's Borden Belle. Mrs. Dehnert's photograph was drawn from among those snapped the past two months of customers selecting Borden products in markets throughout the county. Mrs. Dehnert and her family will take a vacation in the Siskiyou Mountains, she said. (Independent-Journal photo)

Youth Felled By 'Sneak' Blow

Lewis Don Burrows Jr., 18, of Terra Linda was in San Rafael General Hospital with a broken jaw today after what was reported as a one-blow fight.

Burrows' girl friend told San Rafael police the youth was challenged by another youth at the Country Club Bowl last midnight. As they were walking to a spot to fight, the other youth — whom she said she could not identify—threw a sneak punch that felled young Burrows, she said.

"Boys will be boys," commented the injured youth's father at the hospital.

Orphans Of Italy Dinner Is Tonight

Marin's annual benefit dinner and entertainment for the Orphans of Italy will be held from 6:30 to 10 o'clock tonight at Deer Park Villa in Fairfax.

The Italian dinner, with an entertainment program largely impromptu, raises money to support an orphans' home on Lake Maggiore, Italy. Assemblyman William T. Bagley will be master of ceremonies.

Another Rabid Skunk Disclosed; Killed By Dog In Sleepy Hollow

Another rabid skunk has been found in Sleepy Hollow and a German shepherd dog is in six-month quarantine after killing the skunk.

This was disclosed yesterday by Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, Marin County health officer, who said it points up the importance of owners having their pets vaccinated against rabies.

The skunk was found in the garage of a Sleepy Hollow home after it had been killed by the dog, Dr. Albrecht said. Six days were required for tests to determine that the skunk was rabid. The dog, which had not been previously vaccinated, was given rabies shots immediately but must remain quarantined for six months. It is being kept chained to a tree inside a fenced enclosure at the home.

If the dog had been previously vaccinated, only a booster shot and one month quarantine would have been required, the county health officer pointed out.

This was the third rabid skunk found this year in Sleepy Hollow.

Richardson Bay Sanitary Unit Defends Plant

Richardson Bay Sanitary District directors took issue Monday night with reports they said they had received from opponents to Tiburon incorporation to the effect the treatment provided by the district does not meet state requirements.

"This is simply not true," secretary Samuel A. Fletcher said. "The sewage treatment meets very adequately the standards set for the district by the water pollution control board. The Trestle Glen Treatment Plant is a new plant and is operating efficiently."

Directors announced the district's new ordinance has gone into effect which computes connection charges for apartment buildings on the same basis as for private homes. Prior to the ordinance, prices for apartments were considerably lower than for homes.

IN U.S. TO PROMOTE EDUCATION

Chief Rotimi Williams, 40-year-old, six foot, four inch chairman of the council of the University of Ife in Nigeria, was a colorful figure on the deck of the Queen Elizabeth upon his arrival yesterday in New York. Alliance Plan Funds Asked Of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon told Congress today that one billion dollars is the minimum the United States should obligate for Latin America this year if President John F. Kennedy's Alliance for Progress is to get off to a good start.

Dillon appeared in a closed session of the Senate Appropriations Committee in support of a four-billion-dollar-plus foreign aid program.

He termed the program essential to the security of this country and the free world and one the nation can afford.

He made his plea for the actual money a few hours ahead of the start of Senate-House conference sessions to iron out differences over the authorization bill which sets ceilings for the program.

In a prepared statement, Dillon made no reference to the controversy over Kennedy's request for Treasury borrowing authority to finance a five-year program of economic development loans abroad.

Dillon concentrated instead on an explanation of U.S. commitments to Latin America at the recent inter-American meeting at Punta del Este, Uruguay, and the effect of the foreign aid program on the U.S. budget and this country's balance of payments problems. Francisco.

New Apartments Approved For Bon Air Area

Four units of 12 apartments each for Bon Air subdivision 5 were approved last night by the Larkspur Planning Commission.

The Belardo Co. of Niels Schultz asked for variances on the lots for these apartments These were granted. Architectural approval was also given.

H. C. Wood was granted a variance to enlarge one living unit adjacent to his office.

San Rafael High School students are going into business.

Appearing before the board of education last night was student body president David Chuche, who was given approval for establishment of a stationery and supply store to be operated by the students "at a very small profit."

The store's stock, young Chuche explained, would be purchased from local merchants. Stock will be bought with student body funds.

"In the past, the objection to such a store had been unfair competition to downtown business," Chuche said. "We feel the problem has been solved, since we will buy our supplies from them."

The local dealers are "very enthusiastic" about the idea, Chuche said, and have promised the student store discounts if it buys in large lots.

The store is badly needed, Chuche said, because of the isolation of the school.

"Now no one will have any excuse for not coming to class with pencils," he said.

Railway Express To Close Offices

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The State Public Utilities Commission yesterday authorized Railway Express Agency to close its offices in four Sonoma County cities and consolidate its pickup and delivery service in the areas through the Santa Rosa office.

Offices will be closed in Healdsburg, Petaluma, Sebastopol and Sonoma.

The agency said the consolidation, part of a nationwide economy reorganization, will save $5,500 a year.

Pickup and delivery service will be extended to Agua Caliente, Boyes Hot Springs, Eldridge, El Verano, Fetters Hot Springs and Verano after the consolidation.

Action Tabled

Belvedere planning commissioners tabled until next month two requests this week for permits to construct off-street parking ramps on Bella Vista Avenue and San Rafael Avenue, according to commissioner George C. Banning.

President's Tax Proposals Abandoned

House Ways and Means Committee today abandoned hope of completing work on President John F. Kennedy's proposed tax revisions at this session of Congress, delaying any action until next year.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.) and other Democratic committee members issued a statement saying it was impossible to finish consideration of the bill in the weeks remaining before adjournment.

The Democrats replied that Republican opposition to Kennedy's tax incentive plan for businessmen was one of the main reasons for their decision.

They said, "The heart of the president's program was his proposal to grant a tax credit to those American businesses which would invest their funds for modernization.

"We agree with this basic concept advanced by the president and concur in his belief that an investment credit is not only the proper way to provide a tax incentive to attack our long-range problem of economic growth at home and our problem of staying competitive in the markets of the world, but is also the most effective."

NO LETTER FOR ALTO FIREMEN

Receipt of letters of appreciation from Northwestern Pacific Railroad for work in fighting the July 20 fire in the railroad's Puerto Suello tunnel was reported yesterday by the San Rafael and Marin County Fire Departments.

But Chief Carl Heynen Jr. said no such letter was received by the Alto Fire Department, whose fireman Frank Kinsler lost his life in the tunnel cave-in.

Sheriff Says Civil Defense Chief Needed

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos told the Mill Valley Rotary Club yesterday that Marin must have a fulltime civil defense director and "stop passing the buck to a supervisor, the county administrator or the sheriff."

Mountanos has handled administration of civil defense when the duties were switched from County Administrator Alan Bruce.

The sheriff advocated that citizens get behind the national fallout shelter program which, he said, could save thousands of lives in Marin if there were a direct bomb hit on San

Jury Still Being Picked For Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Selection of a jury for the trial of four boys charged with first degree murder entered its third day today.

They have been accused of the beating-robbery of Marin County schoolteacher William P. Hall, 27, and then leaving him near car tracks where he was run over. He taught in Ross.

The youths appeared bored today with the jury process in the hall of justice. They stretched their legs, yawned, leaned back in their seats and waited almost impatiently for the process to end.

The prosecutor, Asst. Atty. Nicholas Deriman, said the jury selection was taking far longer than anticipated. He said he hoped to have one chosen late today or tomorrow.

Glass Kills Girl

Physicians said yesterday a piece of glass had pierced the heart of Susan Tibbs of Rapid City, S.D. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Tibbs, were inspecting rooms at the motel.

Homestead Club Plans Mozart Fete

A Mozart Festival Sept. 17 at 2:30 p.m. in Stolte Grove will be sponsored by the Homestead Valley Improvement Club, according to club president Mrs. Kurt Schlesinger.

The festival will be a benefit staged by the Bach to Mozart Chamber Players to raise money for improving the physical setting for the second series of candlelight concerts at Brown's Hall in Mill Valley. The concerts, presented for the first time last December, January and February, also featured the Bach to Mozart Players.

Admission to the concert will be by donation.

Picnic facilities are available at the grove. Hot dogs, ice cream and soft drinks will be sold. Since parking space is limited, a shuttle service will be operated from Brown's Hall to the grove.

Two Treated For Dog, Cat Bites

Two persons were treated for dog and cat bites at Marin General Hospital Monday.

Death Comes At 111

EUREKA (AP)—Annie Randall Shoemaker, Hoopa Indian, died Monday on the reservation where she was born. Mrs. Shoemaker was 111 years old.

New British Guiana Premier Linked To Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States intends to keep an eagle eye on newly elected Premier Cheddi Jagan to see whether he will try to steer British Guiana into the Communist bloc.

Lf Jagan tries to link up with Moscow-Peiping, representations can be made to Britain to postpone complete independence for the newly emerging South American country.

If Jagan's Marxism turns out to be a more independent variety, Washington may swallow its distaste and treat Guiana as a member of the hemisphere family.

CASTRO

Jagan, an open admirer of top Communists, of Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro and of Marxism, is slated for a formal call to Guiana's first premiership today on the results of Monday's elections. His wife was once an American Communist and still has Red connections, according to information received here.

Jagan's government will have power over internal affairs. Britain retains foreign affairs-defense control, pending full independence which Britain has promised to consider in a year or so.

In the U.S. view, it would be a major political blow to have another international Communist beachhead set up in this hemisphere—this time on the South American continent.

RUSK

Secretary of State Dean Rusk noted at a news conference Tuesday that "we have been working with the British" on policy toward Guiana.

The U.S. foreign affairs chief referred specifically to American aid. Guiana is receiving about $750,000 in U. S. technical assistance this year and recently got a 1.25-million-dollar World Bank loan.

Rusk said no Jagan request for new U.S. funds has been received and U.S. aid policy has not yet been reconsidered.

Filibuster Proposal Approved

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Rules Committee today approved a proposal to relax the Senate's time-honored filibuster rule.

The measure would make it easier to break a filibuster by requiring only a three-fifths vote of members present — a maximum of 60 votes — to halt debate.

Approval by the rules committee thus set the stage for a wrangle in the Senate as the current session draws to a close.

The present Senate cloture rule requires two-thirds approval by those present to shut off debate, or a maximum of 67 votes if all 100 senators were present.

The proposed rule change was approved without recommendation.

HUB'S TAX RATE DROPS

San Anselmo city councilmen last night set the Hub City's 1961-62 tax rate at $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation, a drop of eight cents from last year's $1.33.

The city still computes assessed valuation on the basis of 35 per cent of market value, as compared with the county's 23 per cent of market value.

The new tax rate was set in a 4-to-1 vote, with Councilman Arthur W. Smith dissenting. Smith said he is opposed to the $650,000 budget because he thinks greater savings could have been made.

Councilmen In San Anselmo Fail To Agree About Street Lights

San Anselmo city councilmen last night failed to agree on what type of street lights to install in the downtown area and put off a decision for another month.

Councilmen indicated there has been so much high pressure sales talk by manufacturers of various types of lights that the entire issue has been confused.

Councilman Arthur W. Smith moved for purchase of General Electric lights but he got no second. William Franchini moved to buy Peerless lamps, but he was voted down 3-to-2. John Reichmuth suggested that perhaps the existing poles can be retained and just the lamps changed.

Mayor Carleton G. Little continued the matter until the second meeting in September.

City Administrator Douglas Flautt announced police will crack down on equestrians riding their horses on the sidewalk areas of Butterfield Road. He said the Sleepy Hollow Stables and Riding Club have assured him they would cooperate in keeping horses off sidewalks. The administrator reported that riders who were seen were found to be residents of San Francisco, who had come from Fairfax.

Mrs. Bernece Cresap of 99 Butterfield Road, who complained about horses on sidewalks, declared she knows the riders are not from San Francisco. "I can tell you the names and addresses of the riders. They live in Sleepy Hollow," she said.

In other actions last night, the San Anselmo City Council:

1. Declined to take a stand on Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.'s proposed change in rates. The company has applied to the Public Utilities Commission to eliminate toll charges between San Rafael exchange and Ignacio and between San Rafael and Sausalito-Belvedere. This would permit direct dialing without toll charges. The company seeks a raise in basic phone rates for all homes. Councilmen decided it is up to the PT&T to plead its own case. Jack Nichols, PT&T representative, said a hearing is set for 10 a.m. Aug. 30 in San Rafael City Hall.

2. Opened up the street sweeper examination to outsiders instead of limiting it to members of the city street department. The administrator said no one especially cares for the job.

3. Decided to remove two large brick pillars from the entrance to Floribel Avenue. The administrator said the pillars are deteriorating and constitute a hazard.

4. Asked City Atty. John G. Buresh to draw up a resolution changing Circle Drive to Island Drive near the San Anselmo-San Rafael border above the Miracle Mile. Residents complained that part of the loop is Island Drive and part of it Circle Drive, and they suffer from mixups in fire calls and mail.

5. Authorized $50 to oil the parking area at the American Legion parking lot next to Memorial Park to abate dust.

6. Authorized spending $50 to divert water away from Frances Avenue near Fairfax and toward Scenic Avenue. Flow of storm waters down Frances Avenue into private property in Fairfax resulted in a $500 damage verdict against San Anselmo. City Attorney Buresh reported that San Anselmo was blamed for the damage and must pay. He said he sees no need for an appeal.

New Vice Principal Appointed For San Rafael High School

Alfred N. Thomson, new principal at San Rafael High, told the board of education he had recommended Dunn over seven or eight other candidates for the job.

Dunn, 30, of 323 Bayview Street in San Rafael, was given a one year contract at $10,000. The father of four children, Dunn received his bachelor of arts degree and did graduate work at San Francisco State College. He has been in the district one year. His past experience included elementary and high school teaching, his last position outside the district being the equivalent of vice principal at Pittsburg High School.

Helen Rideout, of 117 Legend Road, Sleepy Hollow, was hired as second grade teacher at San Pedro School. Mrs. Rideout is returning to teaching after an absence of 10 years. She will receive a salary of $4,800.

The board approved appointments of Edwina Codoni as principal of Gallinas and Short Schools and Harold V. Delma to replace her as principal of West End and Sun Valley Schools. Objections had been raised by parents at West End and Sun Valley schools to transfer of Miss Codoni. Acting chairman Rex Silvernale said the board had discussed the matter with Miss Codoni and she was willing to accept the transfer.

Hiring of Mrs. Rideout will make it unnecessary to transport second grade pupils from the San Pedro School to another school. A total of 88 second graders have registered to date at San Pedro. To house them, a surplus, temporary building will be placed on the school grounds.

The board agreed to raise the salary differential for department heads from $240 a year to $300 to $500, depending on the amount of extra work involved. The move is designed to draw more instructors into administration work, board members were told.

A letter to the board, signed by 60 parents from Glenwood, Loch Lomond, Country Club, Villa Rafael and other East San Rafael areas, urged hiring of "an outside person" when the board considers a permanent superintendent.

Acting as superintendent since the resignation of Frank L. Lucas is Raymond J. Simpson, assistant superintendent for business services.

The letter charged that teacher morale was "very low in our public schools as compared with other districts." The parents charged "increasing indifference to the needs of pupils, problems of parents, improvement of teaching techniques and curriculum changes."

The situation would be improved, the letter said, by hiring a man from outside the district who would be "free from pressures."

"We would like to see a completely new approach to our educational system with new ideas and new stimuli. The only way to get such an approach is to bring in an outside man," the letter continued.

The letter was read and filed.

Terra Linda Pool Action Threatened

Rather than expend about $500 for correction of faults in the Terra Linda swimming pool, the San Rafael Board of Education last night decided they would take the dispute to court.

The $105,000 swimming pool has not been completed because of defective joints which allowed ground water to seep into the pool.

A three-man arbitration board recommended that the $650 cost of repairing the faults be jointly borne by the contractor, Max Schenk of Fairfax, and the school district. At last night's meeting, three board members present indicated they did not feel the district should be held liable for any of the expense.

Board members Bella Aaron, John M. Bagshaw and Rex Silvernale unanimously agreed to instruct County Counsel E. Warren McGuire to negotiate the findings of the arbitrators with the contractor. If a satisfactory agreement is not reached within 10 days, the trustees ordered the counsel to take legal action.

Absent from the meeting were chairman Roderick P. Martinelli and C. Paul Bettini. Board members indicated they might call a special meeting to discuss the results of McGuire's negotiations.

The board accepted a low bid of $5,753 from Piombo Brothers of San Rafael for construction of drainage culverts, curbs and gutters at Laurel Dell School. There were three other higher bids.

District architect Carl F. Gromme approved bids from Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross of $6,361 for rest rooms and $5,939 for a faculty room at Coleman School. The bids, which ran about $1,500 higher than estimated, were found to be legitimate by the architect.

Approved was purchase of 137 physical education items on low bids totaling $7,471; musical instruments, $3,517, and business education equipment totaling $4,771.

Absent chairman Martinelli was instructed to name a committee to confer with developers of San Joaquin Ranch and Marin Bay on the need for school sites in the subdivisions.

Acting Supt. Raymond J. Simpson said the developers of these and other large tracts had requested the school board to notify them of their eventual needs for school sites so they could be set aside before development of the areas.

Silvernale, acting as chairman, said it was obvious that space must be reserved in the developments. "We have no money at present for purchase of sites. It will eventually mean a bond issue, but we must make our needs known to the developers now," Silvernale said.

In other action, the trustees:

1. Postponed for further study a decision on salaries for substitute teachers, adult school teachers and home instructors. Cafeteria workers' wages were raised 10 cents an hour. Student helpers were raised from 75 cents to $1.25 per hour.

2. Approved granting a seven-day vacation to former Supt. Frank Lucas.

3. Postponed until the full board was present appointment of a director of business services.

4. Adjourned to Sept. 5 at 7:30 p.m.

Enlists In Navy

James Drayton Marker, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Frederick Marker of 301 Oakdale Avenue, Mill Valley, enlisted in the Navy this week at the Marin County Navy Recruiting Station in San Rafael. He has been sent to the Naval Training Center in San Diego for recruit training.

FULL-FLEDGED WAVE—Judith D. Berick is spending a 14-day leave with her father, Fred Berick of 20 Gardner Avenue, Mill Valley, after completing 10 weeks of basic training at the Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Md. She will report to the Navy Hospital Corps, School at Great Lakes, Ill., following her leave.

High Schools Busy With Registration

With San Rafael's two high schools ready for opening Sept. 5, registration activity is increasing, principals of San Rafael and Terra Linda High Schools reported today.

Students living in the Santa Venetia, Terra Linda, Los Ranchitos and Marinwood areas and who are entering the ninth, 10th and 11th grades will register at and attend Terra Linda High School.

Students entering the 12th grade from those areas as well as those from the San Jose School District and the remainder of the San Rafael School District will attend San Rafael High.

Freshman orientation program will be held Aug. 30 from 9 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. at San Rafael High and 9:30 a.m. to noon at Terra Linda High.

San Rafael Teen Dance Set Friday

A senior teen dance for youngsters 15 to 18 years, living in the San Rafael School District, will be held in the San Rafael High School gymnasium Friday from 8 to 11 p.m.

San Rafael Recreation Department is sponsoring the event. Recreation Supervisor Faye Logan announced all participants must be registered in advance. Registrations are being taken at the recreation office at Albert Field from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. every day this week.

Dominic Bobio and his seven-piece combo will provide music through cooperation of American Federation of Musicians Local 6. There is no admission charge.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — U. S. District Judge Oliver J. Carter yesterday continued to Sept. 5 the case of Kenneth G. Fuller, 37, charged with violating the Federal Communications Act.

The legal question involved is whether a private citizen can intercept police radio broadcasts and divulge the information to the public.

Judge Carter said he needed more time to complete a study of the grounds for a motion to dismiss the charge and to study the legislative history of the Federal Communications Act.

CLOSE CALL FOR HOME OWNER

Kennedy's Father Has Pretty, Blonde Caddy

CANNES, France (AP)—When President John F. Kennedy's golf-loving father, Joseph P. Kennedy, strolls off the tee at his favorite Riviera course, most eyes stay glued to his caddy.

The girl and the millionaire onetime U.S. ambassador to Britain have become fast friends during the five years Francoise has been pulling his golf cart around exclusive Biot Course.

"I call him 'Joe', and he calls me 'Francoise'" she said. "I talk to him as I would my father."

Francoise is perhaps the first person on the Riviera to know when Kennedy is coming for a holiday because "he writes me two months before so I'll be available to caddy."

The pert, pug-nosed blonde describes the head of the Kennedy clan as "a wonderful man —really down to earth."

"Monsieur Kennedy is very generous," she said. "Every Christmas he sends me a gift and on my birthday I get a case of champagne. I invite the neighbors in and we drink to his health."

Francoise's father was a bricklayer. Her golf course career began when her parents died in 1954 and she had to help support a younger brother and two infant sisters.

"I lived next door to the course, so one day I went over and asked for a job," said Francoise.

At first she was puzzled by the gawking tourists when she and Kennedy walked around the course. She asked Kennedy what all the fuss was about and he replied:

"Why, because you're prettier than Brigitte Bardot, my dear."

Francoise didn't speak a word of English when she started as Kennedy's caddy. He bought her English lessons and now they jabber like father daughter.

What do they talk about? Frequently about a 3-year-old lady in the White House—Caroline Kennedy.

"I think he has a regular adoration for Caroline," Francoise said.

Sewage Disposal Under Fire

Sewage disposal conditions in Sausalito, Belvedere, Santa Venetia and Las Gallinas Village came under fire last week from the Bay Area Water Pollution Control Board.

Progress reports from the City of Sausalito and the Marin County Health Department on elimination of sewage discharge from arks were accepted, but both were given until Sept. 19 to file further reports showing additional action.

Belvedere was given until Oct. 1 to file a time schedule showing progress toward award of construction contracts for additional sewage facilities which would end dumping of raw waste matter into the bay.

Treatment plants of the Gallinas Village Community Services District and at Santa Venetia Harbor were termed of "poor quality" and technical, bi-monthly reports from the plants will be required after Sept. 18. The board noted that land use near the point of discharge from the San Rafael Meadows treatment plant has increased and that completion of the Civic Center will "multiply public exposure" to the discharge.

Board Takes Second Look At Phone Plan

Marin's county supervisors heard a second version yesterday of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.'s story in support of an "extended service" no-toll plan between Sausalito and San Rafael and had a second thought.

During budget hearings they had heard from Supervisor J. Mansfield Lewis of the county communications system and decided to take no position. Lewis pointed out that many subscribers with no interest in other than local calls would have to pay higher monthly rates.

But D. R. Horton of the phone company's commercial department assured the board that this proposal was being put to the Public Utility Commission because of "numerous requests from subscribers." He won a promise to take the matter under consideration.

Chairman William D. Fusselman wanted to know how many of the total subscribers were using such service. He was referred to a complicated company-cooked "community of interest factor" showing something else, and said, "This does not answer my question. If you knew the number of calls and related it to specific subscribers we'd get a picture."

Horton said the company expressed such matters differently. Anyway, he said, wiping out tolls between any points always seemed to triple the use.

Raised rates, he said in response to a question by Supervisor J. Walter Blair, would be effective only in the areas of the extension which don't include Mill Valley because a similar Mill Valley-San Rafael "extended service" went into effect some years ago.

The supervisors also:

1. Ordered a $214,768.80 payment on civic center work to July 1, including $188,362.80 for building construction and $25,406 for site development.

2. Agreed to arrange a session with Marin members of the Golden Gate Bridge District Board to talk over a Bay Area Rapid Transit District proposal for review of the bridge capabilities for rapid transit by an impartial board of engineers.

3. Were told by a Marin Medical Society communication that laboratory services offered by the county health department without charge are essential to community health.

4. Voted support of a plan by Bel Marin Keys Community Services District for a temporary public crossing of Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks a mile north of Novato.

5. Set Sept. 4-10 as "Union Label Week" in Marin County on request of the Marin County Labor Council.

No Quorum

Failure to get a quorum caused cancellation of Monday's meeting of the San Geronimo Valley Assn., Mrs. Georgette Vilas, recording secretary, said. The group will meet next Sept. 18.

Transit Down —Up With Flying Saucers

Marin County supervisors were alerted yesterday to throw their support behind flying saucers, or something of the sort, rather than old-fashioned trains if rapid transit comes to this county.

A letter from F. L. W. MacDonald of Menlo Park warned that proponents of the rapid transit system "still think as of yesterday" and Marin is in danger of having them "inflict a system outmoded before it is started," including a tunnel under San Francisco Bay with constant need of repair work.

No consideration has been given, MacDonald pointed out, to air transport and particularly to a new type of "disc, or turtle-shaped jet pressure aircraft developed in Britain and under study here."

The letter said such a contraption would skip over water at great speed, obviating need for tunnel or bridge, and could land on any good-sized parking lot or pier.

"For a people who are already exploring the universe," the letter ended, "it is unthinkable to be bound to methods used yesterday."

Supervisor George Ludy looked at Supervisor William Gnoss, consistent proponent of the county airport near Novato, and said, "You can start right to work on your airport."

"This won't need an airport," decreed Chairman William D. Fusselman, ordering the letter filed with care.

Marin Gets Ready For State Fair Exhibit

The Marin County exhibit for the California State Fair will be completed in time for opening day next Wednesday, County Administrator Alan Bruce said today.

The platform is in, the fence has been roughed in, ceilings and sidewalls have been painted and the turntable is in, he told the board of supervisors yesterday, quoting Mrs. Marcelle McCoy, in charge of Marin's exhibit.

With the theme, "Marin County—All-America County," already approved by the board, the entry is being made under the category of "Contributions to the Development of California," Bruce said.

One large transparency will illustrate industry, a second, agriculture; a third, conservation, and a fourth, civic progress.

Bruce said that the Citizens Committee on the State Fair Exhibit met Aug. 15 and Mrs. McCoy, Henry Cole and Phil F. Reedstrom reported that the large photographs for the four transparencies already have been taken by Ken Molino.

Mrs. McCoy said she has arranged for hostesses to be in attendance at the exhibit at all times.

Carroll Snyker is preparing an information sheet for use of the hostesses in answering questions. Marvelous Marin and Redwood Empire brochures will be available, plus 10,000 of the "Drake Landed Here" leaflets approved by the board.

Claimed expenditures will be close to the original estimate of $3,500.

"However," Bruce said, "it should be noted that full payment is not being claimed for labor and services in construction of the exhibit, and that accordingly expenditure of a larger sum to fully recompense those assisting may be indicated next year if the county participates then."

Vet Bonds Up For Sale

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A block of 100 million dollars in state veterans farm and home loan bonds will be put up for sale again Sept. 13. A bid of 3.8948 per cent offered Aug. 16 was rejected.

Salinger Pays Delinquent Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The suburban home of White House press secretary Pierre Salinger has been freed from a lien for unpaid federal income taxes for 1957 and 1958.

The release was filed in district court yesterday.

Salinger said he actually paid the taxes in April, 1960. He said he was surprised that the release had just been filed.

Salinger said he had filed his 1957 and 1958 returns without sending in a check. He said he had paid the amount due on a monthly installment basis.

The tax lien was filed on Aug. 25, 1959. It sought payment of $414.42 for 1958, and a tax of $195.53 for 1957.

Is A Giant Miracle Brewing?

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Do the San Francisco Giants have "The Little Miracle of Frisco Bay" in mind as a sequel to "The Little Miracle of Coogan's Bluff" which they staged back in New York 10 years ago?

That off-Broadway success of 1951 had them coming from 13½ games behind on August 11, nailing a tie on the final day of the season and whipping the then Brooklyn Dodgers in a playoff for the National League flag.

At the moment, after slouching in third place, 8½ games from the top on August 11, the Giants suddenly have perked up, winning 9 of 11 and 5 in a row with a sweeping, 12-2 and 5-3 double-header success over first-place Cincinnati last night. That jumped the Giants within 5 games of the Reds, who have lost 3 in a row for the first time in a month.

Half-way between Cincinnati and San Francisco stand the Los Angeles Dodgers, who are 2 games back of the Reds after losing 5-4 at St. Louis. It was the Dodgers' eighth consecutive defeat—their longest skid since 1948.

Pittsburgh rapped Milwaukee 4-1 and last-place Philadelphia dropped the Chicago Cubs 6-0 behind the one-hit pitching of Art Mahaffey.

Willie Mays, the lone holdover from the Giants' miracle men of 1951, set the pace with five hits in the opener at Cincinnati, one a two-run homer. And then clinched the sweep with his 33rd home run. A two-run shot in the sixth inning of the second game. Willie McCovey belted a pair of solo home runs in the first game as the Giants collected 20 hits, and Orlando Cepeda, who drove in two runs in the opener, socked his 35th home run in the nightcap.

Southpaw Mike McCormick (10-12), the Giants' only loser in their last 14 games, got into the swing with an eight-hit job against the Reds in the opener. Sam Jones (8-7) won the nightcap, but needed Stu Miller's relief when Jerry Lynch hit a three-run homer that broke up Sad Sam's three-hit shutout in the sixth inning. Bob Purkey (14-8) and Ken Johnson (4-2) were the losers.

In the third game of the four tilt set tonight, Juan Marichal (12-7) will have at the Reds and Joey Jay (18-7).

Alou was hospitalized Sunday after a mid-season spurt that saw him become a regular outfielder, hitting the ball at a .294 clip.

The younger brother of another Giant, Felipe Alou, may be out for the rest of the season.

The Cardinals twice blew leads against the Dodgers, then put it away on a two-out error by Charlie Neal in the ninth inning. The Dodgers had tied it 4-all in their ninth on singles by Junior Gilliam, Duke Snider and Wally Moon— a trio that figured in all their scoring. Lindy McDaniel (9-5) was the winner and Dick Farrell (7-6) the loser, both in relief.

A two-run triple by Bill Mazeroski triggered a three-run second inning for the Pirates, who had lost seven in a row to the Braves. Bob Buhl (9-9) was the loser while Joe Gibbon (9-8) won it with relief from Elroy Face.

Mahaffey (8-17), a 23-year-old right-hander who had lost 10 in a row since June 25, gave up the Cubs' lone hit when Ron Santo singled with one out in the first inning. Ed Bouchee and Billy Williams were the only other Cubs to reach base, both on walks, in the third and the eighth. The Phils, winning their second in a row after a record 23 consecutive losses, beat Dick Ellsworth (7-8) with a third-inning run on a single by Clay Dalrymple and a double by Tony Taylor.

NUMBER FIFTY — Roger Maris of the New York Yankees is congratulated by his fellow slugger, Mickey Mantle, as he crossed the plate on his 50th home run of the year, clouted last night in Wrigley Park in Los Angeles against the L.A. Angels. The sixth inning blast was a liner over the centerfield wall. Billy Gardner, foreground, was on base. But the Angels beat the Yanks 4-3. (AP Wirephoto)

Homer Every 10 Times At Bat Will Give Maris The Record

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

One home run every 10.09 at-bats will do it.

That's the pace Roger Maris has to keep through the next 30 games to break Babe Ruth's home-run record after hitting his 50th last night as the New York Yankees lost 4-3 at Los Angeles.

With his two-run, sixth-inning shot off right-hander Ken McBride, Maris went 13 games ahead of Ruth's record-60 pace of 1927. The young slugger now needs only 11 more in the Yankees' next 30 games to break the Babe's record within the official limit of 154 team decisions set by Commissioner Ford Frick.

In 125 games this season, Roger has been at bat 455 times for an average of 3.7 a game. Assuming he can avoid bases on balls Maris would have 111 at bats in those 30 games, requiring an average of one home run avery 10.09 at-bats.

His 50 home runs in 455 at-bats figures out at one every 9.1 at-bat. If the figures don't lie, Maris can waste an extra at-bat between home runs the rest of the way.

Teammate Mickey Mantle, who failed to connect as the Angels shaved the Yankees' American League lead over second-place Detroit to two games, has 46 homers. Based on the same projection formula used for Maris, the Mick would have to hit a home run every seven at-bats to get the 15 he needs to top Ruth. So far, Mantle has hit one every 9.2 at-bats.

The Tigers closed in on the Yankees by winning their fifth in a row, 8-1, at Cleveland. Third-place Baltimore lost 3-2 in 10 innings at Kansas City, the Chicago White Sox took over fourth place by beating Minnesota 4-3, and Boston defeated Washington 3-2 in 11 innings.

In the National League, third-place San Francisco stayed hot and swept a twi-night pair from Cincinnati 12-2 and 5-3. That trimmed the Reds' lead over Los Angeles to 2½ games, although the Dodgers dropped their eighth in a row, 5-4 at St. Louis. Pittsburgh whipped Milwaukee 4-1 and the Philadelphia Phillies rapped the Chicago Cubs 6-0.

Maris' home run, a 420-foot drive over the center field fence—the only deep section in cozy Wrigley Field — was his second in seven games at the Angels' park and ruined a shutout by McBride, who finally won his 10th on the eighth try. Yogi Berra hit a ninth-inning home run for the other Yank run.

The Angels, tying Minnesota for seventh place, ripped into Bill Stafford (10-7) for three runs in the first inning on a leadoff triple by Albie Pearson and consecutive home runs by Lee Thomas and Leon Wagner. Earl Averill tagged reliever Luis Arroyo for a homer in the eighth for the final run.

Detroit also did it with homers, two-run shots by Rocky Colavito, Billy Bruton and Al Kaline that backed a five-hit pitching job by Paul Foytack (8-8). Jim Grant (12-7) was the loser.

New Lotion Bathes-Away Poison Oak

This month an exciting new scientific "miracle" product was placed on drug counters in this area. Called BATHE-AWAY the new product is not greasy or messy. It is an invisible delicately scented lotion that bathes away the itch of poison oak — usually with one application. Poison oak sufferers say it clears unsightly poison oak rash very quickly. Children may use it safely. Best idea for families in this poison oak danger area is to have BATHE-AWAY POISON OAK in the medicine chest ready for emergencies. See your druggist at once.

NEW HOME FOR THE DODGERS

The Los Angeles Dodgers' new 50,000-seat stadium is beginning to take on the appearance of a ballpark. This view, looking from the rightfield area toward home plate, shows the second and third tiers shaping up. Note at right that the rise of the stadium is cut from the hill that was part of Chavez Ravine. The Dodgers expect to conduct their 1962 season here and to share the field with the American League Angels. (UPI Photo)

Cincy Star Robinson Is Boomed For '61 Most Valuable Honors

HANLEY

CINCINNATI—The boom is on here to make Frank Robinson the National League's 1961 most valuable player and there is considerable justification for it. Without Robby, a product of Oakland's McClymonds High School like his teammate Vada Pinson, the Reds would not be on top as they are today.

"Robby," wrote Smith, "is the one stickout candidate. He is running second to the Pirates' Roberto Clemente for the batting crown; he is neck-and-neck with the Giants' Orlando Cepeda in the N.L. homerun derby and RBI race, and he is one of the top base stealers in the majors with 20, including a recent theft of home."

WE ARE IN complete agreement with Smith on his nomination. The MVP award should not necessarily be given to a member of the pennant winner. And often it isn't.

Chicago's Ernie Banks, the only man to wit it in consecutive years, was the MVP pick of the baseball writers in 1958-59 although the Cubs then, as now, were a second division outfit. But when one man, such as Robinson, has done so much for a pennant contender there should be no doubt about his value.

"Robby," says Cincy manager Fred Hutchinson who understandably endorses the Robinson MVP boom, "is a complete ball player. He's one of the best players in the league and has the opportunity to become one of the greats in the game.

"He can do it with the bat, in the field and on the bases. He always has been one of the league's better base runners and this year he has even been more aggressive in his steals. The tremendous power he has at bat comes from his quick wrists. And he also can check his swing as quick as anyone in the game. In the field he does a fine job. What more can you ask of a player?"

The 6-1, 186-pound Robinson was National League "Rookie of the Year" in 1956 when he hit 38 homers to tie the all-time major league record for first-year men; N.L. "Sophomore of the Year" in 1957; Sporting News' All-Star left fielder in 1958; Cincinnati's local MVP winner in 1959, and the major leagues top slugger (extra bases) last year with a mark of .595.

ROBINSON, youngest of 11 children, has averaged 33 homers, 90 RBI's and a .298 batting average during his five seasons with the Reds. At his present .340 clip he is certain to bring all those marks up. He always seems to do better in the second half of the season.

This year he got off to one of his worst starts. As of April 27 he was batting .174; on May 3 it was .194; then on May 10 he began a 10 game streak and by May 21 he was .301.

"He has quite a list of accomplishments for a youngster," says Hutchinson, "but I believe he has only touched the possibilities his potential holds."

Browns To Send Vets After Rams

It will be the third National Football League exhibition game for each club. The Browns were soundly thumped in their opener by the Detroit Lions, then beat the San Francisco 49ers. The Rams trimmed the Washington Redskins and tied the New York Giants.

Plum completed 22 of 29 passes last Sunday against the 49ers and the last one to Renfro gave Cleveland a 27-24 victory.

Johnny Morrow, former Ram center, will be at center for the Browns, who also have guard Duane Putnam, end Leon Clarke and tackle Paul Dickson, all former Ram performers.

Hayward Girl Eliminates Golf Champ

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Like a girl stepping from rock to slippery rock across a rushing stream, 17-year-old Mary Lowell of Hayward, Calif., moved from champion to champion today in her ambitious attempt to add the USGA Women's Amateur title to the National Junior golf crown she won last week in Seattle.

She shocked the galleries and the other players yesterday by eliminating JoAnne Gunderson of Seattle, the defending queen of American golf, 1-up on the 19th hole.

Dumont Wins 3-0 In Softball Loop

Dumont defeated Terra Linda 3-0 in a snappy San Rafael Recreation Department "A" League game at Albert Park last night.

Dumont pitcher Walker gave up only one hit and both teams played errorless ball in the contest.

The "B" League tilt was something else—a freescoring affair. Fairchild won from Marvel 11-8 as the two teams needed only a total of 10 hits between them to account for their 19 runs.

Today's Fight Fan Thirsty For Blood

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Matchmaker Teddy Brenner of Madison Square Garden blames former middleweight champion Rocky Graziano for the modern boxing buff's insistence on "blood and thunder" in every round of every fight.

"Because of Graziano's wild, hell-for-leather ring performances from 1944 through 1952," said Brenner today, "the action in nearly every main event now is so fast and so savage that it's a rare bout in which neither fighter suffers some injury."

Rangy, dark-haired Brenner said the fans, particularly the television fans, have become so accustomed to the speedy, bombing type of fight that when anyone attempts to box craftily and wait for openings, the action seems to drag and the fans feel like yelling, "Throw the bum out."

BUSY BRITTON

"Imagine," continued the matchmaker, "what would happen today if we attempted to stage fights like some of those in the famous Jack Britton-Ted Kid Lewis series of 17. Some were for the welterweight title but most of them were no-decision affairs. Britton was a master boxer. But do you think, if he was fighting today, he could go through four bouts in quick succession with one opponent like he did during his 19 appearances in 1917, for example."

In 1917, Britton fought Lewis on May 19 at Toronto, June 6 at St. Louis, June 14 at New York and June 25 at Dayton, Ohio. The first three engagements were 10-round no-decision affairs, but the Dayton bout was a 20-rounder in which Britton lost the welterweight crown to England's Lewis. They boxed a total of 50 rounds in little more than a month.

LAYOFF REQUIRED

"They couldn't have done that today," Brenner stressed, "because of the punishment each necessarily would have inflicted upon the other. Moreover, the boxing commissions today appreciate the pace and the savagery of action, and no commission would permit a main-event fighter to box on June 6 and again on June 14 because a lapse of at least 10 days is now required between bouts."

Chatting in his office at the Garden, Brenner grinned and added that the peak of Britton's close-together bouts actually was attained in 1912 when he fought Billy Bennet at Brooklyn, Dec. 5; Young Loughrey at Philadelphia, Dec. 6; Frankie Nelson at New York, Dec. 17; Young Ahearn at Brooklyn, Dec. 23, and Tommy O'Keefe at Philadelphia, Dec. 25.

Teddy admitted there were some exceptions to the slow pace in the old days when men like Jack Dempsy and Benny Leonard faced opponents. But he emphasized that generally the action was slower and the punishment less. "Movies of the old-time fights show that," he asserted.

BOXERS UNPOPULAR

Since Rocky Graziano popularized the gong-to-gong, slam-bang fight, Brenner explained, it's almost impossible to stage a bout between smart boxer-punchers like Harold Johnson and Eddie Machen without incurring the wrath of the fans.

"If a smart fighter waits for openings today, he'll be waiting for fights too," Teddy concluded. "And that's not smart."

Home Run Pressure Has Done Some Funny Things

DETROIT (AP) — Supposin' Roger Maris and/or Mickey Mantle should reach the 59-homer mark sometime next month in their assault on Babe Ruth's record of 60.

What'll be the effect on the American League pennant race? Can it backfire on the New York Yankees?

"I don't know, I can't be sure," said manager Bob Scheffing, whose Detroit Tigers are chasing Maris, Mantle and the rest of the Yankees. "It's bound to bother them some. It may even hurt the Yankees but I can't say.

"Wouldn't it be something if both of them hit 65 and the Yankees finished second?"

Pressure has done funny things to players who've come close to the Babe's mark. Ask Hank Greenberg or Jimmy Foxx. Each missed the magic 60th homer by two. But neither was on a team scrambling for a pennant.

"I had Steve Bilko out in the Coast League in 1956 and he was trying to hit 60," Scheffing recalled. "He got to 55 and I'll bet he didn't hit another in his last 10 games. The club record was 56 and he didn't even reach that and we already had won the pennant

The next year Bilko did reach 56, but failed to make it to 60.

"I can't predict how it will affect Maris and Mantle if they get near to Ruth, but let's face it, most of the recent home run champions haven't been on the team that's won the pennant," said Scheffing.

In the 33 seasons since Ruth established the big record, only nine champions or co-champions made it into the World Series.

Fast Field Looms For Amateur Classic

NEW YORK (AP)—Seven past champions, including 1960 winner Deane Beman of Arlington, Va., head a record entry list of 2,019 for the National Amateur Golf Championship to be played at Pebble Beach, Calif., Sept. 11-16.

The entry list will be trimmed to 200 for the tournament proper during 36-hole qualifying tests at 37 sectional sites Aug. 28, 29 and 31.

The seven former champs plus 21 others will be exempt from qualifying on the basis of their past records.

REDS, BENGALS WINNING AT THE BOXOFFICE

NEW YORK (AP) — Surprisingly good showings in the baseball pennant races by the Detroit Tigers and Cincinnati Reds have boosted their home attendances this season. Both have already surpassed their 1960 totals.

The Tigers have played before 1,340,930 customers and the Reds to 762,520. Last season, Detroit's total was 1,167,669 and Cincinnati's 663,486.

Through Sunday's games, the Tigers showed an increase of 235,000 and the Reds were up 245,000. All of the other teams were under last year's figures. Those showing the largest deficits were the Chicago White Sox 441,000), Los Angeles Dodgers (410,000), San Francisco 313,000), Pittsburgh (320,000) and Milwaukee (314,000).

The major leagues drew 1,076,166 paid last week, lifting the 1961 total to 15,013,116—seven per cent under last year.

Lane Bounced From His Job With Athletics

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Frank Lane, baseball's most talkative figure was bounced out of his job yesterday as general manager of the Kansas City Athletics by owner Charles O. Finley, who accused Lane of spreading false rumors about the club.

"It's a great relief," Lane told a newsman today, "I knew it was coming."

ONE RUMOR

Finley said one of the rumors Lane started was that the A's, mired in tenth place in the American League, might be shifted to Dallas-Fort Worth as reported in the Kansas City Star last week.

Finley denied he planned to move the club and charged two Star baseball writers, who criticized him, with accepting payola from a former clubowner, the late Arnold Johnson. The newspaper and two writers, sports editor Ernest Mehl and baseball reported Joe McGuff, denied the charges.

"Lane spread rumors all over the United States, and wherever I went and read a newspaper I could see nothing but poison and dirt that he had left behind," Finley said in announcing Lane's dismissal at a news conference in his Chicago insurance office. He appointed Pat Friday, 37, a vice president of the club and an official in his insurance business, to succeed Lane.

TO BE PAID OFF

Lane, who came here from the Cleveland Indians, also has served as general manager with the Chicago White Sox and the St. Louis Cardinals. Always a fast-talking free-wheeling trader of baseball players, he had a four year contract. Finley said he would be paid off on the remaining three years at $50,000 a year.

Lane commented, "It was an absolutely hopeless situation as far as I was concerned. Those I feel sorry for are the baseball fans of Kansas City for having to put up with such an operation as this."

Lane said he had no immediate plans but that he would very much like to have the job as general manager of the Chicago White Sox is Hank Greenberg vacates the post at the end of the season.

New Raiders Fail To Show As Scheduled

SANTA CRUZ (AP) — Volney Peters, a 6-4, 240-pound veteran defensive tackle, is missing. That is, he's missing as far as the Oakland Raiders are concerned.

The Raiders acquired Peters from the San Diego Chargers. He was supposed to report at noon yesterday. He didn't.

What's more, rookie defensive tackle Francis Morelli of Colgate, shuttled West by the New York Titans, is also missing.

Both were heavily counted on by Coach Eddie Erdelatz to help fill defensive gaps which in two American Football League games to date have allowed the enemy 83 points.

Formidable Field Takes Shape In Senior Tourney

Strong entries are coming in for the Marin Senior Invitational Golf Tournament to be played next Wednesday on the Peacock Gap course.

Marin's Bob Russell, a prize winner in the recent Far Western Tournament, will play. Other Marinites definitely entered include Galen Miller, E. Frink, Jack Harrison, Ed Cushly, T. W. Wallace, and J. E. Langton.

This year, for the first time, a pre-senior division is included in western senior tournaments for players over 45.

Keeler Nash, in charge of the tourney, says entry forms may be obtained at any Marin golf club. Entries close Saturday for advance starting times. Late entrants will have to tee off after 10:30 a.m.

Lake Michigan Bested By Marathon Swimmer

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP)—Ted Erikson, 33, a rocket fuels engineer whose hobby is swimming, was pulled out of the choppy, rain-splashed waters of Lake Michigan last night after completing a grueling swim of 36 hours and 37 minutes from Chicago.

Erikson, the first person ever to swim across the southern tip of Lake Michigan, was cheered by a crowd of several thousand waiting in the rain.

Married and the father of two, Erikson wanted to go home—and take a shower. Instead, he was taken to a hospital where he was given oxygen and a sedative for sleep. He was reported in excellent condition.

"I don't want to go to the hospital," he had told his wife, Loretta who had coached him from a boat during the long swim. "I want to go home."

Erikson and five other swimmers, including two women, started the fifth annual Lake Michigan swim challenge at 8 a.m. Monday from Chicago's Burnham Park. One by one, the other five dropped out.

Sponsor of the swim, a Chicago auto dealer who offered a purse of $3,675—$100 a mile—for the winner, claimed Erikson set a world record for open water long distance swimming.

Mrs. Erikson said her husband, employed at the Armour Research Foundation, has been swimming for 15 years. His previous record in long distance swimming is 15 miles in 12 hours.

Tombstone Smith Gets Up To Win Verdict In Fresno

FRESNO (UPI) — Irish Wayne Thornton blasted Charlie (Tombstone) Smith to the canvas for a nine-count in the final round last night, but when Smith got up groggy Thornton was too played out to finish him off. The decision went to Smith.

It was Thornton's first defeat in 16 fights and the Fresno boxer immediately asked for a rematch with Smith, a Los Angeles middleweight who formerly held the state title. Smith weighed 167 to Thornton's 161.

Thornton took the attack for the first two rounds, but after that he suffered a relentless pounding by Smith until the 10th when he dropped Tombstone with a hard right to the head. With a knockout victory available for the asking, Thornton was apparently paralyzed by fatigue and unable to take it.

Chess Pie A Special Favorite At Hospital Coffee Shop

Eagerly watched for is a Chess Pie donated regularly by Mrs. Webster D. Wilson of 701 Appleberry Drive, Lucas Valley. The recipe which Mrs. Wilson has offered to share with readers of the Independent-Journal is listed below:

CHESS PIE

1 cup seedless raisins
1 cup chopped walnuts
2 eggs
⅔ cup sugar (white or brown)
⅔ cup corn syrup
⅓ cup butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 9" pastry-lined pie pan

Place raisins in sieve over boiling water, cover and steam 10 minutes. Beat eggs and sugar until thick; add corn syrup, butter, raisins, nuts and vanilla. Pour into uncooked pastry-lined 9" pan. Bake at 300° for one hour.

Mrs. Wilson, whose husband is principal of the Terra Linda elementary school, keeps a busy schedule homemaking for him and their three children, Webster, Jr., age 14, Mark, age 11, and Laura, age 5.

Besides being a wonderful cook Mrs. Wilson devotes time to PTA work, is an inveterate tennis player, loves gardening and has done several interesting mosaics. She is an active member, too, of the Marin Branch of the AAUW as well as working with the Lucas Valley Guild of the Junior Museum of Marin.

Mrs. Wilson became interested in contributing to the Marin General Hospital Coffee Shop when she read in an Independent-Journal feature article about the work the volunteers are doing and the contributions that are being made. Since then she has been a regular donor to Marin General Hospital's Coffee Shop which is operated for the benefit of visitors, patients and personnel. Proceeds are used to buy needed equipment for Marin General Hospital.

Recently the Pink Ladies donated $25,000 of the profits they have been accumulating over several years to build a new, large coffee shop in conjunction with the current construction of a 116 bed addition to Marin General Hospital which will be ready in early 1963.

An interesting aside to Mrs. Wilson's chess pie recipe is the fact that the walnuts she uses in it come from their 330 acre walnut orchard in Lake County. Needless to say she has a file on "walnut recipes." She says "I am so happy to belong to the 'cake of the month club' at Marin General Hospital which as you can see from my donation does not limit itself to just cakes. It is my pleasure to contribute." Arrangements for donations on a regular basis may be made by contacting Mrs. Frank Moore, director of volunteers, Marin General Hospital.

Skewered Meat, Hawaiian-Style A Tasty Dish

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Broiled over charcoal or just in a regular kitchen range, this way of serving beef is one we can highly recommend.

HAWAIIAN CABOBS

2 pounds boneless round or chuck steak (cut in 1-inch cubes)
Unseasoned meat tenderizing salt
¼ cup soy sauce
½ teaspoon ground ginger
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 tablespoon sugar
1 can (14 ounces or 1 pound, 4 ounces) pineapple chunks
1 basket egg tomatoes or 3 medium or large tomatoes

Sprinkle the meat cubes with the tenderizer and pierce with a fork to allow tenderizer to penetrate. Mix soy sauce, ginger, oil, sugar and ¼ cup of the syrup drained from the pineapple. Marinate meat in soy sauce mixture for 1 hour at room temperature, turning occasionally; if you want to prepare meat several hours ahead, refrigerate meat-in-marinade after the hour. Thread beef cubes on 6 long skewers, alternating with drained pineapple chunks and egg tomatoes or quartered medium or large tomatoes. Broil until done as much as desired, turning skewers to brown meat on all sides.

Make Parfait With Custard And Fruit

An elegantly simple dessert is a parfait of cool, creamy custard layered with any summer-ripe fresh fruit, such as strawberries, blueberries, sliced peaches or bananas. No need to miss the fun of serving parfaits because you don't have parfait glasses. Any tall shapely glass will do, whether a footed juice glass, straight-sided wine glass or pilsener. Or, in place of individual parfaits, use a tall apothecary jar or generous glass salad bowl for dramatic service for the group.

No longer is a creamy, smooth custard a tricky dessert to prepare. Packaged Custard Flavor Dessert Mix, available here, has made this a quick, always-certain dessert. The custard mix is cooked with 2¼ cups of milk over medium heat to a full boil. When chilled it has the smooth-to-the-tongue texture and delicate, sweetly bland goodness of the old-fashioned baked custard. Here's the recipe for the fresh fruit parfait. Try the custard also with any sweet and colorful topping, such as jam, jelly and sundae sauce.

FRESH FRUIT PARFAIT

Makes 6 servings

1 package Custard Flavor Dessert
2 cups milk
½ cup heavy cream

Combine Custard Flavor Dessert and milk in saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixtures comes to a full boil. Mixture will be thin—it thickens as it cools. Pour into bowl and chill until firm.

CREAMY COOL custard and summer-ripe fresh fruits are layered in an oversize parfait for dramatic service to a group. Arrange in an apothecary jar or a generous glass salad bowl for spooning out the tempting fruit and custard mixture. For simpler service, layer the custard and fruits, such as sliced strawberries, bananas and peaches or blueberries in individual tall glasses or dessert dishes. This elegant dessert is easy to make using creamy packaged custard flavor dessert mix and the choicest of the fruits of the season.

Lattice Top Crust For Your Peach Pie

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If it's your ambition to turn out one of summer's best delights — a fresh peach pie with a lattice-top crust — here are some suggestions to guide you.

Use freestone peaches; they are easiest to slice. Have the fruit just ripe—not too hard, not to soft.

Dip the peaches into boiling water for a moment or two, then slip off the skins by giving them a tug with the edge of a knife and your thumb.

Use the flavoring that suits your family. We suggest cinnamon in the following recipe, but nutmeg or mace may be substituted.

And so to the pastry. A lattice-top crust needs careful measuring and cutting to look its best and bake its best.

Pastry cloths on which to roll out pie dough and covers for rolling pins make pie-making so much easier than it used to be. The markings on the cloths make measuring a cinch.

Some of these pastry cloths come with wooden rods and metal strips that keep the cloth firm on your work space. And we mean work space! Until recently we had used one of these pastry cloth arrangements on a regular kitchen counter top. In our new test kitchen we have a huge round marble-topped pastry center, and we find the metal strips hold as firm on the rounded surface as they do on a straight one.

If you make pies often, and even if you don't, keep your pastry-making equipment together; beside the pastry cloth and rolling pin and its cover should go a pastry blender and a pastry wheel.

PEACH LATTICE PIE

Pastry for 2-crust pie
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons lemon juice
5 cups sliced peeled peaches
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Prepare pastry and divide almost in half. Using the large half, roll out on prepared pastry cloth to 9-inch size as marked on cloth or to about 1 inch larger around than a 9-inch pie pan held upside down over the pastry. Lift pastry and fit into 9-inch pie pan. Trim edge if necessary, leaving a ½-inch overhang. Roll out second half of pastry. Cut into ½ to ¾ inch strips using a pastry wheel. Stir together well the sugar, flour and cinnamon. Measure lemon juice into a bowl and as you slice and measure the peaches, add them to the lemon juice, tossing to coat the peaches with the juice and keep them from turning dark. Drain off lemon juice (unless you want a tart pie) and mix peaches with the sugar mixture; turn into prepared pastry-line pie pan. Dot with butter. Place half the pastry strips over the pie. Starting at center, fold back every other strip and weave additional strips diagonally across pie, under and over strips until top is covered. Press ends of strips to rim. Fold the overhanging crust up and over and flute the edge. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven 45 to 50 minutes or until pastry is golden brown.

Stuff Those 'Burgers And Grill 'Em

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Ever stuff hamburgers and grill them outdoors?

Once we discovered how fine these burgers taste, we went to town and tried many combinations. Try some of ours or create your own.

Before stuffing, divide each pound of ground beef into eight portions and flatten them well. Arrange the stuffing over half the patties; press the remaining patties over the stuffing. Seal the edges thoroughly, working the meat together with your fingers.

HAMBURGER STUFFING COMBINATIONS

Stuffed hard-cooked egg halves; Use one egg half for each burger. For these mash the hard-cooked yolks with a little butter or margarine and drained pickle relish.

Dry onion soup mix. Use this just as it comes out of the envelope, adding a teaspoon for each hamburger.

Onion rings marinated in olive oil and wine vinegar and drained.

FOR A GO-ALONG

Don't serve these stuffed hamburgers sandwiched into buns with the usual strong relishes or your eaters will miss the true flavor of the stuffing.

Symphony Auxiliary Names Mrs. Schultz As First President

Others elected were mesdames Eugene Yates, vice president; Charles Smith, secretary; and Roy Michael, treasurer. Mrs. Harold Schutte and Mrs. J. Benton Tulley were named co-chairmen of the by-laws committee.

Mrs. John Wolfe, newly elected president of the Symphony Guild of Marin, explained that the purpose of the auxiliary will be to handle the social and extracurricular activities of the symphony and relieve the Symphony Guild of some of the managerial problems of the large organization.

Prospective members were selected by a sponsoring committee composed of the five past women presidents of the Symphony Guild. In order of their respective terms they are Mesdames Robert Maguire, Harrison Leppo, Jack McCarthy, Lesoine and Schultz.

Personal invitations were extended by the committee to women who have served as chairmen of past social activities, women whose husbands are on the Symphony Guild board or women who have been board members themselves.

Mrs. Powers Symington of San Francisco and formerly of Marin, founder of the Marin Music Chest, sent personal greetings to the neophyte organization, as did Mrs. Norman Livermore of Ross.

Many others who were invited expressed an interest in joining the group but explained that they would be away on vacation at the time of the first meeting.

Events to be directed by the auxiliary will be the Downbeat Tea in September, the Symphony Previews, and the Symphony Ball in January, as well as other activities to be announced.

Plans for the Downbeat Tea were discussed, and Mrs. Lesoine was appointed chairman for the event to be given at the home of Mrs. Anderson in San Rafael on Sept. 20 at 1:15 p.m. Assisting Mrs. Lesoine will be Mrs. Finn, who will be in charge of invitations.

Kay Parmeter To Be Bride On Nov. 25

The engagement and approaching marriage of Kay Irene Parmeter of Sleepy Hollow and Paul Donald Pierce of Fairfax has been announced.

The bride-elect is the daughter of R. S. Parmeter of Sleepy Hollow and the late Mrs. Parmeter. She was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and College of Marin. Vicki Lee Parmeter is her sister. Mrs. B. H. Parmenter of Enumclaw, Wash., and Mrs. J. R. Parmeter of Seattle, are her grandmothers.

The prospective bridegroom, son of Mrs. George Calligan of Yuba City and Farris Pierce of Sacramento, was graduated from Sir Francis Drake and attended College of Marin. He plans to continue his education at the University of Nevada. Diane Pierce of Fairfax is his sister. He is the grandson of Mrs. Eileen Pierce of Yuba City.

The wedding will be an event of Nov. 25.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mrs. Shone (Daisy) Hollingsworth, who returned from Europe Monday and announced plans for her marriage, is being honored this afternoon at an informal reception and greeting party by her friends at the Marin Art and Garden Center with which she has been identified since its beginning.

She and her fiance, Raoul L. Edmunds of Montclair in the East Bay, were feted at the family dinner party hosted Monday night by Daisy's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Kenneth Peters of Ross. Also present were Daisy's daughter, Mrs. Donald Henry of Berkeley and her husband.

The future benedict, a long time family friend, is godfather of Mrs. Henry. The couple will be married in Carson City, Nev. Sept. 1.

Daisy left for England June 15 and made an extended stay with a long time friend. Then she went to Norway, France, Switzerland and Italy and flew home from Amsterdam.

The twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Meyer of Fairhills will be celebrated Saturday at a cocktail party and dinner at the Meadow Club. Among those attending will be relatives and close friends. Present will be the Meyers' daughter, Mrs. Franklin Keebaugh (Diane Meyer) of Sacramento and her husband and their other daughter, Carol Meyer, a recent graduate of San Rafael High School, who has enrolled at San Francisco State College. Also there will be Fred's sister, Mrs. William Vondenberg of San Francisco, her husband and their daughter Joanne, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keebaugh of San Diego and Mr. and Mrs. Mauro Accomazzo, who will fly up from Los Angeles.

The Meyers, who were married in Bangor, Me., have lived in Marin 12 years.

Santa Barbara has been the vacation locale for two Belvedere families. The George W. Goddards will be there until the end of August. The Charles Lennihans and their children have just returned from the Channel City.

IN THEIR NEW HOME in Greenbrae are Mr. and Mrs. R. Keith Dearth, who have had a busy summer. Early in the year they listed their home at 128 Spencer Avenue, Sausalito, for sale. Vacation time came along and they flew back to Lansing, Mich., to pick up a new car, after which they drove to Nashville, Tenn. to visit with the Gilbert Harolds, and then drove back to find their Sausalito home had been sold and the buyers wanted immediate occupancy. Greenbrae being the favored district, and with no time to build a new home, they chose the 242 N. Almenar Drive home. However, a hill has been removed in back of the house to make room for a swimming pool and patio.

Monday evening the family gathered to celebrate Mrs. Dearth's birthday and the first wedding anniversary of the Dearths' nephew James Kane, and his wife, the former Sue Stevenson. Also present were the Dearths' son, Kevin, and his wife, Dana, their daughter, Duveen Ingalls and her husband Alden "Bud" Ingalls, Mr. Dearth's sister, Mrs. Ethel Curtis, and another nephew, Bill Kane. Later the group had dinner at Sabella's.

Thirty-three Junior Gray Ladies of the Marin County Chapter, American Red Cross, were capped at ceremonies on Aug. 16. The ceremony, which followed a six-week summer recreation program at Marin Aid to Retarded Children's summer day camp, was held at the Meadow Park School at Hamilton Air Force Base.

This is the third year the members of the Junior Red Cross have helped at the summer recreation program for retarded children, including field trips, games and craft activities and a water safety program. This year 53 volunteers and the children traveled to camp each day by chartered bus provided by MARC, giving them additional opportunity to get acquainted.

Mrs. Frank Duhme, Jr. Red Cross Chapter chairman, presented the certificates and Daryl Hopkins, chairman of educational relations for the Marin Chapter, the pins and stripes. The volunteers were capped by Mrs. Tordis Busskohl, director of MARC's summer program. Others participating in the ceremony were Mrs. Thomas E. Gilboy, chairman of water safety for the Red Cross. Miss Mary Murray, assistant director of the summer program and Carmel Costello, Alexa Shanley, Mary Catherine Taylor and Jeanne Convis.

Peter Pan Chapter Planning A Party

The Greenbrae garden of Mr. and Mrs. James Egger will be the setting Sept. 9 for a party for members of the Peter Pan Chapter of Children's Home Society and their husbands.

The topic of conversation will include the upcoming "Meet the 49ers—Football Clinic," a fund-raising effort scheduled Sept. 16 at Albert Field in San Rafael.

Award
margarine
Made with Liquid Vegetable Oils
TO PROTECT FLAVOR KEEP REFRIGERATED
Another Swift's Premium Product

—the delicious new kind of margarine that has at least 50% more liquid poly-unsaturated vegetable oil than any other spread your food store sells.

Once you've tried new Award Margarine, we think you'll want to serve it regularly. Every easy-spreading pat increases the amount of desirable poly-unsaturated fat your family eats.

How to collect your 50¢

Cut out the section from the back panel of the Award package which reads, "The new margarine that's made mostly with poly-unsaturated liquid vegetable oil" and mail it to Award, P.O. Box 5466, Chicago 77, Illinois. You will receive a bright new 50¢ piece which will cover the cost of the pound package you buy, the postage you pay, and leave you a few extra pennies. Offer limited to one request per family. This offer expires December 31, 1961.

SO SOFT-TEXTURED IT ALMOST SPREADS ITSELF

Award is somewhat softer than ordinary margarine because it contains at least 50% more liquid vegetable oil. This is the reason it spreads so easily, so smoothly. At the same time, when properly chilled, Award has a texture that is both firm and appetizing.

Your food store knows how important it is to keep Award Margarine in the refrigerator case. You will want to store it the same way at home—either in your refrigerator or freezer.

Hadassah Tea Set Sept. 6

The garden of the Sam Kramer home in San Rafael will be the setting of this year's Hadassah Membership Dessert Tea, the annual event sponsored by Marin chapter Hadassah, this year on Sept. 6.

Mrs. Edgar Goldstein, national vice president of Brandeis University and national woman's committee board member of the Jewish Welfare Fund, will be guest speaker. A former vice president of Hadassah's regional board, Mrs. Goldstein has just returned from an extensive tour of Israel.

Special attraction at this year's membership tea will be a diving exhibition by national diving champion, Morley Shapiro. He will be accompanied by two members of the Ann Curtis Swimming School Aquacade. Mr. Shapiro, who currently holds two international military diving championships, is leaving shortly to participate in the Maccabee Olympics in Israel.

Persons interested in joining Marin chapter Hadassah are welcome to attend the Dessert Tea which will begin at 1 p.m.

BOUND FOR AUSTRALIA

A traveling exhibit showing the American way of life for youngsters is being assembled by the San Rafael J-C Ettes to be sent next month to Adelaide, South Australia. Here packing up the typical playmate dolls of American children are Mrs. Robert Cassassa, president, and Mrs. Gordon Ness, secretary-treasurer. The exhibit of dolls, toys and pictures of American children at play will represent the United States in the Holdfast Bay J-C (Australia) exhibit competition. The San Rafael group will then donate the toys to needy Australian youngsters. (Independent-Journal photo)

FOOD AND THE FAMILY

Success, Americanism Seen In 'Steak And Salad' Menu

By BARBARA HOSMER

Roast beef or steak, baked potato, a vegetable and a green salad, coffee and sometimes ice cream or pie—Is this your favorite menu? Then you belong to the upper middle social strata, social researchers say.

The underlying reason for the popularity of this meal may be its "Americanism" or remoteness from foreign ethnic origins, they suggest. They continue:

"By serving this kind of meal people may be demonstrating how far they've progressed and outgrown their ancestry and how successful and American they've become."

Also, the survey team says, cooking American style seems to have become synonymous with "easy-to-make," and this menu is regarded as easy to prepare, nourishing and filling, as well as good tasting.

But nevertheless a number of housewives who themselves serve this steak or roast beef menu recall fondly the exotic dishes their mothers and grandmothers cooked.

They remember the meals that often took many hours or even days to make, but they themselves feel inadequate to the job of cooking the way their mothers did. Many feel that no matter how hard they try "it will never taste as good as Mother made."

If Mother is still around she is sometimes called into the kitchen to recreate her specialties and these traditional dishes are regarded as a rare treat by the family.

The survey concludes that this traditional cooking is a dying art. Few in the next generation are bing taught to cook the special family or ethnic dishes. They go with the instant potatoes and TV diners, roasts, chops or barbecued hamburgers so the kids can get to Little League lots and the parents to the P-TA or movies. Leisurely meals are reserved for Thanksgiving or Christmas or special birthday dinners.

This is what the researchers found going on among the middle class and upper rungs of American social ladder. They generalize: "the higher the socio-economic group to which the family belongs, the further removed are their meals from traditional cookery."

Dishes of ethnic origin are preserved mainly in the less assimilated groups of Americans. Here traditional dishes are routinely prepared and the family members take this fare for granted.

One wife of German descent said she learned all the dishes she cooks from her mother and landlady in Germany. "I don't cook many American things unless it is hotdogs or such."

Over and over the survey showed that mother was the central influence in transmitting cultural patterns of which foods are an important part until the daughter wishes to be more "American."

Then as the daughter turns away from traditional dishes she turns to newspapers, magazines, books, television and friends' suggestions as sources of food knowledge. They tear recipes from papers and magazines and collect cookbooks, and in turn pass these habits on to their daughters, who experiment with "new foods."

Mill Valley Pair Plans Europe Trip

They will leave Sept. 2 and go directly to Copenhagen to meet the Schultzes' son, Kenneth, who is a student at Stanford-in-Germany at Beutelsbach near Stuttgart.

Between quarters he has the month of September off and plans to tour the Scandinavian countries, Scotland and England—then go to Paris. Mrs. Schultz and her mother will cover as much of the itinerary with him as they can and will go on to join a tour leaving from London for various places in Europe.

They are looking forward especially to visiting Ragunda near Stockholm, Sweden, the home town of Mrs. Schultz's late father, and to seeing Janey Marsh of Mill Valley, who will be studying music at Salzburg. Janey and Kenneth have been friends since they were children.

Mrs. Schultz and her mother will make the return trip by polar flight from Copenhagen to New York, where they will spend a few days before returning to California on Nov. 10.

Barbecue Is Given By Hardly Able Dancers

Patricia Brady Wed In Sonoma To Richard Leslie

Patricia Ann Brady of Mill Valley and Richard Leslie of Bogalusa, La., were married on July 29 in a 3:30 p.m. ceremony performed by Judge Grimstead at his home in Sonoma.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brady of Mill Valley, recited her vows in a green box suit and black velvet hat, and her bridesmaid, Sue Lewis of Mill Valley, wore a yellow and white silk sheath and white hat. Best man was Grey Homan of Mill Valley.

The new Mrs. Leslie was graduated from Tamalpais High School last June. She has two brothers, Lawrence and James Brady of Mill Valley.

The bridegroom completed his high school education in the U.S. Navy and is now stationed at Mare Island Naval Shipyard. He expects to go overseas shortly and while he is gone Patricia will live with her grandparents in Los Angeles.

HONEY GRAHAMS

Breathes there a lad with taste so dead, he never to his Mom has said, "Hey, I'm hungry"? Not in these parts, anyway. And the best cure I know for that empty feeling, is a box of NABISCO Sugar Honey Graham Crackers — made with lots of real Graham flour and pure honey. They're so nutritious, yet they won't spoil young appetites. Sugar Honey Grahams are a wholesome treat for hungry people of all ages.

Every Sunday cook has his own little bag of tricks, but one man I know carries his in a tiny bottle—LA CHOY Soy Sauce. He blends it with honey to make a delicious basting sauce for fowl; with ketchup and horseradish to paint big, fat hamburgers while they cook. Ever try it on string beans—or baked potatoes? LA CHOY Soy Sauce is real magic at a charcoal grill.

Isn't it a joy to find a flavoring extract which won't cook out or freeze out? SCHILLING Flavors are the very highest quality; their full, rich goodness is not lost in the oven or the refrigerator. And their variety—from Vanilla to Banana, Cherry, Anise, a dozen others. SCHILLING Wintergreen gives a piquant touch to pear salad, makes divinity fudge something special!

★ A unique gift which cannot be obtained elsewhere, is this beautiful new hostess apron: Send only $1.25 and 1 label from any Bonnie Hubbard product or a reasonable facsimile, or masthead from this column, to Bonnie Hubbard Hostess Apron, Box 62, Los Angeles 51.

KAISER Foil loves the ladies, and the ladies all love KAISER! And why shouldn't they adore the reliable quilted broiler foil, which preserves food flavors, saves dishwashing, lines drawers and shelves and performs dozens of chores around the house? Need a baking dish or a saucepan cover? KAISER Quilted Foil will pinch-hit, at the barbecue grill or in your own kitchen.

All dressed up in a party dress and a pretty apron, it's pleasant to be the hostess. But the salad must be just right: crisp, tender lettuce, rosy tomatoes, bright green peppers, cut into pretty wheels. The dressing—made with STAR Olive Oil, of course, because gourmets prefer this delicate oil from Lucca. STAR never intrudes; it brings out natural good flavor.

Whether it's a snack for a small boy or a dinner for a group, SCOTT Paper Napkins are right at home. The new Family size is especially good for a dinner or a buffet; they have a deep-quilted texture that makes them soft, like cloth, pleasant to use. And they come in the softest colors, too, making a table attractive, and harmonizing with flowers—good napkins, at a thrifty price.

If cats could talk—oh, I know they do, but sometimes the language isn't always clear! Because if it was, more cats would be enjoying HOLSUM Cat Food, the food which so deliciously blends the flavors of fresh fish and fresh meat that cats love it—and which contains elements to keep a kitty happy and well-fed.

"Who-oo's going to wash the dishes? Ever hear that ghostly voice in your ear? Yes, you KNOW who's going to wash the dishes—but if there is a box of CALGON in the cupboard, you're not worrying. This wonderful water softener works miracles in the dish pan. Add CALGON and let dishes, silver, pots, pans soak; you'll find them clean and shining when you return.

See you next week!

Lifelong Patterns For Health Set During Baby's Early Years

"Is mothering really important?" a woman asks. "I have three small children. I'm their slave. Before they came I taught school. I loved it. Now I spend my time doing menial tasks. Any moron could do what I do. I want to go back to teaching. Yet you, Dr. Barbour say mothering is the most important job in the world. Are you right? If so, why?"

I'm right. Here is why. Lifelong patterns of mental health or ill health are set during the first months of life. Character traits are established by the time children are 4 or 5. Do a good job of mothering while your children are little, and their future will be rosy. Neglect them, and it will be black. Your little ones need your minute-by-minute love and guidance.

Dozens of scientific studies back up what I say. One recent report came from a big medical school. Several psychiatrists followed two groups of babies for four years. One group was in a well conducted but impersonal orphanage. The babies got good care, but little or no mothering. The other group had the sort of care you give your children. By the end of the first month character differences could be seen. At three months the unmothered babies were behind in weight and general health. They had more fears. They didn't sleep as well. They caught more colds. At the end of the first year there was a striking difference in mental capacity. By the time they were four the unmothered childrn were marked forever. The other were thriving.

Mountain Theater Locale For Olds-Wirth Nuptials

The Mountain Theater on Mt. Tamalpais was the extraordinary setting for the marriage on Saturday of Marcia Ellen Wirth and Horace Irving Olds Jr., both of Mill Valley.

The 11 a.m. double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Samuel A. Wright Jr., pastor of the Unitarian Church of Marin, in the presence of 35 guests.

When the bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Pragnell Wirth of Mill Valley, was given in marriage by Jack Gibson, her former journalism teacher at the time she was editor of the school newspaper and yell leader at Tamalpais High School, she was wearing a street length beige organza dress and matching circlet with veil.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Gonzalo Pereira of Oakland, was attired in a bouffant street length blue dress and matching veil.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Irving Olds of Mill Valley. The newlyweds then left for a camping trip in the High Sierra and on their return will live in Tiburon.

Both are graduates of Tamalpais High School and attended the college of Marin for two years.

Horace is a student at San Francisco State College, where he is preparing for a career in teaching. His bride has also attended the college and will resume her studies there in January.

Among those attending the marriage ceremony was the bridegroom's grandfather, C. Burnell Olds of Claremont.

FAMILY FARE

Make Sure A Child Hears Well Or Seek Help For Him

With school days just around the corner of the calendar it is more important than ever to make sure your child hears well. Even if he is too young for school, you should be aware of whether his hearing is normal, for hearing and speech are tied together more closely than most parents realize.

A child with impaired hearing will be slow to speak because he cannot imitate sounds he does not hear clearly.

Audiometric testing beginning the year before the child enters school and repeated every three years after is the course taken by one state school program.

Clues to your child's hearing ability are provided with the following tests. In a child 10 days to three months old, the infant usually blinks or moves his eyes or moves his body and cries at the sound of a sharp noise such as a handclap.

When he is from four to six months he will respond with his face or whole body to the sound of a familiar voice, even speaking quietly.

A baby six to 12 months old will turn his head at noises and recognize things such as a door opening have meaning to him. Sounds his own voice makes grow varied and sensible.

Babies from one to two years old should understand some words and pay attention to a quiet voice. They sometimes speak a few words themselves.

After two years the child who hears will respond to things said behind his back and will learn all sorts of words he hears around him. The child with impaired hearing needs special help to learn speech during the two to six years period.

THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes

"Hi – what's cooking in Ulcerville?"

Main Street Housewife Finds European Fashion Too Elegant

NEW YORK (UPI)—A 27-year-old housewife from "Main Street, USA" has been to Rome, Florence and Paris to see the fashion showings of Europe's haute couture houses and come back with only one purchase—a little denim suit.

"It's the only thing I bought and I got it in a little shop in Paris because it was too chilly for my American wardrobe," said Sue Evers, mother of three from Allentown, Pa. "The clothes I saw at the big fashion houses aren't for Main Street, not by a long shot."

Mrs. Evers, whose husband is a draftsman for a cement company, won the high fashion tour in a contest conducted by the Allentown newspapers. She wrote a poem saying she'd like to make the trip because "to meet the people of the world wasn't my destiny."

EVERYONE GRACIOUS

"The trip was everything I ever dreamed it would be," she said. "Everyone was so gracious to me and made me feel at ease. But the designers think only of their elegant audiences when they create clothes. They certainly aren't thinking about housewives like me."

Mrs. Evers said almost none of the evening clothes would do for Allentown and many of the day clothes would have to be adapted to American needs. She did like the sports clothes, especially in Italy, but found them much too expensive.

"They were simple enough in design for me to copy on my own sewing machine, and perhaps I will," she said. "But I won't copy the Bikini bathing suits. Who'd have the nerve to wear one of those in America?"

Mrs. Evers was entertained by mayors, movie stars, and nobility, saw her first opera at Rome's famed Baths of Caracalla, made a television film with Susan Strasberg, visited Paris' naughtiest nightclubs, toured the Louvre, and dined at the best restaurants everywhere. She also had the opportunity of visiting the apartments of two young mothers of her own income bracket in Paris and Rome.

NOW APPRECIATES

"That made me appreciate what I have back in Allentown, believe me," she said. "I'll never take refrigerators, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, supermarkets and laundromats for granted again."

Mrs. Evers said her trip also taught her to be more appreciative of art and music—"something that will make a big difference in my life."

Other things that impressed her were Rome's catacombs, the beautiful manners of European children, the courtliness of European men, and the marvelous food.

"We live in a meat and potatoes community," she said. "I can hardly wait to try fettuccini on my family, and eggplant, too, and buy some mozzarella cheese. Oh, and I want some fresh figs and prosciutto ham and lots of other things. I only hope I can keep my figure."

Rock-n-Roll Fans Now Long Hairs

NEW YORK (UPI) — The first rock-shocked teen-agers have grown up—and so have their musical tastes.

The predictions that rock 'n' roll would lead them to rack and ruin now are being disproved. It turns out that rock 'n' roll has led them to an enthusiasm for better music.

This was revealed in a survey by a maker of phonograph needles and accessories.

Seventy-eight per cent of the young persons questioned have turned to the kind of music they scorned as "square" when teen-agers.

The other 22 per cent still rocks—but not necessarily around the clock. They intersperse the rock 'n' roll discs with plain melodies, the pollsters found.

NWP Leaves Marin But One Alternative--We Must Fight

Decision of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad to abandon the collapsed tunnel at San Rafael came as a shock.

The shock wasn't so much that the railroad was interested in such a move—we had warned in this space that it was likely and again that it was unwise.

The shock was that the railroad was so indifferent to the needs of Marin County that it went so far as petitioning the Interstate Commerce Commission without ever bothering to consult city, county or state officials here or the people of Marin.

We shouldn't be shocked by this callous attitude of the railroad. Recent actions of NWP have shown complete indifference to Marin County, its growth or development. When a group of interested citizens sits down to talk about the county's future, NWP is conspicuous by its absence. In county planning, railroad officials, instead of being leaders, have been among the missing.

Yet knowing all this, it still comes as a shock when a public service agency makes a unilateral decision affecting the welfare of an entire community, takes action to make that decision stick and then comes to the county and tries to explain what they are doing.

Actually, the railroad says soothingly, the only major effect would be in lumber which flows throughout the county from the Redwood Empire, and sand and gravel which travels from the Healdsburg area to the three pre-mix concrete plants in San Rafael.

ONLY lumber and sand and gravel, eh? Well, let's say for the sake of argument, that this is true (which it isn't). Lumber, sand and gravel are the basis of our biggest industry—home building.

Costs of homes in Marin are high enough now. Are we going to be further penalized by increased costs because sand and gravel has to be shipped from Healdsburg to Shellville to Napa to Vallejo to Richmond to Oakland, then ferried to Tiburon and finally to San Rafael?

The alternative is to truck the sand and gravel into San Rafael. Twenty to 40 railroad carfulls per day? In trucks? Added to the traffic already on crowded Puerto Suello Hill?

NWP's decision obviously will have far-reaching effects in ways railroad officials haven't even considered. And no one can possibly say what removal of rail service from southern and central Marin will mean to the county's future.

We can't rely on NWP's protestations at this point that there still will be rail service—to Tiburon and thence by barge to the mainlines. We'll bet there's a little fellow somewhere back in the deep recesses of Southern Pacific's main office (SP owns NWP) who right now is starting work on plans to abandon the Tiburon line.

NWP's precipitous action leaves Marin only one alternative—to fight the application before the I. C. C. with every fact and every argument we can muster.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

PUT YOURSELF IN THEIR PLACE

A shop in Detroit had a sign with these words hanging over its entrance:

"Do unto others as though you were the others!"

Few people have much difficulty in seeking their own personal advantage. It's something else, however, when it comes to showing a like consideration for the interests and rights of the rest of men.

Despite man's tendency to be self-centered, a divine sense of balance is so ingrained in him that he can never wholly forget that he can and should "love his neighbor as himself."

As much as you may overlook or side-step your responsibilities to others, you have an instinctive sureness in knowing how the "others" ought to treat you when you are in a tight fix.

This built-in disposition, instilled in you by God Himself, keeps reminding you that you will never be completely happy until you show the same solicitude for your fellow man that you expect yourself.

"As you would that men should do to you, do you also to them in like manner."
(Luke 6:31)

Inspire me, O Holy Spirit, to seek the same material and spiritual advantages for others that I expect for myself.

Vacations Are Like Rehearsals For That Final Retirement Day

How to retire gracefully and enjoyably is one of the major problems more and more people face as living longer becomes a mass human victory as well as an individual triumph.

What do most people really want most to perform, yesterday, today or tomorrow?

During a recent week, when the world and its purpose seemed to be balanced precariously on a fulcrum called Berlin, I took a vacation from the crises that have been our mortal bread and dread for 16 years—ever since the end of World War II.

The idea occurred to me that giving up isn't a necessary virtue and that trying to live a long and planned life is a kind of pleasurable duty.

Here I am in a 150-year-old farmhouse about 50 miles from Manhattan, and it might as well be a thousand or ten thousand miles away from the doubtful reality of human fear, I thought.

It is hot in the city, but it is cool here. I search the yard to pluck from the tomb of dead trees the kindling lumber of bright flame to illustrate the yearning that marches in every fireplace.

Today I can reach up and touch the sturdy low ceilings, and feel a distance in my reach I cannot summon. Years and years before I was born, a minister now dead married here the local couples, before this fireplace.

I go among this place and pick up for a new fire the rotting remnants of trees that saw these weddings—and survived most of them — and I wonder what happened to the honeymoons of the people and the reach to the sun of all the separate trees. What a wealth of death life is!

I sit on the porch in an old-fashioned rocking chair weathered to a wornness by earlier men. I complain about being bitten.

"Here," says the hostess, and hands me an insect gun.

This is too much progress for me on a summer's day. I am not interested in mass assassination. Instead I take an old-fashioned fly swatter.

ROCKING BACK and forth, biding my time, I knock off two daylight mosquitoes and seven houseflies without a miss, a local record for an out-of-town fellow my age.

IT IS TIME to go in, shivering a little, and light the evening fire.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

EDITOR
Independent-Journal

Point Reyes a National Seashore—No!

The present danger of nationalized land grabs is no longer Cuba, fait accompli, but the private lands of citizens of our own country. Our Founding Fathers are probably whirling dervishes because of the encroachment upon the liberties and rights granted us by the Constitution. And, we as citizens are idly watching these liberties and rights being subordinated by the larceny experts of power-hungry bureaucracies.

Carrying socialism a bit further, the basic concept of Marxism is to reduce everything to the level of the masses; or in simpler terms, take from the few with the ability and ambition to produce and acquire, and give to the majority.

Whether or not the proposed national seashore park at Point Reyes becomes a reality is beside the point. Were it needed for national security it would be another matter but, why must additional land be taken by the government when approximately fifty per cent of California is already public land of either city, county, state or federal ownership?

The population is already being stifled with taxes, and this is just another step toward national bankruptcy, which is exactly what the Soviet would like to happen to the United States.

Pressure groups, including some of our political leaders, could accomplish more for the masses they purport to help, by expending their money, time, and efforts to procure development of the thousands of acres of public land already being supported by the over-taxed populace. Why should people, all in other parts of the other forty-nine United States, be forced to pay additional taxes to support greater land masses, which less than one per cent of the population will ever have time, or care, to see?

Safety is a factor completely disregarded and policing and control has not been touched on. When a child can wander in the Samuel Taylor Park of 2,500 acres for twelve hours in complete wilderness, what would it be in the 53,000 acres of Point Reyes, which is more rugged, more remote, and has the added dangers of bogs, perpendicular cliffs and killing undertows?

In spite of the allure attributed to Point Reyes by the National Seashore Foundation, and the Sierra Club, the area is not suitable for either camping or swimming. One needs a well insulated home to be comfortable in the Point Reyes area throughout the year, including the Summer months.

Many statements have been made about lease-back to "maintain the pastoral scene." Ranches and farms require constant expenditures for upkeep. Would any rancher in his right mind, improve land, buildings and fences that did not belong to him?

Common sense and good business practices require only that property be maintained with "reasonable usage." We must then be prepared to subsidize, by taxes, ranches and ranchers who will "look pretty" from the roadways, to be constructed with even more of our precious tax dollars.

More and more of the freedoms granted by the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, are being lost each day. The so-called "purists" by their green for more and more public land are making our tax burdens so great that ambition is being stultified.

There are those who upon reading this would say, "radical." But, it was this kind of "radicalism" that was responsible for our Founding Fathers, securing our liberty, and now becomes necessary to hold inviolate our remaining precious freedoms.

Sincerely,

ESTHER W. HANKINS

Ephraiam Kishon, who writes a popular daily column for a Tel Aviv newspaper, describes Israel as "sprawled on the shore of the Mediterranean in such a way that half an hour's drive from any point in the country will take you either to the seashore or into captivity at the hands of the Arab Legion."

Once Kishon complained in court about being smacked by a taxicab, but the magistrate quickly put him in his place. "See how Israel has progressed," boasted His Honor. "When the pioneers first came here, some of them had to wait 18 or 20 years before there WERE any taxicabs to knock them down!"

"My mother," boasted a little girl in a Bevery Hills schools, "makes up jokes." "Well, well," nodded the teacher, impressed. "One of those highly paid comedy writers, eh?"

By RANDALL GOULD

Government By Whim Is No Fun To Watch On Large Or Small Scale

The source was a female member of the supervisors' audience as they ground toward conclusion of the final budget.

She looked at the supervisors, but she meant me too. A few days before she'd spoken more at length, and not a word got into the I-J.

This, she explained to me, was a great injustice. She is not a subscriber, she said, and had been put to a world of fruitless bother to borrow next day's paper.

Government by whim is no fun to witness. And I'd nursed a growing conviction that Judge Richard Sims had already coined a telling phrase when a few days ago he warned against "two-bit government" which, he said, Marin doesn't want.

As one taxpayer I don't want it, but I think we're close to getting it right now. There have been some pretty sleasy happenings lately.

Opportunism, rule-breaking and a tendency to toy with sharp practice — how much pride can we take in things to be described in no kinder words?

The biggest hunk of opportunism was not in such matters as a childish piece of higgedly-piggedly to take five cents off the tax rate this year—by postponing civic center payment till next fiscal year. Yes, I know the contractor will get paid if necessary by bookkeeping funny business, borrowing from ourselves. Phooie.

WHAT WAS REALLY bad was that the board ducked its overdue duty to correct inequities in county salary structure. Instead of dealing in straightforward terms of justice with a careful job of analysis showing need for change in 51 categories, touching 151 people, it elected to pick and choose a few. Employees nearest the supervisors are thus nearest the trough.

The sting of what must be construed (somewhat unfairly) as favoritism hits the whole county employee structure. Gratuities for "longevity" and "uniform allowance" are poor substitutes for fairness. This was soon followed by flagrant rule-breaking.

And by historic irony the offender, with supervisorial encouragement, was the one man in the county who should stand for keeping to rules — our sheriff.

Sheriff Mountanos was a rule-breaker when he tore up the personnel system as it applies to his office.

Of course the personnel setup is out of date. As far back as last mid-spring Administrator Bruce sent in a revamp plan on which the board has yet to act. Instead it busied itself in trying to destroy the office of administrator. This brought a public rebuke evidently still not understood.

I HAVE SEEN history made on a stage larger than Marin County, but it's amazing how closely the lessons apply. From 1924 to 1949 I watched China progress from warlordism (just the kind of individual wilfullness demonstrated with charm by our sheriff) to the Fascism of Chiang, then to the Communism of Mao and Chao. This was at least progress toward national system, however bad.

Government by whim, either that of an individual or a group, can't but lead down dangerous paths strewn with sharp rocks.

Are we being honest with our own federal government about Muir Beach Overlook? I say not. We are cutting corners on a moral and legal obligation.

Uncle Sam let us have this at a bargain price on clear condition that we move promptly and steadily to make the overlook safe, and open it to the people. We must report on progress early next fiscal year.

BUT WE SHALL do nothing this fiscal year (and how we can catch up I can't figure) because of two notions:

1—An old wharf out to be replanked to keep splinters out of fishermen's rears.

2—Probably we can kid the feds along a while longer.

One notion is silly, the other dishonorable. Perhaps we can get away with such hanky-panky because up to now Marin has had a good reputation in Washington and elsewhere, and nobody is suspicious of us. Yet, for how long?

Myself, I feel sad and a little sick and I'm running away for a while to a little inn on an island.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Let's Look At Communist Claims About Free World And The Facts

WASHINGTON—The Kremlin's upside-down misuse of language is so flagrant that we need to examine it periodically lest repetition make it look like truth.

This may be conventional Communist propaganda, but it is dangerous for the Soviet leaders to believe and to base serious policy on such a massive mis-statement.

Consider a few samples.

SOVIET CLAIM—"State-monopoly capitalism (that's supposed to be us and you can see how the Communists attribute to others the character of their own system) instead of shoring up the capitalist system, undermines it."

WESTERN FACT—Does it? Or is the opposite the truth? After the devastation of World War II, the capitalist system of the United States went to the rescue of the entirety of Western Europe and in an heroic common enterprise of self-help and American aid the economies of all the nations of Western Europe were restored to a level of strength and prosperity higher than before the war.

WESTERN FACT—Not only have the U. S. and all Western Europe achieved heights of productivity and living standards beyond anything attained before, but the two countries which suffered colossal war devastation — West Germany and Japan — have achieved high levels of prosperity. They have done this, not by abandoning the private, competitive enterprise system, but by relying upon the free market and free enterprise. And now Britain is setting out to join the European Common Market and to help create a free trading area comparable to the 50 states of the U. S. A. If this decadent capitalism is on its last legs, it is a very healthy sickness.

WESTERN FACT — After the defeat of Germany and Japan, capitalist United States radically dismantled its armed forces. Communist Russia did not. Not until the Red Army takeover of all of Eastern Europe and the attack on South Korea did the U. S. begin to rearm.

SOVIET CLAIM — "Modern capitalism has made the market problem extremely acute."

WESTERN FACT — One need only look at the homes, the conveniences of living, the congested traffic, and the stores of America to see that capitalism is distributing the fruits of labor to those who share in their creation as never before. More Americans—and Europeans — are today employed at higher wages with more take-home pay than ever before in history. Western capitalism is not only producing fantastically, it is distributing the vast flow of consumer goods to its people at lower prices.

WESTERN FACT — The advanced industrial societies of the U. S., Britain, West Germany, France, Italy, and Scandinavia, have achieved a remarkable combination of individual enterprise and social welfare with constantly expanding social security, retirement pensions, and unemployment insurance.

AND WHAT is Moscow's most upside-down distortion of all? The Communists claim that the "capitalist powers hide behind the specious slogans of freedom and democracy?"

When the Communists are shooting down their own people in East Berlin, you wonder if they are trying to fool themselves—or others.

Probably both.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday. Aug. 23, the 235th day of the year with 130 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1785, American Naval hero Oliver Hazard Perry was born.

In 1879, followers of Mary Baker Eddy obtained a charter in Lynn, Mass., giving them permission to organize as "The Church of Christ, Scientist."

In 1927, two Italian workmen who lived in Boston—Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti—were executed after being convicted of shooting, robbing and killing two payroll guards in South Braintree, Mass.

A thought for today: English philosopher and economist John Stuart Mill said: "Success discloses faults and infirmities, which failure conceals."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden) Gate):

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Different Kind Of Fable For Players Of Bridge

In the old fables, the spendthrift always comes to a bad end to the accompaniment of hoarse chuckles from the frugal type. We write a different kind of fable for bridge players.

South	West	North	East
1 ♡	Pass	1 NT	Pass
4 ♡	All Pass

Opening lead — ♠ 5

East wins the first trick with the king of spades, and South has the chance to show whether he's an ant or a grasshopper. If he's a frugal ant, he hangs on to the queen of spades and plays the eight of spades on the first trick.

Back comes the queen of clubs, and South wins with the ace. Now South must lose a trump and two clubs even if he cries his eyes out.

GRASSHOPPERS: That shrill snicker you hear is from the grasshoppers. They all managed to throw away the queen of spades at the first trick.

East returned the queen of clubs against them, too but they took the ace of clubs, cashed the two hearts and then led the carefully preserved eight of spades. When West played low, our grasshopper friends finessed with dummy's ten.

This finesse won, and the ace of spades supplied a welcome discard. Score game and ruler for the spendthrifts.

What would happen if East had the jack of spades as well as the king? In that case the spendthrifts would go down two instead of one. The cost would be only 100 points. The difference between making game and going down is 920 points. In other words, South is getting 9-1 odds on an even-money finesse.

♠ A 10 7
♦ Q 10 8 7 4 2
♣ 7 4 3

What do you say?

Answer: Bid four diamonds. You may shut the enemy out, and at the worst you will deprive them of vulnerable bidding room.

700 Convicts On Fire Line

About 700 inmates of San Quentin Prison and its camps were on fire lines in northern California today.

Seventy-five of the convict-firefighters left the prison proper at 1:45 a.m. today by chartered buses for Redding. The detail was led by sergeants Ben F. Young and T. J. Lemke and other correctional officers. The remaining inmates left from the prison's work camps throughout northern counties, reported Associate Warden Walter D. Achuff.

He said this morning's detail was dispersed from Redding by the State Division of Forestry to fight lightning caused fires in Six Rivers and Trinity national forests.

Marin United Fund Sets Meeting Aug. 31

The board of directors of the Marin United Fund will meet on Aug. 31 at 8 p.m. at the Jewish Community Center, 1618 Mission Street, San Rafael.

Directors of the Marin Council of Community Services will present and interpret the functions of their organization in Marin. Appointments to the 1961 nominating committee will be confirmed by the board.

Two Psychiatrists To Exam Accused

Two psychiatrists were named Monday by Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of Marin Superior Court to examine Leland Rose, 53, Larkspur apartment house owner found guilty last Wednesday of molesting a 6-year-old girl.

Judge Sims named Dr. Samuel T. D. Anderson of San Rafael and Dr. Theo Miller, superintendent of Napa State Hospital, to perform the examinations, and continued the case until Sept. 11 for their report.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

European Common Market Threatens U.S. Exports

NEW YORK (AP)—An all-European Common Market "will in the end be disadvantageous to the United States exports." That is the view of the United States Citizens Committee on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, headed by former Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and former Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton.

Some U.S. manufactured products without doubt will see their European markets dwindle or disappear, and competition here at home increased. But in the long run, U.S. world trade in general should benefit. That is the opinion of William F. Butler, vice president and economist of Chase Manhattan Bank of New York.

President John F. Kennedy stresses his gratification that the United Kingdom wants to join the European trading bloc, but adds: "The enlargement of the European community will necessarily result in some changes in the pattern or trade."

Britain's move to join the current six-nation Common Market will accentuate the increasing urge of U.S. firms to invest overseas in new plant and equipment. This is the prediction of Department of Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges. He thinks total U.S. investment overseas will reach four and one-half billion dollars this year, a gain of 20 per cent over 1960, and Europe should get about 1.5 billion dollars of the total.

Here's how businessmen size up the threats and the opportunities, both short-term and long-term:

Sale of U.S. farm products seem likely to be hurt. The Continental European practice of protecting their own farmers is stubborn. The British seem sure to insist on helping Commonwealth exports. France has commitments to its former African colonies.

Increasing European industrial activity will call for more raw materials, semifinished goods and machinery. Europe itself can't supply all it will need and Americans have a chance, if they can keep prices competitive.

The range of opinion on the long-term outlook is wide.

A growing and steadily more vocal group of American companies complains of the inroads of European goods in American markets—usually with a price advantage rather than just one of style, novelty or snob appeal. They think the bigger European bloc now forming will mean greater efficiency, lower prices, cut-throat competition here and in world markets.

But there's a hard core of dissenters among bankers and especially manufacturers with foreign operations that can be expanded — who think the promised European economic growth will mean more money over there to buy the goods and services we can offer.

750,000 May Attend California State Fair

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California State Fair and Exposition opens next week with housewives displaying knitting and farmers exhibiting livestock just like they did when the fair began in 1854.

Officials predict 750,000 persons are expected to tour the fairgrounds in Sacramento between the Aug. 30 opening day and the time the exhibition closes on Sept. 10.

That wouldn't be a record. A total of 928,000 saw the fair in 1959. But attendance is expected to surpass last year's 705,000.

The favorite attractions at this year's fair will be the ones that were popular in the old days—horse racing, agricultural and homemaking exhibits, horse shows and rodeos.

There'll be two rodeos. For the first six days, riders from 18 schools will compete in the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Championships. During the last six days, professionals will ride in competition sponsored by the Rodeo Cowboys Association.

A new attraction will be the appearance of 102 Mexican folk dancers, singers and musicians, members of the Conjunto Folklorico Del Instituo Mexicano Del Seguro Social.

Other events at the exposition include:

Those in charge of the horse racing are hopeful the pari-mutuel handle will exceed last year's $5,245,302.

There will be 12 races every day except Sunday starting at 12:30 p.m.

This is the 52nd year the big exposition has been held at the present grounds.

The first fair was in San Francisco, in a hall at the corner of Bush and Montgomery Streets. There were plenty of vegetables, flowers and fruits on exhibition.

The next year, the exposition moved to Sacramento. Then it went to San Jose and Stockton. In 1860, it was held in Marysville and then returned to Sacramento for keeps.

Final Utilities Assessments For Hub, Fairfax

Public utility assessments of $1,657,490 for San Anselmo and $641,140 for Fairfax became final yesterday, the State Board of Equalization announced.

The board said the figures were accepted when it confirmed the assessed values adopted for county tax purposes and approved separate utility rolls for cities still doing their own assessing of nonutility properties and collecting their own property taxes.

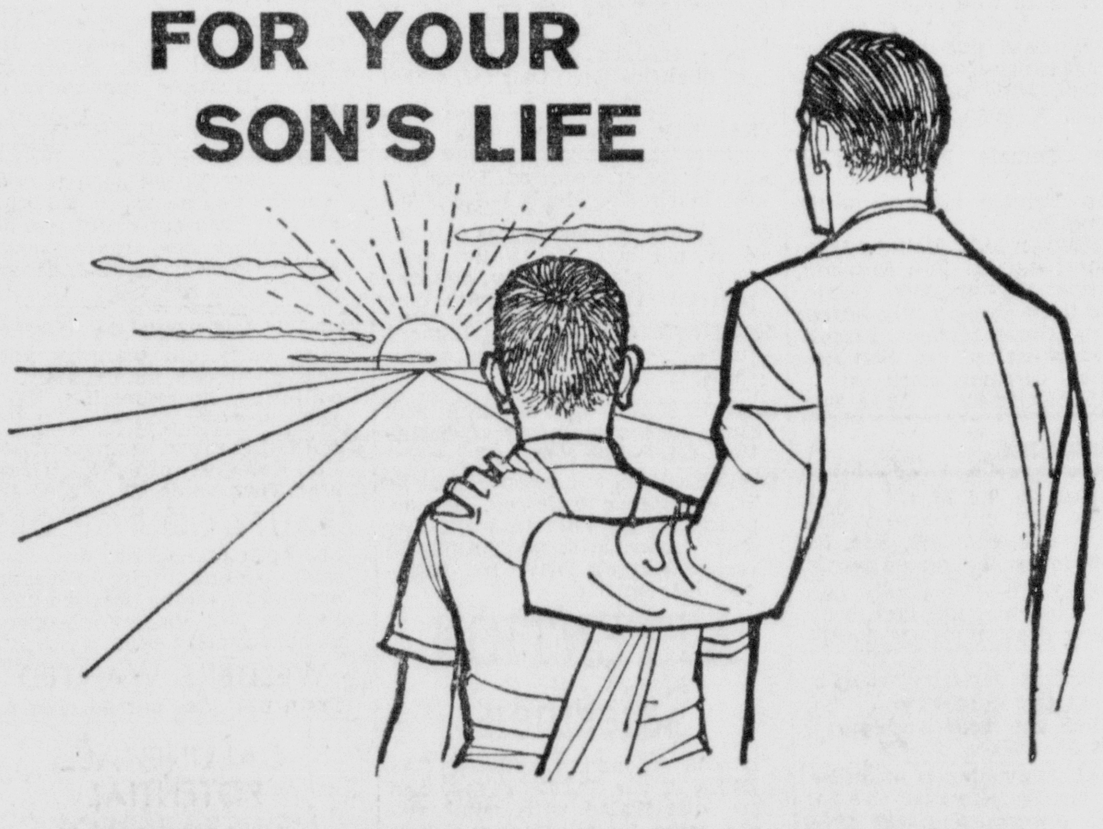
The valuations as equalized with county assessments were $1,090,450 for San Anselmo and $442,160 for Fairfax, the board said.

Pleads Guilty

Frederick Falch Jr., 38, of 39 Glen Court, Sausalito, pleaded guilty to drunken driving in Sausalito Aug. 18 and was sentenced Monday by Judge Harold J. Haley in Marin Municipal Court to a fine of $184 plus six months probation.

He Learns While He Earns

BLUEPRINT FOR YOUR SON'S LIFE



Good habits formed early in life are the foundation stones of sound character development. Parents cannot hand their son such ready-made habits on a silver platter. But fortunately, there is a way to accomplish this same objective: Provide the boy with an opportunity which will enable him to develop the habits himself. The best opportunity exists in newspaperboy training.

A boy with his own newspaper business develops initiative, tact, thrift, punctuality, and friendliness. He learns the tremendous inner satisfaction which can come from serving mankind in a worthwhile endeaver. It's no surprise that parents consider newspaperboy training as a fine blueprint for their sons' successful future.

NOTICE TO PAY ASSESSMENTS ASSESSMENT DISTRICT NO. 30

Notice is hereby given that all owners of real property liable to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses of the acquisitions and improvements described in Resolution of Intention No. 870, adopted by the City Council of the City of Larkspur on May 3, 1961, are hereby notified that on August 3, 1961, the assessment and diagram to pay the costs and expenses of said acquisitions and improvements was recorded in my office.

Said assessments are due and payable immediately at my office, City Hall, Larkspur, California, and must be paid within the period expiring September 5, 1961.

In the event of the failure to pay before the expiration of said period, serial bonds to represent the unpaid assessments and bearing interest at the rate of not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum, will be issued pursuant to the Improvement Act of 1911, and the last installment of such bonds shall mature nine (9) years from the second day of January next succeeding the next September 1st following their date. Said bonds shall be made payable to bearer and provide a premium of five per cent (5%) of the unpaid principal thereof on call.

Library To Show Films For Children

Two films, "Madeline" and "Hen Hop," will be shown Aug. 30 at 1 p.m. at the Mill Valley Public Library in a program which will also include story telling and which will conclude the library's summer reading program for children.

Due to the popularity of the weekly storytelling hour, it will be continued each Monday at 1 p.m. until school opens and following that on Saturdays at 11 a.m., children's librarian Margo Farnsworth said.

'Freedom Highway' Film

Burdell District Approves Budget

Trustees of the Burdell School District have approved a $12,536 budget for the fiscal year with the same 84-cent tax rate as last year.

The budget includes $4,200 for tuition for students attending the Lincoln School and Petaluma Junior High School, some $6,000 balance from the last fiscal year, with most of the remainder of the income to stand as a balance at the end of this fiscal year.

Five students attended the one-room Lincoln School as the Burdell School was burned down by young arsonists in 1958. The district is supported by ranch families in North Marin.

Rapid Transit Dispute On TV

The controversy over the role of the Golden Gate Bridge in the proposed Bay Area rapid transit system will be aired tomorrow night on television station KQED.

Channel 9's "Profile: Bay Area" show, at 9:30 p.m., will turn its attention to two opposing engineering views as to the feasibility of running rapid transit trains across the bridge.

Appearing on the program will be Redwood City newspaper publisher Raymond Spangler and two Bay Area Rapid Transit District executives, general manager John Peirce and chief engineer Kenneth Hoover.

San Francisco attorney Caspar Weinberger moderates the program.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Building Is Really Booming In Tiburon's Downtown Area

Taking on a new look is downtown Tiburon—and there is more to be seen in that respect than Ernie Van Asperen's Dock restaurant almost completed.

Across the street, John Musso's French Pastry Shop has been torn down and new structural timbers are already up in replacement.

Farther along in construction is the two-story building being erected by George and Fred Mantegani, owners of the Corner Market. It's located practically next door at 1680 Tiburon Boulevard, will have 5,000 square feet of floor space, a redwood rustic exterior and should be completed sometime in October. Felix Warburg of San Rafael designed it.

The structure which still has no name will have stores downstairs and offices on the second floor. We hear that it's already half committed to tenancy. On the list are Don Geddes Realty, Stage Door Cleaners, probably a laundromat and barbershop, and upstairs—Louis Britt Associates, construction engineers.

SPAN Publishing Co. in the Keystone Building, Mill Valley, has changed its name to Oman Publishing Co. but there's no change in ownership. Donald E. Oman, president of the firm, founded it in 1955 as Span which was just unclose enough to his name to be confusing. Oman publishes two business magazines: Pacific Work Boat and Western Meat Industry.

HELEN OF TROY, beauty salon that recently opened at 1502 Grant Avenue, Novato, has installed the latest type of hair dryers, we understand. They don't require nets or much heat.

"No palpitations or burning ears," says Mrs. Edward Sanders who operates the place with her husband. "And they still take only the usual or less drying time."

Fixtures also include reclining chairs, and the Sanders serve coffee and cookies to patrons. All the comforts of a home permanent.

THE 1962 VERSION of the Austin-Healey 3000 has been given more power, says Eugene Sweeney of San Rafael, but body lines are practically the same. The new model is called Mark II and has upped its horsepower to 136 at 4,750 rpm and maximum speed to 120 mph by using three instead of two carburetors.

It's available with or without overdrive, as a two-seater or four-seater and sold with a choice of wire or disc wheels.

VOLKSWAGEN FOR 1962, though now being turned out at the rate of 4,000 a day, won't go on sale in the U. S. until fall, according to Laurie Felton, Marin County dealer. Standard equipment adds will include gasoline gauge, better windshield wipers and steering column lock.

HAROLD M. ENGLE, structural engineer at 1539 B Fourth Street, San Rafael, is as proud as a father can be. His son, Harold Jr., is now associated with him. Recently graduated from University of Southern California with honors, he's already worked in the office during vacation periods when he completed most of the drawings for the Redwood High School additions.

MULTIPLE listing sales in Marin last month were above July, 1960—not substantially but enough to maintain a good level—about three and one-half million dollars total.

Tam School District Gets Ready To Open

Pre-school meetings for Tamalpais District personnel begin tomorrow and continue until the first regular day of school on Sept. 6.

A general session for all staff members will be held in the morning of Aug. 30 in the gymnasium at Redwood High School in Larkspur.

First faculty meetings will be held in the afternoon of Aug. 30 and the morning of Aug. 31. New teachers will hold their first metings in their schools on Aug. 29.

First classes will be held on Sept. 5 for students new to the district. All students will report to all three schools, Redwood, Tamalpais and Sir Francis Drake high schools, on Sept. 6.

Marines To Begin Active Duty Tour

Three Marines from the 14th Rifle Co., Marine Corps Reserve in San Rafael will begin six months active duty at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego Friday.

They will undergo "boot" training for 12 to 14 weeks and then complete the six months at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside.

The three men are Privates David L. Jensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Jensen of San Quentin; Randy R. Keading, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Keading of 728 Bradley Avenue, Novato, and William G. Schendel Jr. of 87 Valley Road, San Anselmo. Pvt. Jensen will be in charge of the detail.

Pear and Pineapple Chiffon Salad
(Makes about 8 servings)

- 2½ cups (5-8) pear halves
- 2½ cups (#2 can) crushed pineapple
- 1 package orange gelatin
- Red food coloring
- 1 cup chopped celery
- ½ cup chopped walnuts
- ⅓ cup mayonnaise
- ½ cup ice water
- ½ cup Carnation Instant Nonfat Dry Milk Crystals
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice

Drain fruit. Reserve 1 cup syrups. Heat syrups to boiling point. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Chill until slightly thickened. Brush pears lightly with food coloring to tint. Arrange in 1½ quart mold. Add celery, walnuts, mayonnaise and pineapple to gelatine mixture. Blend well. Pour ice water into mixing bowl. Add Carnation "Magic Crystals" and whip until soft peaks form (about 3 to 4 minutes). Add lemon juice and whip very stiff (about 3 minutes). Fold into fruit mixture. Spoon into mold. Chill until firm (about 3 hours). Unmold. Garnish with crisp salad greens.
